"JACOB4 BAILEY (Ephraim,3 John,2 John1) was born October 21, 1720 in Haddam, Connecticut--the second son in a family of ten sons and one daughter. The emigrant ancestor was John Bailey or Bayley, as the name was then spelled. This first member of the Bailey family in America came from England in 1648 and lived in Hartford, Connecticut, where he was made a Freeman in 1657. While in Hartford he held one or two offices including that of constable. This great-grandfather of Jacob Bailey was among the first settlers of Haddam.

"About one month after Charles II signed the Charter of Connecticut in April, 1662, a committee of the Connecticut Colonial Legislature bought a large tract of land from the Wangunt Indians for a trifling sum (about $100.00). The town of Haddam is today a part of that tract. The same summer John Bailey was one of twenty-eight young men, of Hartford and near by towns, who took up the purchase and started a plantation on the lower Connecticut River. This region was called "Thirty Mile Island Plantation." It was opposite a small island in the river, which was about thirty miles from Long Island Sound. Six years later that location became the town of Haddam, named after Great Haddam, England. John Bailey established himself on land at Higganum in the northern part of Haddam where he died in 1696. This founder of the Bailey family in America is of special interest since the Crook and Bailey families intermarried."

John came to America from England in 1638 on the ship Bevis. He was one of the 28 original proprietors of Haddam, CT.

In his Will he speaks of his father having left a sum of money for his grandson, John Bailey Jr., to buy a Bible.

John Bailey was a viewer of chimneys and ladders at Hartford in 1648, a constable in March 1656-57, was made freeman in May, 1657, and moved to Haddam, about 1662, as one of the 28 original purchasers. His will was dated June 17, 1696, and the inventory, amounting to 186 pounds, was taken Aug. 29, 1696. He gave to sons John, Benjamin, and Nathaniel his land at Higganum; mentioned daughters Lydia, Susanna, and Mary. He lived at Higganum, in the northern part of Haddam. His wife was probably Lydia, daughter of Thomas Smith of Haddam.

From Crook; An American Family, 1698-1955 compiled by Charles Henry Leavitt, 1956.

JACOB BAILEY (Ephraim, John, 2 John 1) was born October 21, 1720 in Haddam, Connecticut—the second son in a family of ten sons and one daughter. The emigrant ancestor was John Bailey or Bayley, as the name was then spelled. This first member of the Bailey family in America came from England in 1648 and lived in Hartford, Connecticut, where he was made a Freeman in 1657. "While in Hartford he held one or two offices including that of constable. This great-grandfather of Jacob Bailey was among the first settlers of Haddam.

About one month after Charles II signed the Charter of Connecticut in April, 1662, a committee of the Connecticut Colonial Legislature bought a large tract of land from the Wangunt Indians for a trifling sum (about $100.00). The town of Haddam is today a part of that tract. The same summer John Bailey was one of twenty-eight young men, of Hartford and near by towns, who took up the purchase and started a plantation on the lower Connecticut River. This region was called "Thirty Mile Island Plantation." It was opposite a small island in the river, which was about thirty miles from Long Island Sound. Six years later that location became the town of Haddam, named after Great Haddam, England. John Bailey established himself on land at Higganum in the northern part of Haddam where he died in 1696. This founder of the Bailey family in America is of special interest since the Crook and Bailey families intermarried.

Jacob Bailey, like his father Ephraim, was a farmer in Haddam. He and one of his sons (name not given) were employed in the Continental Service in 1775 and on account of this service they were exempt from certain taxes in Haddam. At least five of Jacob's sons and one son-in-law served as soldiers in the Revolutionary War. His name does not appear in the United States Census of 1790, but an Elizabeth Bailey, residing in Haddam, is listed as head of a family. However this was probably another Elizabeth Bailey. According to the distribution of the estate of their son, Gurdon, both of his parents had passed on before December 28, 1784.

Elizabeth CROOK^{1 11} [3569], daughter of Thomas CROOK (-) [3570] and Hope CARTWRIGHT (1699-) [9106], was born on 30 Apr 1721 in Nantucket.¹ She died bef 1784.¹

From Crook; An American Family, 1698-1955 compiled by Charles Henry Leavitt, 1956.

ELIZABETH2 CROOK (Thomas1) was born April 30, 1721 in Nantucket, Massachusetts, where she lived until she went with her parents to Haddam, Connecticut. She was the oldest of their children. In that early day a daughter's history consisted largely in birth and marriage, so one reads of Elizabeth's marriage to Jacob Bailey August 6, 1746. It was the second marriage in the Crook family. Jacob was the son of Ephraim and Deborah (Brainerd) Bailey. The Crook and Bailey families were near neighbors in Higganum and later two of Elizabeth's younger sisters also married Bailey men.

Elizabeth CROOK and Jacob BAILEY had the following children:

- +56 Jacob BAILEY , Jr. (1747-1779) [9027]
- +57 Deborah BAILEY (1749-1785) [9028]

He was a brother of her sister Elizabeth's husband and a cousin of her sister Lydia's husband. From Pioneer and Patriot Families of Bradford County, Pennsylvania 1800-1825 by Clement F. Heverly.

Oliver Bailey, the ancestor of the Baileys of Western Bradford, was the hero of two wars. A son of Ephraim Bailey, he was a native of Haddam, Middlesex county, Conn. And there married Hannah Scoville. He was a private in the Revolutionary war in the company of Captain Higgins, Col. Wm. Douglas, 5th battalion Wadsworth's brigade, raised June, 1776, to reinforce Washington's army at New York, he was in the battle of Long Island and also White Plains. Some years after the war, he removed to Berkshire, Mass., and in 1803 came with his wife to Granville township, Bradford county, where some of the family had already settled. Here he continued to reside until the time of his death, October 4, 1822, aged 84 years. In noting his demise. The Settler, published at Towanda. says; "Mr. Bailey was a soldier of two wars. He served through the whole of the old French war and was one of the first who asserted our independence in 1775. He served through the whole of that arduous struggle for liberty and was in many of the most important battles. He was one of the most respected and first settlers of Franklin (then including part of Granville), having resided in that place 19 years He had 12 children, all of whom lived to have families and to an advanced age."

From Tri-Counties Newspaper Clipping Scrapbook - BAILEY - At the time of his death in 1822, the Towanda newspaper The Settler wrote of Oliver Bailey.

"Mr Bailey was a soldier of two wars. He served through the whole of the old French War and was one of the first who asserted our independence in 1775. The Bailey family lived in Haddam, CT from its beginnings in 1662. Some years after his marriage in 1761, Oliver Bailey moved his family to Great Barrington, Berkshire County, Massachusetts. By 1803 Oliver and Hannah (Scoville) had moved to Bradford County, Pennsylvania. Four of his children stayed in Massachusetts: Oliver, Jr., Phebe, Hannah, and Mary (called Polly).

From Crook; An American Family, 1698-1955 compiled by Charles Henry Leavitt, 1956.

13. i. JACOB BAILEY JR. (Elizabeth Crook, Thomas) was born May 8, 1747 in Haddam, Connecticut. He spent his youth in his native town and married about 1773. The name of his wife is unknown, but it is known that there was one son, Jacob III, born March 19, 1775. This son married Temperance Bates May 7, 1800. Jacob III died June 14, 1813 in Haddam.

Jacob Bailey Jr. married his second wife, Sarah _____, February 13, 1776. Four months later in June, 1776 with his brothers Thomas and Timothy and several cousins, he became a soldier in the War for Independence. They enlisted as privates in Captain Cornelius Higgin's Eighth Company from Haddam, Fifth Connecticut Militia Battalion—Colonel James Wadsworth's Brigade. It was this Fifth Connecticut Battalion that reinforced General George Washington's army at New York and was at the right of the line of works during the Battle of White Plains. Jacob was discharged December 25, 1776 when the term of service expired for the Haddam Company.

Jacob Bailey re-enlisted for three years as a private, April 12, 1777 in Captain Charles Pond's Company—also known as Captain Eleazer Claghorn's Company, Sixth Connecticut Regiment—commanded by Colonel Return Jonathan Meigs. He re-entered the army in time to be in the expedition under Colonel Meigs in the attack upon a British foraging party at Sag Harbor, at the east end of Long Island. Colonel Meigs and his detachment of 170 men embarked in a number of whaleboats from Guilford (at that time a small town five miles east of New Haven) in the evening of May 23, 1777. They crossed the Sound and attacked the British troop at Sag Harbor about two o'clock the following morning. The Loyalists were completely surprised and all the members of the party were taken prisoners, without the loss of a single American. Forage, brigs, sloops and large quantities of supplies were destroyed. In going to Sag Harbor and returning to Guilford, a distance of nearly one hundred miles was covered in less than eighteen hours and this brilliant exploit became a reality. Such a surprise was known by the British as an "alert." The members of Congress were so grateful they voted Colonel Meigs their thanks for the achievement and presented him with a silver hilted sword.

The Sixth Regiment went into winter quarters for 1777 and 1778 at West Point, where the soldiers assisted in the construction of permanent fortifications on the Hudson River. Jacob Bailey was promoted to Corporal June 17, 1778. That summer Colonel Meigs' regiment was encamped with the main army under General Washington at White Plains. The Connecticut Division received orders October 22 to leave White Plains for New Melford, Connecticut, where they went into camp at a place called "Camp Second Hill". On November 19 they were again on the march to their winter quarters at Camp Redding in the town of Danbury, Connecticut, where most of them were to remain during the winter of 1778 and 1779. Their camp was in a sheltered valley framed by the Saugautuck River and its tributaries and protected by tree-covered hills.

About December, General Israel Putnam took command of Camp Redding. From time to time during the winter small detachments were sent out from Redding to watch the enemy and relieve soldiers in out-posts kept up on Long Island Sound. No doubt Corporal Jacob Bailey was often in charge of such units. He was taken prisoner January 10, 1779. The roll on which his capture is recorded is dated February 2, of that year. Later he was exchanged and returned to his company, but this last date has not been found. In May the Connecticut Division left Camp Redding, their destination being the Highlands across the river from West Point on the east side of the Hudson River.

General Washington decided that summer that it was necessary to recapture Fort Stony Point, a post on the west bank of the Hudson River, which the British had captured and held since early in the spring. This fort commanded King's Ferry river crossing between the New England colonies and the strategic Middle Atlantic country. It was strongly fortified and at high tide entirely surrounded by water. General Washington organized a corps of 1300 light Infantry troops under Brigadier-General Anthony Wayne. They were picked men from all the regiments under Washington's command. Each regiment contributed companies of from 40 to 60 men and all were organized into regiments. The Connecticut Division furnished one of the regiments, numbering 400 officers and men, commanded by Colonel Return Jonathan Meigs of Middletown, Connecticut. Corporal Jacob Bailey was among those selected for this difficult task. His part in the storming and taking of Fort Stony Point July 16, 1779 was his final service to his country.

Extensive and far reaching military preparations were made for weeks in advance of the attack, for it was known to be almost an impregnable fortress. All dogs within a radius of three miles of the fort were destroyed so that no riotous bark might give an alarm to the garrison. Not a gun was to be loaded and the men were warned that if by chance a musket was fired, an outcry or other signals made, betraying the approaching columns, the offender would be immediately shot by the nearest officer. The onset was to be made with bayonets alone, and as the soldiers said, "For once to be put to more warring use than roasting meat before a camp fire

At eight o'clock in the evening of July 15, 1779, a hot summer day, General Wayne halted his troops a mile and a half from the fort and gave orders for the assault which was to be made a little after midnight. The Connecticut regiment formed part of General Wayne's right column. A Negro, who had learned the countersign, went with the advance and through him the enemy pickets were deceived, caught and silenced.* Everything was done in silence. With empty muskets and bayonets fixed the two divisions crossed the stony causeway at low tide, attacked from opposite sides, swarmed upon the outposts before the garrison could open fire from their batteries. As they gained positions a watchword had been given to each detachment to shout: "The fort is ours." The struggle was short and over in a few minutes when the garrison surrendered. The Americans lost 15 killed, among them Corporal Bailey and four other Corporals, the British 63 killed and 553 taken prisoners.

This commendable exploit had an inspiring effect upon the morale of the American army. General Charles Lee (a troublemaker in the army and far from being a friend of General Washington) called this, "Not only the most brilliant assault in the whole war on either side, but the most brilliant in history." General Wayne, who was wounded in the battle, wrote to General Washington, "Our officers and men behaved like men determined to be free."

Corporal Jacob Bailey was killed in the early morning of July 16, and three days later, on July 19, 1779 his son was born in Haddam, Connecticut. This boy was named Return Jonathan Meigs after his father's regimental commander, under whom his father had served more than two years. Meigs was the name by which the son was known throughout his life.

March 22, 1804 Meigs married Hannah _____. Six years later they were still living in Haddam with their two sons and one daughter. The widowed mother was also a member of their household. She had raised her son and always lived with him. Before 1820 the family had moved to Henrietta, Monroe County, New York, where Sarah Bailey died suddenly July 8, 1836, having outlived her husband 57 years. Meigs Bailey was allowed a pension due his mother on an application executed October 27, 1846. His two sons were Marving and Meigs. In a letter dated Henrietta, New York, October 27, 1844 Meigs wrote that he recalled an incident in Haddam, Connecticut, when he was a small boy. Colonel Meigs called at his mother's home and gave him a crown—telling him if he would call at the Colonel's house in Middletown he would give him a hat. At that time he signed his name Jonathan R. M. Bailey.

15. iii. THOMAS BAILEY (Elizabeth Crook, Thomas) was born February 15, 1750 in Haddam, Connecticut. He married, May 19, 1779, Ama (Amy) Kelley, who was born in 1748. She was undoubtedly the daughter of John and Margery () Kelley, who lived in Haddam. The ceremony was performed by the reverend Eleazer May, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Haddam, recorded in the following unique words: "Then I married Thomas Bailey and Ama Kelley together." This form invariably appears in the original entries of the marriages by the Reverend Mr. May.

Thomas Bailey was a soldier in the Revolutionary War in the same military organization with his brothers Jacob and Timothy. He enlisted in June, 1776 in Captain Cornelius Higgins' Haddam Company, Fifth Connecticut Battalion, Colonel James Wadsworth Brigade. This battalion served in New York City, Brooklyn Front, in the Battle of Long Island and White Plains. His enlistment expired Christmas Day, 1776, No record has been found of more enlistments, and it is presumed he was in poor health and that he died soon after the close of the war.

Thomas and Amy lived in the Higganum District of Haddam, where he died in December, 1785 and was buried in the Old Higganum Cemetery. According to the United States census of 1790, Amy Bailey was living in Haddam with one son under 16 years of age. This son, Thomas Bailey, Jr., died, April 9, 1802 age 22, and was buried beside his father in the village cemetery. On May 28, 1802 Amy Bailey stated she was unable to administer the estate of her son Thomas, and requested that Robert Smith be appointed administrator. The estate was approved May 31, 1802, and was administrated by Robert Smith December 27, 1802. Less than ten months after the death of her only child, Amy (Kelley) Bailey died February 3, 1803 and was buried in the family plot in the Old Higganum Cemetery, Haddam, Connecticut."

16. iv. TIMOTHY BAILEY (Elizabeth Crook.1 Thomas1) was born in 1733 in Haddam, Connecticut. All his life he was a farmer. He was a soldier from Haddam in 1775 and was exempt from the payment of certain taxes because of service in the Continental Army. While in the Army he had no family to be supported from 1775 to 1781 and was listed among soldiers serving in the Continental Line who received town bounties.

In June, 1776, he and his brothers, Jacob and Thomas, enlisted at the same time as privates in Captain Cornelius Higgin's Eighth Haddam Company, Fifth Connecticut Battalion, Colonel James Wadsworth's Brigade. They were also discharged the same day, December 25, 1776.

Timothy Bailey re-enlisted February 24, 1777 for three years as a private in a company designated at various times as Captain Charles Pond's, Captain Eleazer Claghorn's and Captain Samuel A. Barker's Company, Sixth Connecticut Regiment, commanded by Colonel Return Jonathan Meigs. Timothy's brother Jacob was a corporal, and his younger brother Gordon a private in this company. The three brothers with several of their Bailey cousins spent the winter of 1778 and 1779 at Camp Redding in the town of Danbury, Connecticut.

Timothy was the only one of the three Bailey brothers who endured the hardships of the winter at Camp Redding, and lived to see the site become a State Memorial Park. In the park the State of Connecticut erected an impressive granite monument of imposing dimensions to perpetuate the memory of the men who were stationed there and endured the bitter winter of 1778 and 1779. The scantily clothed and poorly fed soldiers were camped here in order to be in a strategic position to march to the defense of West Point or the towns and outposts of Long Island Sound. Blockhouses and log cabins have been reproduced, while of special interest is a long double line of stones extending from the monument. These stones were the fireplaces in the crude huts of the soldiers.

The army records do not state positively, but it appears that he and Gordon were in the battle at the taking of Fort Stony Point where their brother, Corporal Jacob Bailey, was killed July 16, 1779.

Private Timothy Bailey was in the battle of Elizabethtown on June 6, 1780, when Lord Sterling with 5000 troops crossed from Staten Island to Elizabethtown Point, and advanced before daylight towards Elizabethtown but found the American militia on watch. A sentry fired into the advancing column, only dimly distinguishable, and the Commanding General, Lord Sterling, received the ball, which proved fatal. The battle raged furiously until the next morning, when the British retreated slowly, in order that it should not be represented as a flight from the Americans. In a letter Timothy wrote to the War Department, he told of being in the battle of Elizabethtown and that his army service was principally in New Jersey.

He received his discharge from this enlistment December 24, 1780.

He married about the close of the war, Anna —————, who was born in 1765. By 1810 they evidently had a family of six children and soon after that date, when Timothy was nearing sixty, they moved from Haddam to Leyden in northern New York. He applied for a Government pension at Leyden, April 22, 1818, in which he stated he was in ill health and his family consisted only of his wife and himself. The claim was granted at $8.00 from April 22, 1818."

60. Abijah BAILEY¹¹ [9031], son of Jacob BAILEY [3568] and Elizabeth CROOK [3569], was born c. 1755 in Haddam.¹¹ He married Hannah CROOK [9099] in 1785.¹¹

From Crook; An American Family, 1698-1955 compiled by Charles Henry Leavitt, 1956..

"17. v. ABIJAH (MIJAH) BAILEY (Elizabeth Crook, Thomas) was born about 1755 in Haddam, Connecticut. He served in the War for Independence, enlisting as a private May 11, 1775. His was the First Company, Second Regiment, Connecticut Line, commanded by General Joseph Spencer of East Haddam, Connecticut. The regiment was raised during April and May, 1775, when the State Legislature first called for troops. The men came mainly from Middlesex County and the eastern part of the Colony.

The men of this early regiment of Connecticut troops marched by companies to camps around Boston and served during the siege of Boston. Several detachments of officers and men were engaged at the Battle of Bunker Hill and in General Benedict Arnold's Quebec Expedition.

General Richard Montgomery was authorized to make the attempt to reach Quebec by the way of Lake Champlain - at the same time General Washington organized an expedition to proceed up the Kennebec River through the Maine Woods to Quebec. General Benedict Arnold was placed in command of the thirteen companies of volunteers for this effort. The Connecticut quota was one full company of one hundred strong, commanded by Captain Oliver Hanchett of Shuffield, Connecticut. It is presumed Private Abijah Bailey was in this company.

The army of 1300 officers and men under the command of General Arnold started from Cambridge, Massachusetts, September 11, 1775. Sloops and Schooners took them from Newburyport to the mouth of the Kennebec River. More than 200 badly constructed boats were awaiting them in which they ascended the river, poling, rowing and dragging the boats around waterfalls and over rocks and rapids. The enterprise proved to be a difficult and dangerous undertaking.

Towards the end of October, when it was cold and snowing, three companies of musketmen, appalled at the hazards they were undergoing, abandoned the expedition and returned to Cambridge. At that time officers and men each had to carry packs. Some were not able to do so, and some were sick so that guards had to accompany them on the return. Lieutenant Colonel Joseph Spencer, in command of Arnold's rear division, returned with his party at the same time. Abijah Bailey was probably among the returning Connecticut troops in that he was discharged, December 3, 1775. Had he gone to Canada he hardly could have been discharged at that early date. There seem to be no further records of his army service. The hardships suffered in the Quebec campaign may have rendered him unfit for further military service.

Abijah Bailey married his cousin Hannah, daughter of Shubel and Hannah (____) Crook, in November, 1785. She was the young widow of _____ Cone. They were married in Haddam by the Reverend Eleazer May of the First Congregational Church, who baptized Hannah in March, 1760.

Like most Americans of the period, Abijah was a farmer and his "Mark for creatures" (domestic animals) was recorded by the Haddam Town Clerk, March 1, 1800. He was living in Haddam in May, 1806 but probably moved soon after that date, or about the same time as his brother Timothy and cousin Joseph Crook, to Leydon, New York. Abijah or Mijah Bailey's eight children are listed with their mother, Hannah (Crook) Cone Bailey, No. 25."

From the History of Bradford County, Pennsylvania with Biographical Sketches By H. C. Bradsby, 1891, CHAPTER XXXIII. Granville Township.

DURING the winter of 1798-99 Jeremiah Taylor, with his family, left his native Berkshire, Mass., home, and with a Connecticut title to a piece of land in what is Bradford county came and first stopped in what is now West Burlington, where he stayed one season, and in a way worked a piece of land, afterward Amasa Greeno's. While here, he put in his odd time in clearing and preparing his future farm home, In March, 1800, he moved to his place with a yoke of oxen and a sled, a distance of about four miles to Towanda creek, now Leroy township. Their only neighbor was Lewis Moffit, who came the same year and settled about a mile west, up the main stream on the Harrison Ross farm. The next arrival, in 1801, was Scovil Bailey, who was down the stream some fifty rods, on the Lane D. Taylor farm. He was a carpenter and a noted hunter. Then came David Bailey and his father and mother, who settled east on the Robert Bailey farm. Then came Ezra Bailey, who settled between Scovil Bailey and David Bailey, on the Elam A. Bailey farm. Then came .Thomas Bailey, who settled north of them on the John Vrooman farm; then Uriah Baxter, on the Benjamin Baldwin farm.

The first white child born in the settlement was Sylvester Taylor, third son of Jeremiah Taylor, the latter of whom died September 17, 1827. Sylvester lived to be an old man on the old farm at Granville Centre. The first death was that of Mrs. Lewis Moffit, who was buried on the old Crofut farm on Towanda creek. The first wedding was that of Hugh Holcomb (the first settler in Leroy township) with Prudence Bailey, daughter of Oliver Bailey. One of Holcomb's sons was Hon. Judson Holcomb, of Towanda.

The first school was taught in the summer of 1807 by Miss Delight Spalding. The patrons of this school were Jeremiah Taylor, Benjamin Saxton, Scovil Bailey, Ezra Bailey, David Bailey, Thomas Bailey, Uriah Baxter and Oliver Nelson. The last and Benjamin Saxton came that year. There were fifteen pupils in the school, embracing a territory of about three miles square. Lewis Moffit left, and Benjamin Saxton settled on his place. The latter, who was the first blacksmith, soon built his shop and went to work. Nelson settled on the John Vrooman farm. This was the total for Granville for some years-all were old New England acquaintances.

From 1807 there were but few additions to the settlement, but about this time a change was made in the road from Sugar creek to Towanda creek; commencing from near the present road from West Burlington to Granville and Le Roy, which crossed, Sugar creek at Goddard's sawmill (the gristmill was added several years after); the road then ran further up the hill south and further north on the side of the hill, and intersected the present road near George Shattuck's, then continued near the same to Bailey's, and then crossed the North branch and ran south near the present road until it intersected the Taylor road, " about a mile from Towanda creek.

The first religious wave struck Granville in 1805, when Jeremiah Taylor and wife joined the Baptist Church on Towanda creek. Under Elder Thomas Smiley a church was built on this creek. It was this Elder Smiley that was visited at night, and tarred and feathered by the Connecticut land claimants. They took him away from his house and greatly maltreated him. Of this circumstance a contemporary account says: "The men came from the north country" (this probably means Athens or Tioga Point) 11 rode fast horses and had fierce countenances.)

About 1810 the Methodists had preaching appointments in this section, and did organize a society in the settlement, and had two revival meetings, and showed some activity until 1856, when it all ceased. The next year, 1811, a road was opened from Towanda creek (now West Franklin) to Irad Wilson's, near Alba borough-elevenmiles. On this road the settlers began to build and remove from the first houses along the stream. During this year new comers arrived, among others, Philip Packard, Abraham Parkhurst and Charles Butterfield; Packard settled the farm afterward Joseph Pratt's, Parkhurst at Bailey's old place, and Scovil Bailey where David Bailey had settled.

During the years 1812-15 a draft was ordered in the State, and Ezra Bailey was drafted from his township; he went to headquarters, but was soon allowed to return home again discharged.

In the winter of 1814-15 an epidemic prevailed in the settlement, and Abraham Parkhurst and his two sons, Luther and Asa, died. Mr. Parkhurst had believed in his ability to hold converse with departed friends, which was the earliest case of spiritualism in the county, no doubt.

In 1816 there was the severe frost, in August, that in all parts of the county destroyed corn, and a famine among the people was threatened. A small supply was had by going to Lycoming creek then called Egypt. The first frame barn was built in Granville In 1815, by Jeremiah Taylor; the first frame dwelling, in 1819, by Jeremiah Taylor, Jr. and the next year the latter built a small gristmill, which could grind only a little corn. In this some time afterward a turning-lathe was erected, and a chair-wheel factory was carried on for some time by Nathaniel Phelps. Afterward Jeremiah Taylor, Jr. built a saw and grist mill which did a good business until the early "sixties."

4a. Stephen Walkley, husband of Hannah Lawrence. Family Tree. The first emigrant ancestor in America -was Richard Walkley (Wakelee). The present Walkley says he was born in England. The Commemorative Biographical Record of Middlesex Co. 1903 says he came from Scotland to Saybrook, Conn. in 1635 with Lord Say, Lord Seal and Lord Brooke.

II. His son, Richard, settled in Haddam, Conn. in 1652 and in 1677 married Agnes ———.

III. His son, Richard, born about 1705, married Abigail Spencer.

IV. His son, Richard, born about 1738, married Deborah Bailey.

V. His son, Stephen, born 1778, married Hannah Lawrence. In the same Biographical Record, a Miss Walkley and two sisters lived at home on Walkley Hill.

As early as 1730 a James Walkley served in the militia. In 1719, the estate of Richard Walkley was taxed fifty pounds at Haddam, Conn. Stephen died on the farm after living there for over 60 years, on April 26, 1869, age 91 years. He is buried in the East Main Road cemetery. His record and Hannah's are on one tombstone. An 1812 marker and a U.S. flag are on his grave. Stephen made a will, February 24, 1854 and later, a codicil. He willed his property to children, Richard, Harry, Harriet and Eunice. In his lifetime, he had provided for the remainder of his children. In the settlement of this estate, one hundred acres was purchased by Eunice and one hundred acres went to Richard. Later, an agreement was made that Eunice deed her part to Richard and accept a life lease in order that the farm might remain intact. In the 1860 census, William Walkley and Eunice Walkley were living at home. John Durhtie, age 30, was a farm hand.

Hannah LAWRENCE¹⁵ [9059], daughter of Rosman LAWRENCE (-) [9065] and Hannah DUNCAN (-) [9066], was born on 12 Oct 1785 in Middletown.^{15 32} She died on 13 Jun 1863.¹⁵ She was buried in East Main Road (Buell) Cemetery.³³

4. Hannah Lawrence, daughter of Rosman and Hannah Dunham Lawrence, was born, October 12, 1785 and baptized at Christ Church, Middletown, Conn., December 25, 1785. Sponsors were her parents and the wife of G. Spooner. Hannah Lawrence married at Middletown, September 10, 1806, Stephen Walkley of Haddam, Conn. These records are found in a bible owned by Frank Walkley of LeRoy, N. Y. and described by him as follows; "The Family Bible was published in 1817 at Brattleborough, Vermont for J. Holbrook (9th edition stereotype copy) but no other publisher's name is given. The first page is inscribed "The property of Stephen Walkley, October 25, 1818". From More Century Farms of New York State, Stephen Walkley, Conn., having married Hannah Lawrence in 1806, came in the year of 1807, to western New York looking for land. Tradition says he walked or hitched rides on that long trip from Connecticut. He purchased 200 acres of land from the Phelps and Gorham Purchase for $600 from Asher Bates, the first postmaster at LeRoy. (Mr. Frank Walkley has the original deed to this farm.) That summer (1807) Walkley cleared a couple acres and sowed wheat and erected a log house. Then he returned to Connecticut. In the spring of 1808, he came again, bringing his wife and her brother, Silas Lawrence. From the family record, their first son, Asahel, was born July 12th, so he was born after their arrival at their new home in LeRoy. The farmhouse on the Walkley farm is believed to have been built in 1812. At present, it contains many beautiful possessions collected by four generations of Walkleys that have lived in it. All four generations have celebrated their golden weddings. There are many fascinating stories to be told about the early days on Yankee Road. Limitations of space permit only one story about a brave resourceful woman, Hannah Lawrence Walkley. In the spring of 1814, Stephen Walkley was serving in the American forces at Fort Niagara. The burning of Buffalo on the last days of 1813 by the British and Indians had thrown all of western New York into a panic. Most of her neighbors had fled to the east side of the Genesee River but Hannah Walkley stayed on the farm with her three young children, caring for the family and the farm. There were oxen and hogs in addition to crops. While she was alone in this eerie wilderness, there Indians came to her door. They asked for a meal. She made a quick decision. "If you will pitch hay for the stock. I'll make a dinner for you", she told them. Her guests were willing. While they worked, she went to the cellar where she had chickens stored for some special occasions, brought up a couple and made a fine chicken dinner. The Indians were perfectly friendly and left after the meal deeply grateful. One happy day, as she was working with the oxen, one raised his head, listened and mooed. He had heard and seen his master returning from Army duty.

In the house is a yarn winding swift, still in use since the settlement days. Andirons, that came from Haddam, are still in the fireplace. Heavy drapes woven 1838, hang at the wide living room door. (Virginia Teetley and Henry S. Manley.) Hannah Lawrence lived in this house until her death, June 13, 1863, age 88 years. She is buried in the Walkley plot, cemetery east of LeRoy, N. Y.

"Roswell Bailey, a native of Vermont, came into the county about 1802 and located in Tioga township. About 1810 he removed to what is now known as the Dartt settlement, in Charleston township, and there became a pioneer settler. Here he engaged in farming and lumbering until his death. The tombstone over his grave in the Dartt settlement cemetery bears the following inscription: Rozel Bailey, Killed by the upsetting of his wagon, Oct. 24, 1840.

At the time of his death he was engaged in hauling heavy castings for his sawmill. The team ran away, while going down hill, upsetting the wagon and crushing him under its load. His sister, Betsey, came into the county with him and in 1812 became the wife of John Lawrence. On February 11, 1891, being then a resident of Mansfield, she celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of her birth, and lived nearly a year longer."

"Roswell Bailey was born in Vermont, December 25, 1782, came to Tioga county, Pennsylvania, about the year 1802 and located in Tioga township. From the Tioga Eagle.

November 4, 1840 - "It is with feelings of deep regret that we announce the death of Mr. Rozel Bailey, one of the earliest and most respectable inhabitants in this county. As he was returning homewards on the 23d ult. with a two-horse team loaded with heavy iron castings for a saw mill, the horses, in the neighborhood of "Daggett's Hollow" ran off, Mr. Bailey, it seems, was sitting up on the wagon when it broke to pieces, and no doubt was dragged a considerable distance before the horses became disengaged from the fragments of the wreck. The body was taken up a short time after, but the vital spark had fled to Him who gave it.

The remains, on the Monday following, were followed to the grave by a large concourse of citizens who seemed deeply affected by the melancholy catastrophe, which has taken from our society a worthy member and much beloved neighbor."

From the Encyclopedia of Biography by John W. Jordan, 1914.

Rozel, son of Robert and Asenath (Lawrence) Bailey, was born December 25, 1782, in New England, and about 1802, moved by the adventurous spirit inherited from his immigrant ancestor, he migrated to Tioga county, Pennsylvania, where he cleared and cultivated a farm in the wilderness, making a home for himself and his descendants. He married, about 1805, Lucinda Clark, of Massachusetts, and their children were: Clark., Robert, Roswell Wilson, Mary Ann, Benjamin, Justus. Mrs. Bailey died December , 3, 1822, and thereafter Mr. Bailey married Julia Rockwell. The children of this second marriage were: John W., mentioned below; Rockwell, George,; Julia, Ellen, Caroline. Rozel Bailey, the father, died in 1840, as the result of an accident, but before his death he had the joy of welcoming his father and Ins brothers and sisters to Pennsylvania, which became thenceforth the abode of this very numerous, able and honorable family. For many years prior to his death, Roze! Bailey had lived at Dartt, a settlement in the southern part of Tioga county, which he had been instrumental in founding.

From the Tioga County Agitator, December, 1869, reprinted in the Wellsboro Agitator, October 27, 1969.

"Mrs. Hannah Willard, widow of late Oliver Willard, died at the residence of her son, Alpheus Willard, Esq., in Charleston, Dec. 23d inst., in the 86th year of her age. Mrs. Willard and her husband came to this country 61 years ago, and settled on the farm where she died. At this time this whole county was a howling wilderness. The site of Wellsboro was a forest and Charleston and Delmar has scarcely a dozen families. There were no gristmills nearer than Williamsport on one hand and Painted Post on the other. For some years the early inhabitants suffered what we should call great privations. Jonnycake, and front, and venison, made up the principal bill of fare, but it nourished a hardy race. The primeval forests have melted away before them. Mrs. Willard was one of the last if not the last, of the first class of settlers in this county."

Oliver and Hannah were living with Alpheus and his wife in 1860. She was misidentified in the census as Nancy.

Oliver WILLARD^{1 48} [3536], son of Joseph WILLARD (-) [3537] and Rhoda PROUTY (-) [3538], was born on 8 Nov 1784 in Langdon, NH.¹ He died on 11 Feb 1863 in Charleston Twp.¹ He was buried in Old Charleston Cemetery, Charleston, PA.⁵⁰

From the Tioga County Agitator.

April 30, 1862 - "A Puritan Relic, Mr. Oliver Willard of Charleston, now in his 80th year, has an ivory snuff box, which was brought to this country by Joseph Willard a passenger in the May Flower. The box is 3 inches long, 2 inches wide and about half an inch deep, and is locked by two silver clasps, upon which are marked the initials "I.W." It has descended as an heir loom from Joseph Willard (father) to Joseph Willard (son) for 9 generations in this country and has never been out of the Willard family since 1620. How long it was in the family before Joseph Willard landed at Plymouth Rock is not known. It is quite a curiosity, and suggests many reflections. Although made for a snuff box, it certainly could not have been used for that purpose during the residence of the family in Plymouth Colony; and the "blue laws" of a later date made the snuff a contraband abomination."

Oliver WILLARD and Hannah BAILEY had the following children:

From the Oakland County Pioneer Clippings 1873 - 1876.

"Seventy-fifth Anniversary of Mrs. Malinda Bailey:

I have noticed a number of articles that were written by the pioneers of this county. Being a pioneer myself, seventy-five years old today, I will try and give a brief account of my early days; the place of my happy childhood hours and to the present time. I was born in the year 1800, in the town of Argyle, Washington County, New York, on the east side of North River, one mile from old Fort Edward.

Not wishing to take up too much room in the columns of your valuable paper, but in order to make my account interesting I wish to say something about my parentage. My father was of English descent. His grandfather was one of the Pilgrims that landed at Plymouth Rock on the 23rd of December 1620. My mother was of French descent. Her father came from France in the latter part of 1776 or the former part of 1777 and enlisted as a soldier during the contest between the colonies and England and served under General Lafayette. My father was born in New Haven, Connecticut in 1758 and went into the service when but a boy in years and remained during the principal part of the war until he, with some of his fellow soldiers, was taken prisoners. As a soldier of our revolution, he fought gallantly for our liberty; was a prisoner in the prison ship and sugar house in

New York and suffered all the horrors of their dismal and lonesome places, but his sorrows are o'er and he has gone to the reward of his services. His sleep is now the calm sleep of the patriot and the soldier; his country owed him the cheer of gratitude. He was a prisoner for nine long months and was frozen from his feet to his knees. Although he lived to a good old age, as he was 96 years old when he died.

My grandfather on my mother's side was in the service also. My grandmother was left alone with a family of four at the time Burgoyne was marching through the country with his forces of soldiers and Indians, murdering, burning and destroying all before them. Even some of his Indian allies got disgusted with him, or at least a great many of them did and deserted. Then one of their number went to warn the people of approaching danger, as the able-bodied men were mostly in the service.

Fort Edward, as I have before mentioned, was filled with aged men, women and children. So that many, for the want of room, were compelled to remain outside of the fort. When the Indian came to tell them of their danger, a great many went to a large pine and spruce swamp for greater safety and among them, my grandmother with her four children, my mother being the eldest, aged 14 years. I should have stated before that those families took what provisions and things they could conveniently (take) with them and remained there several days. In the meantime, Burgoyne was defeated and surrendered his army. Again they repaired to their respective homes. The Indian that came to notify them of their danger afterwards lived and died in that town, beloved by all who knew him.

After peace was declared, my father married Miss Lucy Carey, my mother, and settled there, where they remained for a number of years, but finally sold out and went to Pennsylvania in an early day and there lived the remainder of his days in the town of Tioga, Tioga County.

As I have been saying things that have been handed down to me, I will now try and say something about myself and family.

I was married to Mr. Robert Bailey in the year 1815, in the 15th year of my age. We settled in Rutland Twp., Tioga County, Pennsylvania, where we lived a number of years. From there we moved to the town of Southport, Chemung County, New York, two miles from Elmira where we resided until the year 1835 when the Michigan emigration excitement broke out and we made up our minds, as our family was mostly sons then as it was almost impossible to get land there for them, to come to Michigan in the hopes that they would settle around us. Accordingly, on the 20th day of May 1835, we started from Southport with teams and went to a place called Horseheads, seven miles above Elmira where General Sullivan lost his pack horse; this place derives its name by the affair. There we went on board of a scow boat to the head of Seneca Lake where we went on board of the steamer, "Seneca", that towed seventeen ca* boats to Geneva where we were again three days on the road from Horseheads to Montezuma, where we went onto the grand canal line boat to Buffalo and then we took passage on the steamer "Daniel Webster". There were about 500 passengers on board. The lake was very calm and he had a splendid time. We arrived in Detroit the 4th of June where we met some old acquaintances and friends and stayed overnight with them and they conveyed us with their teams on the morning of the 5th to Royal Oak, a distance of 12 miles, over the muddiest roads that I ever traveled on before or since to my memory. The wagon would sink to the axletree in the mud in any spot. The men were obliged to pry the wagons out of many of the sinkholes. We were all day coming from Detroit to Royal Oak, where we again met some old friends living where we concluded to stop awhile. As we had not located any land yet, we stopped at this place near as I can remember about two weeks and during that time my husband with some others started out (in the then) almost densely wooded wilderness in search of our future home and made up his mind to locate on the land that I now live on. Accordingly as before, our friends moved us to the neighborhood that I now live in; again we had a bad road from Royal Oak to Pontiac.

I will now say something about Pontiac at that time. As we stopped there to refresh ourselves and teams, it did not look at that time as though it would make the place it is at the present time. There were no public or private buildings then of any consequence. There were two small stores - one kept by Schuyler Hodges and the other by Mr. Chamberlain. There were two taverns - one was kept by Mr. Fuller and the other by the late Solomon Clone; they were old, rackety taverns, by no means hotels. I believe that this is all that I can say about Pontiac, unless I should say something about the mud that was nearly a foot deep and by no means fit for a person to walk across the street or at least many of the present time that live in Pontiac would not like to try it. Again we left Pontiac and came on the turnpike as far north and west as what is now called and known as the Williams' property. There we turned to the right and came up by Silver Lake north of Sashabaw Plains where three or four families were living. Then we came on north in the neighborhood that I now live and stopped and stayed at John Daines overnight and not wishing to be any trouble to others, my husband thought that he would look around and find some temporary home until he could erect one upon our own land. When he happen to run across a man who had the care of a lot of land having the body of a log house built upon it, which he told us we could move into if we could get in it as there was neither door or window in it. Accordingly they cut a place for a door and Mr. Issac Coon lent us some boards for a loose floor and then we moved into it and done our baking principally out-of-doors, as there was no chimney or fireplace in the house. Mr. George Miller now owns the farm where this house used to stand.

We soon commenced to make some improvements on our own land and to fix to build a house which did not get finished until sometime in October when we moved in. The winter following was very mild and we thought we had come to a state that was free from cold weather. As this last winter has been, there is a great contrast between it and the ones of 1935-36. The winter of 1875 has been the coldest I ever experienced, provisions at that time (1835-1836) were very scarce as hardly enough had been raised to supply the settlers. Flour was twelve dollars a barrel and other thing equally as high, although we never suffered any to speak of for the want of necessities of life. There was game of almost every description that ever roamed the Michigan wild woods. There was also plenty of fish in the creeks and lakes for which this part of the county is quite famous and which was a great help to the settlers. My husband, being quite a hand to hunting, he could kill a deer at almost any time that he wished. At that time one could frequently see from fifteen to twenty in droves. They were in good order and so they supplied us with tallow as well as meat. One could go out after dark and hear the howling of the wolves in almost every direction. Their howls made it very hideous. The first winter that we lived in our place, my husband caught seventeen for which he received twelve dollars per head bounty money. Our nearest neighbor north of us was Jacob VanWagoner, who lived eight miles distant.

Our family consists of five sons and two daughters, all settled within the boundary of four miles with the exception of one, who took a notion to travel and see more of the world before he settled down. He went to California fourteen years since where he made a fortune of about thirty thousand dollars, but now resides in Pennsylvania. Our two eldest sons, William and Wilson, settled on each side of us, but we have not escaped affliction and have been called upon to mourn the loss of our two oldest children. Wilson died in 1862, aged 46 years; Mrs. Tubbs died in 1865, aged 51 years. My husband died in 1868, aged 71 years. I still live on the old homestead and am blessed with many comforts of life that many are deprived of with a measure of health and strength for one of my age. I have 34 grandchildren and 29 great-grandchildren; but I feel as though I am living on borrowed time. How much longer?"

Obituary in the Pontiac Bill Poster, March 1, 1876.

"It is our painful duty this week to announce the death of another aged pioneer, which is that of Mrs. Malinda Bailey, who died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Louisa Kingsley, Sunday evening, the 20th inst, in the 70th year of her age. Mrs. B. was born in the year 1800, in the town of Argile, Washington county, N.Y., one mile from old Fort Edward, and was married to Robert Bailey in 1815, and immigrated to the town of Independence in 1835, where in 1868, Robert Bailey died. They lived to see their four sons and two daughters settled around them, enjoying the many comforts of life. Mrs. B. was a member of the Christian church, and died expressing a complete and blessed hope beyond the tomb. Her funeral sermon was preached at the Seymour Lake church by the Rev. Mr. Hedger, in presence of her relatives and friends, who followed her remains to the Sashabaw Cemetery."

From Genealogy of the Brainerd-Brainard Family in America 1549-1908 by Lucy Abigail Brainard, 1908.

614. DEANTHEUM HUBBARD BRAINERD (Sylvester, Oliver, Eliakim, Gideon, James, Daniel) of Haddam, Middlesex Co., Conn.; m., Sept. 30, 1829, Sally Marie Dickinson, b. Mch. 28, 1808, dau. of Darius and Anna (Hubbard) Dickenson of Haddam. He was grand juror three years, board of relief one year, justice of the peace one year, road commissioner three years. He and his wife with friends celebrated their golden wedding Sept. 30, 1879. Eighty relatives and members of the family attended festivities. Four generations were present, including the father of Mrs. Brainerd, Capt. Darius Dickinson, who was 94½ years of age. He was a Freemason, and probably the oldest member of that fraternity in this state. Mr. Brainerd was 75 years old, and his wife 71 years old. For several years she has had failing eyesight, but during the past seven years she has made 30 bed quilts, one of which contains over 9,000 pieces; most of the sewing had to be done with the work so near her face that at times it would seem impossible for her to escape injury. She has done her household work alone through 50 years of domestic life, and reared a large family. He lived in Turkey Hill district, Haddam.

Captain Brainerd was a leading ship builder on the Connecticut River for many years, building no less than 42 vessels and sailing craft for George E. and William H. Goodspeed. He engaged in the business when only 18 years old, and at 21 was entrusted with the management of the shipyard. He was one of the first Connecticut men to have anything to do with steam vessels, and was among the first to make the trip with the old steamboat "Enterprise." Of late years he has given his attention to farming, and controls a large tract of land of 200 acres or more in Haddam, Conn.

Among the guests present was Capt. Chauncey Dickenson, a brother of Mrs. Brainerd, who was married the same day with herself. A notable fact concerning the costumes worn was that Capt. Brainerd had on the same vest which he wore on the day of his marriage. He also wore an old fashioned swallow-tail coat with brass buttons. Mr. Deanthum Hubbard Brainerd d. Feb 5, 1892, ae 85 yrs., 2 mos, 27 ds. Mrs. Sally Marie (Dickenson) Brainerd d. Jan. 12, 1894, ae. 85 yrs., 11 mos, 7 ds.".

" FLASHBACKS; Wednesday, Feb. 26,1992 By: Phyllis Swinsick
A MAN CALLED VET

In the early history of our country the American government purchased land from the Iroquois Indians, including the Northern Tier of Pennsylvania, for about $25,000, most of it in trade goods, and soon settlers made their way into the region of Tioga, many arriving from New England. They were a hardy lot of skilled and adventuresome woodsmen looking for a new frontier. It was a wild and woolly land of dense forests, rugged terrain and many wild animals, dangerous to the new residents and their live-stock but necessary as a means of survival for their hides, meat, horns, sinew and tallow. It was land that the legendary hunter Philip Tome of Pine Creek fame called a "howling wilderness."

One of the most memorable of the incoming pioneers. Noted for his endurance and remarkable hunting skill, was a man named Sylvester Bailey, born in Connecticut in 1797, who came riding into the Tioga valley with his parents when he was eight years old. Despite his youth, he rode all the way on a pony, his rifle in hand, and honed his hunting proficiency during the long and hazardous journey over the Catskills, the Delaware and Armenia mountains to the mouth of Mill Creek where the family settled.

Known by the nickname of Vet, he was a sturdy lad, fearless and self reliant By the time he was 12, he had killed 100 deer, his first panther and had cornered a bear in the family pig pen, winning that combat while his mother held a light. He roamed the mountains barefooted in his search for game, warming his feet occasionally by pulling off his cap and stepping into it. Bailey eventually married Mary Welch, by whom he had seven children and established a home in Rutland. In 1831 he built a grist mill in Chandlerburg in Bailey Hollow, later sold to Moses Crawford. But in addition to his business he continued his hunting expeditions.

One time he set traps near the Present town of Mansfield- The next day he discovered a trap missing and followed the trail to a mammoth white pine hollow log He cut a club six-feet long, entered the log poking at the animal holed up there, a she-wolf. The wolf, cornered and enraged, bit off the club leaving the hunter with a stick only two feet long. according to legend. Bailey backed out, revised his strategy, stopped up the opening with logs and stones and chopped a hole where the wolf crouched. He captured her ladyship alive along with seven little wolves, muzzled and tied up the mother, fastened the pups together, gathered up the whole kit and caboodle and started for home, a distance of eight miles. The mother wolf, frantically struggling, succeeded in seizing Bailey by the scalp, tearing his hair and skin loose from the top of his head. Despite his condition and blinded by blood, he retied the wolf and finally reached home where his wife replaced his scalp with 90 stitches to complete the patch work. He put a handkerchief on his head and the next day continued his usual duties. The mother wolf and two of her pups became completely tame and followed him wherever he went.

Bailey was an expert tracker and wrestled bears, trapped wolves, shot elk and panthers and small game by the hundreds as he roamed the woods He was also a deadeye sharpshooter, and one time he and a long-time friend, Apollis Pitts, and others were returning from a rip-roaring logging bee when the subject of marksmanship came up In a spasm of derring-do, Bailey placed an apple on his friend's head and shattered the object from a distance of six rods. A friend indeed! In 1836, Bailey erected a sawmill on Elk Run and, along with his frequent hunting trips, operated it until his death in 1852

Wayne Bailey, of Covington, is the great-great grandson of Sylvester Bailey and the above story is only a part of a testimonial account by the hunter's family, neighbors and the news, given to Wayne in the 1960s by a Bailey relative, Mildred Bryant of Mansfield. He also has a powder horn, carved with the picture of a deer and the initials S. B. and dated 1818.

There are forty Bailey households listed in the 1992 Tioga County telephone directory and it seems certain, given the number of his progeny and the proliferation of succeeding generations, that many of them are descended from this intrepid pioneer Perhaps they are unaware that such an indomitable and legendary hunter is a branch on the Bailey family tree - this man called Vet."

History of Tioga County, Pa., 1897:

In 1822 or 1823 William Rose erected a distillery at Roseville, which he operated eight or ten years. In 1825 Sylvanus Benson, Hosea Howland and Barrett Clark, each had one-third interest in a saw-mill on Mill Creek, in the eastern part of the township. About 1836 Sylvester Bailey, erected a saw-mill on Elk Run near the Sullivan township line. This he operated until his death about 1852.

Mary Polly WELCH¹ [3509] (also known as POLLY), daughter of Nathaniel WELCH (-) [3510] and Lura DICKINSON (-) [3511], was born in 1797 in VT.^{1 110} She died on 27 Dec 1851 in Sullivan Two., Tioga, PA.¹ She was buried in 1851 in Bailey Family Cemetery, Rutland Township, Tioga County PA.¹¹⁰

Mary Welch was born in Vermont 1797. Polly died 1851 in Sullivan Township, Tioga County, Pennsylvania, at age 54. Her body was interred 1851 in Bailey Family Cemetery, Rutland Township, Tioga County, Pennsylvania. I visited this site Autumn 1993 with Joan NASH O'Dell. The grave sites are full of woodchuck holes, the stones are lying down, broken, partially buried. No doubt, there are other stones here that are not identifiable. This is at the top of the hill in the pasture across the road from the house, actually in Rutland Township within a few feet of the Sullivan township line. She married Sylvester Bailey BEF 1820. I find no households in the 1820 census index labelled Sylvester Bailey.

Vet was born 1801 in Connecticut. Vet was the son of Constant Bailey and Abigail Unknown (Bailey). He married Mercy Newberry 1851. Vet died 1851 in Sullivan Township, Tioga County, Pennsylvania, at age 50. Historical Note: . Mill History in Sullivan Township: "In 1819 John Gray erected a saw mill at Gray's Valley, on Elk Run. He operated until 1832. It had a number of owners. In 1838 Albert Dewey erected a saw-mill in the eastern part of the township, which he and George Dewey operated for a number of years. William Young, another early mill owner, built a mill about 1832 below Mainesburg on Corey Creek, near the Richmond township line. In 1844 Valorus O. Spencer erected a mill above Mainesburg. Other early mill owners and lumbermen were: Stephen Palmer, who ran a mill in the eastern part of the township; Peleg Doud, who erected one on the South fork of Corey creek, on what is now the George Ross farm, and Sylvester Bailey, who erected one in Bailey Hollow. All these mills were run by water power, the flutter wheel being the one generally used. They have passed out of existence, except the mill near the State Road, now operated by Edward Dewey.

Vet was listed as the head of a family on the 1830 Census in Sullivan Township, Tioga County, Pennsylvania. Historical Note: . "In 1831 Sylvester Bailey erected a water-power grist-mill in Bailey Hollow, near Chandlersburg. About 1840 he sold it to Moses Crawford who operated it for a number of years. It shut down about twenty years ago, O. W. Palmer being the owner at the time."

Vet was listed as the head of a family on the 1840 Census in Rutland Township, Tioga County, Pennsylvania. In the Census of 1850, Vet was listed as a head of household in Rutland Township, Tioga County, Pennsylvania. Vet had his will probated 22 DEC 1851 in Rutland Township, Tioga County, Pennsylvania. Adm. Moses Crawford. Later others appointed, Wm. A. Clark, Benjamin. W. Bailey. The Bailey property was on the boundary of Sullivan and Rutland Townships. Rutland was formed from Sullivan in 1829.

According to records of Jeanette Bailey (Rose), Sylvester had two children by mistress, Mercy Newberry, names Butler and Lafayette. Mercy lived with Sylvester's household in 1850 census. She may have been brought to the household as a "hired girl" which was the term used at the time for household employees. Mary died in 1851 and Sylvester in 1852.

Obituary from the Oakland County Post, Friday, June 22, 1894.

"Died, at his residence in this village Thursday, June 7th, 1894 at 10:30 o'clock p.m., Virgil M. Rose, aged 86 years. He retired to his bed about 10 o'clock feeling exceedingly well, in fact, better than he had for some time past. He ate a hearty supper and was cracking jokes with members of the family in the early part of the evening. Mrs. C.J. Gregory, his grand-daughter had to pass by his room later in the evening and was horrified to find him dead. He had only been dead a few moments when found. Justice Stors empaneled a jury which, after viewing the remains rendered a verdict that the deceased came to his death from the effects of old age. The funeral was held at the house Monday, June 11th, conducted by Rev. A. Wood and the remains taken on the 11:45 train to Pontiac and laid to rest beside his wife, who had preceded him by about twenty-five years. Two children are left to mourn his loss, Mrs. Harriett Dows, of Cleveland, Ohio and Mrs. Mariva Hodges of Pine Lake. The following relatives were present from a distance. Mrs. H. Dows, of Cleveland, Mariva A. Hodges of Pine Lake and Wm. Saunders of Howell. Deceased was born in Manchester, Vt., in 1808 where he lived until he was 11 years of age. He then moved with his parents to Roseville, Pa., removed from Roseville to Detroit in 1834, came to Royal Oak in 1835 and purchased a large tract of land from the government and has resided here ever since. There was seven children in his father's family, five boys and two girls, all of whom have passed away. Mr. Rose was one of the oldest pioneers in the county, having lived to see it advance from a howling wilderness in the 30's, infested by Indians and wild animals, to what it is at the present time, one of the best agricultural counties in the state."

From the Royal Oak Tribune, May 18, 1926

"The Pleasant Ridge village commission last night awarded a contract to R.D. Baker Company for the paving of Virgil Rose avenue." There is, unfortunately, no longer a street by that name in Pleasant Ridge.

November 1, 2022 - Our chief researcher, Dave Gustner, received the following message from Jeff Lloyd.

Hi, hope youve been well!... cousin Jeff Lloyd here (Mariva Rose Hodges>Geo. S. Hodges>Muriel Hodges Smith>Muriel Margaret Lloyd> me)... couldnt remember if I had told you before, but a few years back during an estate sale on Clark St in Pontiac in the attic space of a dilapidated barn/garage I serendipitously found a picture of the Rose House hotel in Pontiac, I believe this may be the only copy that may exist, it was rough so I scanned it and repaired it digitally and put it online on Virgil Maxim Roses Findagrave.com memorial, think it also appears on any memorials of the known keepers of that fine establishment as well... As you know the Hodges House and the Rose House were the only two games in town You can see it here: https://images.findagrave.com/photos/2017/10/50070930_1484176260.jpg The memorial is here (follow links as well) <https://www.findagrave.com/memorial/50070930/virgil-maxim-rose>

From The History of Tioga County, Pennsylvania, 1897.

Clark W. Bailey was born in Tioga Township, Tioga county, January 12, 1806 and was the eldest son of Roswell and Lucinda Bailey. He grew up amidst pioneer surroundings, and attended school in the old-fashioned log school house of early days. When twenty-one years of age he purchased a farm near Whitney's Corners, near Charleston township, and later formed a partnership with R.G. White, erected a large steam saw-mill, and engaged in the lumber business on an extensive scale. In 1857 he removed to Mansfield, where he purchased a grist-mill, and the following year built a water-powered saw-mill, both of which he operated until 1866, when he sold out to his sons, Thomas H. and Justus W. He also owned and operated a foundry in Mansfield, and was one of its most prominent business men for many years. He was instrumental in establishing the Mansfield Seminary, was a liberal supporter of all public enterprises, and an earnest member of the Methodist Episcopal church. On May 13, 1827, Mr. Bailey married Vesta Judd, of Binghampton, New York, to which union were born ten children, as follows. Sara L., Roswell G., Julius M., Wesley V., Thomas H., Emily J., Julia A., Justus W., Clarissa V., and Clark B. Mr. Bailey died at the home of his son, Julius M., December 22, 1881. His widow survives until October 2, 1882, dying at the age of seventy-four years.

From the premises of the subscriber about the first of September last, thirty head of SHEEP, of various marks, some hole in one ear, some slit in the ear, some marked with tar, "J.W." and other marks not recollected, having been purchased of sundry persons, and consequently different marks are upon them. If any person or persons, having taken up said sheep, and will return them to the subscriber, all reasonable charges will be allowed. CLARK W. BAILEY. Charleston, Nov. 25th, 1846."

Researcher note: The next sketch concerns the father of Thomas Bailey, Clark Bailey. We know quite a bit about Clark, too, but there is some useful info here. The list of children conforms pretty much to what we have but does list a son, Chester Bailey. I believe this may be an error as I'm unable to confirm this in any other source. It does, however, list two daughters, but not by name, only by who they married - Julian Langdon and William Hollands. After a good deal of searching, I found that the name Julian Langdon is an error, too. It was actually Ormus Langdon and the Clark Bailey daughter who married Ormus was Julia Bailey. It was Clark's daughter Clarissa Bailey who married William Hollands. We do currently show both Julia and Clarissa as daughters of Clark Bailey.

A biographical sketch appearing in the History of Tioga County, 1897.

JOHN W. BAILEY was born in Charleston township, Tioga county, Pennsylvania, November 27, 1824, eldest son of Roswell and Julia A. (Rockwell) Bailey, pioneers of this county. His boyhood days were spent on his father's farm and his primary education was obtained in the common schools of the district. But sixteen years, old when his father died, he succeeded him in charge of the old homestead. In later years he purchased about 600 acres of land and engaged in cattle-dealing, probably buying and shipping more stock than any other man in the northern tier during that period. In 1870 he removed to Wellsboro, where he soon became one of the prominent and enterprising citizens. He dealt extensively in agricultural implements and lumber for twenty years, and always gave the most liberal credits to his patrons. Mr. Bailey was a member of the firm that established the tannery at Stokesdale, and was an active agent in the building of the Corning, Cowanesque and Antrim, and the Pine Creek railroads, being a director of the latter company. He was also a director in the United States Glass Company, and one of the organizers of the First National Bank of Wellsboro, in which institution he was an honored and trusted director until his death. Always ready and willing to take a leading part in every public enterprise which he believed would promote the interest of Wellsboro, and ever on the alert to encourage any project that might add to the general welfare of his native county, Mr. Bailey won the admiration, respect and confidence of the whole people. He was eminently adapted to command the co-operation and support of his fellowmen, as he always went into whatever he undertook with earnestness, enthusiasm and confidence, thus inspiring others with his own sentiments. Possessing unbounded public spirit, whole-souled generosity and broad charity, he never turned a deaf ear to the cry of suffering or distress. A warm, consistent friend of the working classes, he was honored and trusted by them to the close of his life. While accumulating a large estate, he gave liberally to religion, charity and education, and was one of the most generous citizens of Wellsboro throughout his long and active business career. Mr. Bailey wielded a wide influence in the local councils of the Democratic party, and was a stalwart in his fealty to its principles and candidates. He was chairman of the county committee a number of years, represented the county in several state conventions, and was a delegate to the national convention at Chicago in 1892. He served in the borough council several terms, and also filled the offices of burgess and school director, always taking a deep interest in the growth of the public school system.

On Christmas Day, 1843. Mr. Bailey married Margaret L. Lewis, a daughter of Thomas Lewis, of Charleston township. She was born October 17, 1827, and died November 19, 1883, after a happy companionship of nearly forty years. They became the parents of twelve children, ten of whom grew to an adult age as follows., Eva A., wife of Dr. M. L. Bacon, of Wellsboro, Edward, deceased; Llewellyn L., of Wellsboro; Ada B., deceased wife, of Louis Doumaux; Morton S., a resident of Colorado; Lloyd J., of California; Leon O., who lives in Indiana; Lee M., deceased; Fred W, a resident of Denver, and Mildred L. On November 28. 1889, Mr. Bailey married Mrs. Julia McClelland, a daughter of Michael Dunkle, of Jersey Shore, who yet survives. He died July 12, 1892, soon after his return from the Democratic National Convention, and was buried with Masonic honors, as he was a member of Ossea Lodge, No, 317, F, & A. M. The whole community sincerely mourned the death of one whose place could not be easily filled- -a man whose warm, friendly greeting and substantial assistance brought sunshine into many a weary and discouraged heart. On the day of his funeral the stores and shops in Wellsboro were closed and a large delegation of workingmen marched in the funeral procession as a mark of respect to his memory.

From Encyclopedia of Biography by John W. Jordan, 1914.

"John W., son of Rozel and Julia. (Rockwell) Bailey, was born November 27, 1824, on his father's farm, in Charleston township, Tioga county, Pennsylvania, and for many years engaged in agricultural pursuits. At the division of his father's estate he recompensed the other heirs for their interest in the land, of which he thus became sole owner. This ancestral possession he preserved intact to the close of his life, and it is now the property of his descendants, About 1870 Mr. Bailey moved to Wellsboro, becoming one of the leading business men of that place, He was a director of the Pine Creek Railway Company, the United Glass Company, the Stokesdale Tannery, and a number of other enterprises in most of which he was the leading spirit. In 1864, when the First National Bank of Wellsboro was organized, he became one of its directors and served in that capacity to the close of his life. He was one of the largest landowners in the county, and was greatly beloved for his liberality in business enterprises and for his practical charities. In politics he was an ardent Democrat, never seeking office, but always giving his best efforts for the success of the party. The year of his death he was a delegate to the National Convention in Chicago which gave Grover Cleveland a third nomination for President of the United States. It is strong evidence of the respect and confidence with which Mr. Bailey was regarded in his home town that in a community always thoroughly opposed to him in politics he was repeatedly elected councilman and burgess, He was a man of fine appearance, with a countenance strongly expressive of those sterling traits of character by which he was distinguished.

Mr. Bailey married, in 1843, Margaret Lewis, a native of Glamorganshire, Wales, daughter of Thomas and Martha (James) Lewis, and their children were: Eva, Edward, Llewellyn, Lloyd, Ada and Ida (twins), Morton S., Associate justice of the Supreme Court of Colorado; Leon Orlando, mentioned below; Edith; Lee; Frederick W., ex-Senator, and prominently engaged in banking and insurance in Denver, Colorado; Mildred, wife of a well known publisher of Leipsic, Germany. John W. Bailey died July 12, 1892, deeply and sincerely mourned by all classes of the community. He was one of whom it could be truly said that in every relation of life he always sustained the character of a true man."

Nov. 20, 1883 - "Last evening, Mrs. Margaret L. Bailey, wife of John W. Bailey, of this borough, died at her home, after an illness of about two weeks, from congestive apoplexy which followed bilious fever. Mrs. Bailey's maiden name was Lewis, and she was born at Munworthshire [should be Monmouthshire], South Wales, in 1837 [should be 1827]. She came with her father, Thomas Lewis, and family to New York city in 1833, where they remained six years. The family then came to Charleston township and located on a farm. On Christmas day, 1843, John W. Bailey and Margaret L. Lewis were married and they settled on the Bailey homestead at Dartt Settlement, in Charleston township. Unto them twelve children have been born, ten of whom are now living. About fifteen years ago the family moved from the farm to this borough where they have since resided. Mrs. Bailey united with the Baptist Church in New York city, where she retained her membership until coming to Wellsboro, where she immediately united with the Methodist Episcopal Church. Mrs. Bailey's life has been an active one and full of toil and self denial for her family. Her Christain ???tude, kindness of heart and sympathetic nature endeared her to all who knew her. The funeral will be held at her late residence at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon."

In the "History of Colorado" a sketch on Margaret's son, Morton S. Bailey, it states that his mother Margaret Lewis Bailey, was born in Merthyr Tydfil, rather than the Monmouthshire of other sources. These are separate boroughs of Wales, Merthyr Tydfil being several boroughs west of Monmouthshire.

"Curiously, the Prospect Cemetery records show that Julia Faulkner is buried there. The Whitney Family information indicated that she is buried in Forest Home Cemetery, Waverly, NY, where she was apparently living at the time of her death. Don't think she is buried both places but I'm unable to find which is correct. Unfortunately neither the Wellsboro Agitator nor the Wellsboro Gazette, which might have cleared things up, is available for the year 1875."

November 16, 1904 - "Mrs. Ellen B. Williams, aged 66, widow of the late Mr. Philip Williams, of Mansfield, died at the home of her niece, Mrs. Carrie Faulkner Carroll, in Lincoln Nebraska, on Saturday afternoon. The cause of her death was probably heart disease, as she had been in her usual health up to the time she died.

Mrs. Williams was a daughter of Rosel and Julia Bailey, deceased, and was born in Charleston, March 4, 1838. She is the last of her family and is survived only by several nephews and nieces, among whom are Mrs. M. L. Bacon and L.L. Bailey, Esq., of this borough. Mrs. Williams had made her home in Mansfield since her marriage and since her husband's death about ten years ago, she had spent much time in traveling, having spent some time in Europe and several winters in California, Florida and the West Indies.

"ROSS & WILLIAMS - Andrew L. Ross was born in Pike, Bradford county, Pa, February 23rd 1827, and came to Mansfield in 1855. Philip Williams was born in troy, Pa, in 1826, and came here in 1837. In 1855 these gentlemen formed a copartnership, and they have ever since been known as our most prominent business men, engaging largely in nearly every branch of business, and wielding a controlling influence in the monetary affairs of the village and surrounding country. On the 24th of May 1872 they commenced banking business, which is still continued. Mr. Ross died August 18th, 1875, and his son C.S. Ross, has succeeded to his father's business. Mr. Williams has been for many years treasurer of the normal school."

"The Banking House of Ross & Williams was established May 24, 1872, by Andrew J. Ross and Philip Williams. Mr. Ross remained the senior partner until his death, August 18, 1875. IN the summer of 1878, having become of age, his oldest son, Charles S. Ross, who had previously been employed as a clerk, entered the partnership as the representative of his father's interest. Mr. Williams died in July, 1894, and Mr. Ross carried on the business until January 1, 1895, as surviving partner, when he became sole proprietor. The use of the old name is continued. This bank is ably and conservatively managed and is regarded as one of the strongest financial institutions in this section of the State."

From the Wellsboro Agitator.

August 1, 1894 - "The people of this place were surprised last Thursday morning to learn of the sudden death of Philip Williams. He went home Wednesday night about 9 o'clock and said he was very tired and would lie down awhile. His wife went to him a little after ten and found him dead. Although in poor health for a few years back his sudden death was entirely unexpected. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services were held in the yard under the trees where in life Mr. Williams was very fond of sitting on warm summer days. His wife survives him, but there are no children to share her loss. The funeral was largely attended, about 40 carriages being in the procession."

His parents, Lebbeus and Hannah (Matthews) Tubbs, were natives of Orange Co., N.Y. After their marriage they settled in Chemung Co., N.Y., where they passed the remaining portion of their lives. He was in impaired health, and he spent one year in that village in comparative idleness to regain health and strength. In the spring of 1871, he purchased a hotel in Holly, Oakland County, which he retained and managed nearly two years. "Death of Mrs. Wilson Bailey. Mrs. Rachel Riker Bailey, widow of Wilson Bailey, deceased, died Wednesday, April 18, of heart failure, aged 76 years, at the home of her son, Winfield Bailey, on the old homestead in northeast Independence. The deceased was the daughter of John Riker and was born in Big Flats, Chemung county, N.Y., Dec. 31, 1817, came to Michigan and Independence in 1837 and settled on Sashabaw Plains. She married Wilson Bailey in 1840. Associated with Fred Myrick, her husband purchased and cleared up what is now known as Mohopac. They built a saw mill, cutting the timber into lumber much of which was used in Pontiac. The C.A. Palmer house was built by Mr. Myrick, who just after its completion, died of small pox in New York City. Mr. Bailey lived at Mohopac only a few years before his last illness.

After her husband's death Mrs. Bailey lived in Pontiac a few years and then returned to the scenes of her pioneer life, the old home with its sacred recollections, to pass the remainder of her days. Here she died respected by her neighbors and beloved by her children.

Mrs. Bailey leaves three sons and one daughter, Wilson, Winfield and Morris. The late Wallace Bailey was her son. One brother, George Riker of Cass City and Mrs. Wormley, the mother of Mrs. George Alexander, survive her.

From the Tyrone Daily Herald (Tyrone, PA)

April 15, 1896. - "Rev. Leander M. Lewis was received from the presbytery of Pittsburg and he has accepted a call from the churches of Sinking Valley and Lower Spruce Creek."

From the History of Arch Spring Presbyterian Church by S. Gilson.

"Two miles up the valley, back from Union Furnace, is the Sinking Valley church, and near by is the charming rural parsonage, recently taken possession of by the new pastor of the church the Rev. L.M. Lewis, for many years settled at Canonsburg. The manse and glebe are unsurpassed in themselves and with the towering mountains all around, by any I ever saw in the Highlands of Scotland. The immediate approach is through a beautiful grove of tall pines, oak and maple, where the birds hold constant concerts and the squirrels chirp and play all day. The stream is full of trout and the mountain full of game. On the occasion of my visit the first day of July the fence corners of the meadows and wheatfields furnished ripe raspberries in abundance, the huckleberries, mulberries, wild gooseberries and Juneberries were in their glory, with the prospect of an inexhaustible supply of blackberries."

79. William H. Walkley, son of Asahel and Eliza - - - Walkley, was born in LeRoy, 1841. This birthdate is from the 1860 census for LeRoy but his tombstone says 1837. He married - - - O'Neil.

William H. Wakeley, or Uncle Bill or Aged Bill, as he was known about LeRoy, was a soldier in the War of the Rebellion, Co. D., 151 Regiment, New York Infantry. William was a character about LeRoy and he loved his bottle. He was well known and not much attention was paid to him or his drinking. A story is told about him going to Rochester, N.Y. and the police picked him up for vagrancy. Uncle Bill said "You can't do this to me. Don't you know who I am?" He reminded them he was a "privileged character". They replied, "You may be a privileged character in LeRoy but you are not in Rochester." Under the date line of Sept. 21, 1910, the Democrat and Chronicle states he was arrested the week before because he went to sleep on a veranda and was sentenced to sixty-one days in the Monroe County Penitentiary but arrived home the night before, having been released, pending an appeal of his case. Bond to the amount of $400.00 was furnished by John Heimlich and P.H. Gallagher. Many people in LeRoy thought his sentence too severe as he was a veteran and harmless. A petition for his release was signed by a large number of LeRoyans. As far as I could learn he stayed thereafter in LeRoy and remained its "Privileged Character". He delighted to tell about his war services and show his war badge and ribbon.

Wm.H. Walkley died November 21, 1923 and is buried in East Main Road cemetery, LeRoy, N.Y. An 1861-1864 marker and flag is on his grave. His company and regiment number on his tombstone.

September 21, 1910 - Walkley Out on Bonds.

William Walkley, a veteran of the Civil War, was taken into custody on Wednesday night by Officer Halstead. A police alarm was sent in from Trigon Park, where it was claimed by residents of that vicinity that he was sleeping on a porch. Justice Macpherson sent him to the Monroe County Penitentiary on Thursday morning for 61 days.

Walkley returned to Le Roy on Monday evening, having been released upon a bond of $400, furnished by John Helmlech and Potter H. Gallagher. An appeal was taken in Walkley's case on grounds of excessive sentence and legal errors, Justice William W. Clark, of Wayland, before whom the case was appealed, allowing Walkley his freedom under bonds. The date for a hearing on the appeal has not yet been fixed. It will come up before Judge Washburn.

Charles B. O'Connell was Mr. Walkley's attorney. A petition containing quite a number of signatures of Le Royans, asking for Walkley's freedom, was presented to Justice Clark.

From the Rochester (NY) Democrat and Chronicle.

February 27, 1903 - "Charles Walkley Crushed by Falling Tree Near Le Roy.

Charles Walkley, a well known resident of Genesee county, met a horrible death yesterday about five miles southeast of Le Roy, and after the accident he survived but about an hour. Mr. Walkley had lived in the vicinity of Le Roy all his life, and had worked as a farm hand on various farms. For the past few days he had been at work on the farm of Dio Hanlon, and yesterday was engaged in cutting wood. In company with another man he started cutting down a large maple tree. When the tree was nearly cut off it showed signs of falling and the men with great haste removed the saw and started to get as far away as possible.

Walkley was the nearest and as the tree fell, it bounded up, striking him on the forehead with such force as to crush in his skull. It was at first thought that he had been instantly killed, but a few moments later it was found his heart was still beating. He never spoke after being struck and probably did not realize what had hurt him. Word was sent to Le Roy for a physician, but before he arrived Walkley was dead.

The unfortunate man was a native of Le Roy and was never married. When he was not working he made his home with his brother, William Walkley, who resides south of Le Roy. His age was 54 years. Coroner F. L. Stone, of Le Roy, was called and viewed the remains. It is probable that an inquest will not be held."

From the LeRoy Gazette.

March 2, 1864 - Frightful Runaway. Another team, with its driver, had a narrow escape from fatal demolition on Tuesday, caused by the unwarrantable sport of snow-balling in the public streets.

Miller Walkley was driving a pair of spirited horses through Main street, when they became frightened at being hit with snow-balls, and giving the mastery of the reins, went through town under full pull, smashing carriages and narrowly escaping pedestrians on the street. Mr. Walkley was thrown out, and severely hurt. Richard Walkley, the owner of the team, manfully came forward and ordered the broken carriages to be repaired at his expense, and then set to work to recover his own damaged team.

How long will the practice of snowballing teams be permitted? Are life and limb, and the destruction of teams of no account, when compared with the sport of throwing snowballs? Will the Trustees give this subject their attention?

From Biographical Record: this volume contains biographical sketches of leading citizens of Oakland County, Michigan, 1903.

"WILLIAM M. HALL, one of the large land owners of Oakland County, resides on a fine farm of 158 acres in section 33, Troy township, and also owns 210 acres in section 32, Troy township and 40 acres in section 22, Royal Oak township. Mr Hall was born in 1839 in in the State of New York and came to Michigan in 1847 with his parents who settled in Macomb County. He is a son of Horace and Abigail (Abbey) Hall, both natives of New York.

Horace Hall is now a highly esteemed, venerable resident of Birmingham, approaching his century milestone, having been born May 9, 1814. Until 1875 he continued actively engaged in farming. For several years he conducted what is known in the locality as the Six Mile House, on Woodward avenue. In his young manhood he belonged to the New York State Militia. The mother was a daughter of James and Martha Abbey, was born April 27, 1810, and died April 6, 1900. Mr. Hall has one sister, Susan Ann, who is the wife of John F. Stephens, of Birmingham.

William M. Hall was educated in the district schools and has been connected with agricultural pursuits ever since boyhood. For some 20 years he was interested in the buying of stock. In 1874 he located in Troy Township, Oakland County, and has occupied his present fine farm in section 33 for the past 19 years.

Mr. Hall was married in 1869 to Rebecca A. Rose, who was born in Brandon township, Oakland County, in 1840, and is a daughter of Joseph Leonard and Charlotte (Bailey) Rose. Two children were born to them: Frank, who died in early childhood, and Lotta Bell, who married Percy Parmenter of Troy township, Oakland County, and has three children, --Margeline, Ida Alvenia and Willebell.

Politically, Mr. Hall is a Democrat and has taken an active part for many years in public affairs in the township. He has most efficiently filled many of the local offices and has been retained for five terms as supervisor of Troy township. During this period many improvements have been inaugurated, many of these being directly traceable to Mr. Hall's excellent judgement. For a number of years he has belonged to the Masonic Fraternity."

From a Birmingham, Oakland County newspaper obituary, Friday July 23, 1909.

"TAKEN SUDDENLY - William M. Hall Stricken With Apoplexy While Doing Chores on His Farm Saturday A.M. - William M., popularly known as "Mark" Hall, answered the final summons while doing the morning chores on his farm two and one-half miles east of this village on Saturday. Mr. Hall was in his usual rugged health when he started for the barn at about 5 o'clock to do his usual morning work. He complained several times to his hired man of having a stiffness in his arm, after milking a cow, and rested awhile. Just as he started to milk another animal he reeled and fell to the ground. Dr. N.T. Shaw was called and pronounced the man dead, giving apoplexy as the cause.

Mr. Hall was born in New York State in 1839, and came to Michigan when he was 8 years old, settling with his parents near what is known as the Six Mile Road later removing to Royal Oak, and almost 35 years ago to his farm in Troy. For many years he traded in live stock and became widely known, but of late he has confined his labors to his magnificent farm. Politically he was a Democrat and up to three years ago enjoyed the distinction of being the only one of his faith to serve the town of Troy in the capacity of Supervisor. In 1890 he lacked less than half a dozen votes of being elected Sheriff of the county. He is survived by a widow, one daughter, Mrs. Percy W. Parmenter of Troy (Charlotte B. Hall) , and an adopted son, John R. Hall of Boise City, Idaho. Funeral Services were conducted at 2 pm Tuesday by Rev. M.H. Bartram of South Lyon asst. by Rev. C.A. Salyer of this village. Interment in Greenwood Cemetery."

As a result of the delay caused in this case, fire department officers ask that persons who telephone fire alarms be very careful about giving the correct address. From the Wellsboro Agitator.

June 11, 1889 - Part of an article on the heavy flood damage in Tioga County. "Mr. Thomas H. Bailey, of Mansfield, lost 300,000 feet of hemlock and 100,000 feet of basswood and hardwood lumber, besides a lot of stovewood. This, together with the loss of his saw-mill, pattern-shop and foundry, is a heavy blow to Mr. Bailey."

June 14, 1893 - From an article on various candidates. "Mr. Thomas H. Bailey, of Mansfield, the other nominee for County Commissioner, was born in Charleston. For many years he occupied a prominent position as an enterprising business man in Mansfield, and until by flood and fire he was stripped of the earnings of an industrious life he was too busy to ask for a county office, although he held the office of Burgess in Mansfield for four consecutive years prior to his election as County Commissioner three years ago."

February 12, 1896 - "Last Friday morning as the team and carriage of County Commissioner Thomas H. Bailey was being driven around the corner of Pearl street and Central avenue the wheels slued into a rut and one wheel was shattered and went down, and the occupants of the carriage - Mr. T.H. Bailey and her sister, Mrs. William Hillier, of Harrisburg, and her daughter, Mrs. J.L. Robinson, and the driver George Brown - were pitched out and considerably bruised. No one was seriously injured except Mrs. Bailey, whose back was strained. She has been laid up since, but she is now reported to be improving. The horses were frightened and ran some distance, but no further damage resulted."

December 9, 1896 - "County Commissioner Thomas H. Bailey paid about $5,000 for the Allen hotel property at Mansfield and it is considered a great bargain. In the deal Mrs Jane W. Allen took a house and a lot in Mansfield as part payment. The hotel is rented until the first of April. While Mr. Bailey bought the property as an investment, he may conclude to occupy the place himself in the spring."

From the History of Tioga County, Pennsylvania, 1897.

Thomas H. Bailey was born in Tioga township, Tioga county, December 1, 1839, and is the fourth son of Clark W. Bailey. He was reared on the homestead farm, obtained a common school education, and after attaining manhood he purchased a grist-mill from his father, which he operated until 1889. In 1866 he and his brother, Justus W., bought their father's saw-mill and a few years later they also bought the foundry at Mansfield. A short time afterwards, Thomas H. purchased his brothers interest in both industries, but the mills were swept away by the flood of June 1889, entailing on Mr. Bailey a heavy loss. He purchased several large tracts of timber lands at different periods, some of which he still retains. Mr Bailey was married September 30, 1868 to Josephine Hillier, a daughter of John Hillier, of Larry's Creek, Lycoming county, and has two children, Sarah V., and Henry W. The family are members of the Methodist Episcopal church, and Mr. Bailey is connected with the F.&A.M. and the I.O.O.F. societies. In politics he has been a life-long Republican and one of the local leaders of his party. He was burgess of Mansfield for several years; a member of the council for nine years, and a member of the school board for six years. For eighteen years he was one of the trustees of the State Normal School at Mansfield, in which institution he has always taken a deep interest. In the autumn of 1896 he was elected a county commissioner, and moved his family to Wellsboro the following spring. He was re-elected in the fall of 1893, and served until the close of 1896. He then purchased the Allen Hotel in Mansfield and took charge of that house in April, 1897, of which he is now proprietor.

From the Wellsboro Agitator.

April 1, 1903 - "Mansfield's New Postmaster.

Ex-County Commissioner Thomas H. Bailey received his commission as Postmaster at Mansfield last Thursday evening and he took possession of the post-office on Friday morning. The contest over Mr. Bailey's appointment has been continued since midwinter and it has engendered bitterness which will be lasting in the community. After his recommendation there was a "hold up" on every turn, and two P.O. Inspectors were sent to Mansfield to investigate the case pending the issuing of the commission. Their report was evidently not such as to stop the regular order and Mr. Bailey is now properly commissioned for four years.

There is a sensational report about an altercation and personal encounter between Mr. Bailey and the retiring Postmaster on Friday morning over the obsession of the case and other furniture. Not having the facts at hand, we are unable to give details of the affair or its final adjustment. Anyway, Postmaster Bailey is in charge of the office and we assume that Mansfielders are getting their mail as usual. It was the most bitter postoffice feud ever known in the county."

October 19, 1904 - "FIRE IN MANSFIELD. Hotel Allen Almost Totally Destroyed on Friday. Fireman Did Good Work in Saving Adjoining Buildings - Partially Insured.

The Hotel Allen, located on the corner of Main and Wellsboro streets in Mansfield was almost totally destroyed by fire early Friday morning. The building, a large three story wooden structure was owned by Postmaster and ex-County Commissioner Thomas H. Bailey, who formerly conducted it and until a few days ago was occupied and run by Mr. E.A. Thomas.

Landlord M.S. French, of the Hotel French, of that borough, recently leased the Allen of Mr. Bailey and expected to occupy it soon. How the fire started is a mystery, as the building was unoccupied, having been closed for several days. There had been no fires or lamps in the building during that time.

Mr. Bailey, who occupies rooms near the hotel, discovered the fire shortly after 3 o'clock a.m. He saw flames leaping from the windows on the third floor and hurriedly sent in an alarm. The fireman quickly responded and did good work, but the fire had gotten under such headway before they arrived that the building and contents could not be saved. The adjoining buildings, the rear wing of the hotel and a part of the first story, were saved. The Welt Smith Shoe Company, located next door to the Hotel Allen, removed all the stock from their building, but fortunately the fire was gotten under control before it spread far enough to have damaged it. Part of the stock, however, was damaged by water.

Only two rooms on the lower floor were badly damaged, but the rear of the building and its contents were a total loss, with the exception of the rear wing, containing the dining room and kitchen.

Mrs. T.H. Bailey, who was ill at the time of the fire, had to be carried out of her rooms in the second story of the Miller & Shepard block next door to the hotel. Miss Carrie Holden lost nearly all her furniture and clothing, which was in the hotel at the time. She had no insurance. A Normal student named Jackson became so excited during the fire that he was prostrated by heart trouble, falling to the sidewalk, unconscious. He was taken to the office of Dr. Wood and a few moments later restored to consciousness.

The loss is estimated at about $8,500 with $3,000 insurance on the building and $1,000 on the contents. It is not known at this time whether or not the hotel will be rebuilt. A short time ago Mr. Bailey dropped $1,000 insurance on the building and contents."

October 12, 1922 - "DEATH OF THOMAS H. BAILEY. Former Well Known Resident of Mansfield and Wellsboro Dies. Thomas H. Mr. Bailey was born in Charleston, but had spent the greater portion of his life in Mansfield where he was engaged in various business enterprises for several years. He was also the owner of a fine farm on what was known as the "Ore Bed" road.

Mr. Bailey held several responsible positions of trust during his residence in Mansfield - Burgess and member of the Council for several years, member of the School Board and one of the trustees of the State Normal School. He was also postmaster at Mansfield for two terms. In the fall of 1890 he was elected County Commissioner, and moved his family to Wellsboro the following spring. He was re-elected in the fall of 1893 and served until the close of 1896. He then purchased the Hotel Allen at Mansfield and returned to that place to reside. During the past few years, Mr. Bailey had been making his home at intervals with his daughter in New York, where he died, and with his son, Dr. Harry W. Bailey, of Wellsboro.

The deceased was a member of the Mansfield Methodist Episcopal church, the F. & A.M., and the I.O.O.F. The funeral was held at the Methodist church in Mansfield on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock; interment at Mansfield."

Sketches from History of Cambria County, Pennsylvania by Henry Wilson Storey, 1907.

"Thomas H. Bailey, son of Clark and Vesta (Judd) Bailey, was born December 1, 1840, in Tioga county, and was reared on a farm. He went into the lumber business at Mansfield, where he remained until 1889, when a disastrous fire destroyed his saw mill and planing mill, also his foundry, and the June flood which followed swept away a large quantity of his lumber. In 1897 he opened a hotel in Mansfield, which he conducted until 1900, when he was appointed postmaster of the place, a position which he still retains. In 1891 he was elected county commissioner, and in 1894 was re-elected. For fifteen years he served as burgess of Mansfield. He is a Republican, and a supporter of the Methodist Episcopal church. Mr. Bailey married Josephine, daughter of John Hillier, of Jersey Shore, and they are the parents of two children: Sarah, born 1872, wife of John L. Robison, of Mechanicsburg; and Harry W., of whom later."

Researcher note: We currently show, based on a Tioga County history, that Thomas was born December 1, 1839. Sketches from History of Cambria County, Pennsylvania by Henry Wilson Storey, 1907, says December 1, 1840. It also contains a small error, stating that his daughter Sarah married John L. Robison. We correctly show John L. Robinson.

From Landmarks of Steuben County.

GEORGE HOLLANDS was born in Sussex county, England, on January 9, 1841. His parents, William and Charlotte Hollands, with a family of six children, came to this country in the year 1850. Soon after their arrival they found their way to Mansfield. Tioga county, Pa.. where they have since resided. Four more children were born to them after their arrival to this country. They are still living and enjoying reasonably good health and are in their eighty-fourth and eighty-first year of age respectively. George Hollands, the subject of this sketch, at the age of eleven years found a home with a respectable farmer, with whom he was to live until he was twenty-one years of age, with the understanding that he was to receive a common school education and when he became of age he was to have a good suit of clothes and $100 in money. Before arriving at the age of maturity, however, the war broke our, and in September, 1861, he left the farm and enlisted in Co. B. 101st Pa. Vols., and served in the army for the period of three years and ten months, during which time he was engaged in many important battles. He was wounded in the battle of Fair Oaks on May 31, 1862. and was taken prisoner at the surrender of Plymouth. N. C.. April 20, 1864 He was an inmate of Andersonville and Florence prisons until the following December, and has never recovered from the exposure and suffering of that terrible summer. He was shipwrecked in the Potomac River while on his way to join his regiment in April, 1865, and was only saved from a watery grave by clinging to the mast of the ship all night, where he was picked up in an exhausted condition by a United States gunboat, the following morning. He was discharged from the service in July, 1865, having risen from a private to the rank of first lieutenant. Soon after the close of the war he embarked in the grocery business at Hornellsville, under the firm name of Hollands & Fletcher, occupying what was then known as the old "Mamouth Store," opposite the Park. On January 2, 1866, he married Lydia Bailey of Mansfield, Pa. Five children were born to them, viz; Minnie, now the wife of Charles A. Smith of Middletown, N. Y.; Eva and Robert, who died of diphtheria in October, 1876; George Hollands Jr., who was born in November, 1875, and who is now at the age of twenty years, carrying on an extensive grocery business in the village of Bath, under the firm name of Geo. Hollands, Jr., & Co.; and Burr R. Hollands, who was born in June, 1878, and is now being educated as a pharmacist. Mr. Hollands is an enterprising citizen a man of sober and industrious habits and a prominent member of the First M. E. church of Hornellsville. He has always been a prominent and active member of the Republican party and has had the honor of representing his ward as village trustee for six years prior to the organization of the city. In 1879 he was elected to the important office of county superintendent of the poor, in which capacity he served for three years. In 1886 he very ably represented the town of Hornellsville on the Board of Supervisors. He was commander of Doty Post, No. 220. G. A. R.. for two years. 1889 and '90. He was one of the incorporators of the Hornell Sanitarium Co. and for several years a director and treasurer of said company. In the fall of 1881 he was elected sheriff of Steuben county, which office he very satisfactorily filled for the term of three years. A few months after his retirement from the office of sheriff he, in company with Mr. O. L. Thompson, purchased the interest of J. W. Bachman of Hornellsville. N. Y., in the drug trade, and at the present time are carrying on a very prosperous business under the firm name of Thompson & Hollands.

ANDERSONVILLE MEMORIES

Hanging of the Raiders - The Bursting Out of Providence Spring

Editor National Tribune: I was much interested in the article written by Comrade John S Howard, Co K 11th VI.. in your issue of Aug 23, in regard to Andersonville Prison I wish to corroborate some of the things he says, but like him. I am somewhat in the dark concerning some things that have been written in reference to that notable place. I was one of the Plymouth Pilgrims who registered at Hotel Andersonville on the 1st day of May 1864, after a week's sojourn on the way from Tarboro, N C. packed in box cars like sardines in a box In regard to the hanging of the six raiders, Comrade Howard is right as regards the man who broke away and ran down the hill and across the swamp in his endeavor to escape I was standing near the edge of the swamp on the north side watching the hanging, and just after the six prisoners were brought in at the south gate and marched up to the gallows, which was erected on the brink of the hill about 20 yards from the entrance, one of the prisoners, a big, stout-looking fellow, after looking at the gallows, and doubtless for the first time being convinced that those in authority meant business, broke away and ran down the hill and across the swamp. I was with difficulty that he got through the swamp, the filth being almost knee deep. I remember clearly seeing him pull off his coat as he was plowing his way across the swamp, and when he reached the south side he found a gang of men ready to arrest his further progress, who marched him back to the gallows, in spite of his entreaties to be let go. In the meantime the other five men had been prepared for the gallows by being bound, and sacks put over their heads As he approached the gallows he evidently became convinced that the trial had been a farce, and that they must all pay the penalty for the awful crimes they had committed. When all was completed the six men were marched up an inclined plank on to the platform, the noose adjusted to each; at a given signal the plank on which they stood was knocked from under them, and five of the six men were launched into eternity. The sixth man, whose position was on the east end of the gallows, was Mosby, the leader of the ring, and he being a larger, heavy man, when the drop came his rope broke and he fell to the ground. He was picked up, the rope again adjusted about his neck and he was again pushed off into space. Thus ended the fearful tragedy which brought peace and safety to the balance of the inmate of the prison for some time to come.

Regarding the washing out of the stockade, I find, upon reference to my diary, that on Tuesday afternoon, Aug 9, we had a fearful rain storm, which washed down portions of the stockade in several places on the west side in the vicinity of where the small stream (now augmented to a raging torrent) came through, I remember well seeing some of the boys wading out into this raging stream to grapple some of the stockade timbers as they were floating down the stream, for the purpose of converting them into firewood, but much to their disappointment, the rebel authorities came in and deprived them of their booty by taking the timber from them and placing it back into its original position in the stockade.

I have read much, and heard it proclaimed many times from the platform, that the so-called Providence spring burst forth into existence at this time, but I never could credit the assertion, for I went down past the spot where they say the spring was, almost every day, and some days several times a day and I never heard of the Providence spring until long after the war was over. I remember the stump that stood between the dead line and stockade about two or three rods up the hill from the creek; also, the swampy nature of the ground about the stump but no flowing spring existed there that I ever saw or heard of prior to Sept 11, when my detachment was taken out, and we started on our way to the new bull pen (as we called it) at Florence, S C, stopping on our way for a couple of weeks' sojourn at Charleston, S C being confined there within the limits of the old race course, until the stockade at Florence was completed and ready for occupancy. We rather enjoyed this change, because we could hear the sound and see the big shells burst round about us and hear them go crashing through the buildings in the city; they were being thrown from Uncle Sam's guns in Charleston Harbor.

I do not wish to be understood that there was no such thing as the so-called Providence spring but it must have broken out after the big storm of Oct. 3. of which Comrade Howard speaks, and not after the big storm of Aug 9 as many would have us believe. If I am not right in which I have said I stand willing to be corrected.

Mr. Bailey's two sons were aroused by smoke in their room in the back part of the house. The fire seemed to have smouldered a long time between the walls before it broke out. The firemen turned on the water but it was a long time before the flames were extinguished it being found awkward work to reach them. The back part of the house was burned down, and the roof was nearly burned off and the plastering was spoiled by the water.

Most of the furniture in the main part of the house was saved, but almost all the clothing of the six children was destroyed.

The funeral was held at Mr. Doumaux's home on East Avenue on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and a large number of sorrowing friends were in attendance. Rev. Mr. Ware read the funeral service. Mrs. Doumaux's death is a crushing blow to her husband, who has been prostrated by his bereavement and is still confined to the house."

During her term the postage rate was decreased to two cents per half ounce and to two cents per ounce in 1885. Louis Doumaux, another veteran of the Civil War, took over the office August 10, 1886, and served until he was succeeded by James L. Whits on February 1, 1891. Mr. Doumax moved the office to the store now occupied by the Lush Brothers store and Mr. White moved it next door above to the building afterwards occupied by the Advocate office. In 1889 revenues of the office had increased to $5,368.08."

From the Wellsboro Agitator.

July 2, 1919 - "Lloyd J. Bailey died last week at Los Angeles, Cal. He had been in poor health for some time. Mr. Bailey was about 65 years of age and was a son of the late John W. Bailey, of Wellsboro. He left Wellsboro about 35 years ago and for several years was employed as a railroad conductor on the Pacific coast. From the 1897 History of Tioga County.

"HON. MORTON S. BAILEY was born in Charleston township, Tioga county, July 2 [should be 3], 1855, a son of John W. Bailey, and was reared on the homestead farm. Removing to Wellsboro with his parents in 1870, he attended the Wellsboro High School and later followed teaching for a short period. He graduated at Lafayette College, Easton, Pennsylvania, in 1880, and soon after went to Colorado, where he began at once the study of law, and was admitted to practice in August, 1882. He soon developed into political prominence and was elected to the State Senate by the Democratic party in a district at that time largely Republican. After serving one session, he was elected in the autumn of 1891, judge of the Eleventh Judicial district and resigned his seat in the Senate to go upon the bench. Judge Bailey was re-elected in 1894, as a candidate of the Democrats and Populists. The Eleventh district had heretofore been Republican, and his election twice in succession was a high tribute to his worth and popularity. Judge Bailey is recognized in his State as a lawyer of solid legal attainments and unquestioned integrity, and he has won a high reputation for the impartiality and fairness of his decisions. In the fall of 1896 he was the Democratic nominee for governor of Colorado, but failed of election."

From the Fairplay Flume, Fairplay, CO.

August 1, 1882 - "Bailey & Wilkin, the new law firm just organized and about to remove to elegant office rooms in the Crook block, is composed of two of the brightest young lawyers in the district. Mr. Wilkin has lately been closely scrutinized through the district as a candidate, and, strange to say, has stood the test without a blemish. His election to the district attorneyship will make no difference to the firm. Morton S. Bailey, who is not as well known to the people here, has been a silent partner in the firm for three months and has inspired general confidence and made many friends in no short a time. Mr. Bailey comes from Pennsylvania, being a graduate of Lafayette college at Easton, Pa. He has been in Colorado about two years and a half, the greater part of that time being spent in the office of Hon. T.M. Patterson and Judge Markham in Denver. The practice he has had in the court here has already shown him to be a competent and zealous advocate."

From the Wellsboro Agitator.

November 18, 1890 - Mortimer [Morton] S. Bailey Esq, a son of Mr. John W. Bailey, was recently elected as a Democratic State Senator in the Colorado Legislature from the district composed of Park and Fremont counties. The district usually gives a Republican majority of about 450 and Mr. Bailey a personal popularity is attested by his majority of 584. The Flume published a Fairplay, Col. Mr. Bailey's home says "The tremendous vote in this county is a strong expression of the intention to revenge interference by politicians at times when the will of the people has been indicated, as well as a splendid indorsement for Mr. Bailey." Another Wellsboro boy Hon. Leon O. Bailey, who is also a son of Mr. John W. Bailey has just been elected City Attorney at Indianapolis, Ind."

November 12, 1891 - "A Wellsboro Boy Highly Honored. The Denver (Col.) Daily News in speaking of the election of Hon M.S. Bailey, briefly mentioned in the GAZETTE last week, says "Form the temporary wreck and ruin of Tuesday's election Hon. M.S. Bailey, of Fairplay, comes forth smiling a District Judge from the counties of Fremont, Custer, Chaffee and Park. Senator --soon to become Judge Bailey -- either is or has a mascot that would be valuable to Democrats in the benighted county of Arapahoe. Last year he was elected Senator on the Democratic ticket from the counties of of Park and Fremont, both decidedly Republican in their politics, and this year he doubles his achievement and is elected Judge in four counties, every one of which is rock-ribbed in their fealty to the Republican party. Judge Bailey is in every way worthy of the favors the voters who know him shower upon him so lavishly. He is a big bodied, big hearted, educated gentlemen, with a head full of law and good sense and a disposition to fairness that will make him one of the most successful judges on the Colorado bench. The News heartily greets Judge Mortimer S. Bailey."

From the Idaho Statesman, Boise, ID.

December 13, 1897 - "WILL QUIT POPULISM. A Defeated Candidate Will Join the Democrats. Denver, Dec 14. -- Judge Morton S. Bailey, populist candidate for governor who was defeated by Alva Adams in 1896, has announced his purpose to act in the future with the democratic party. He says he surrenders none of his principles but as the fight is now between free coinage and monometalism the democratic party has the better claim to support."

From the Eagle Valley Enterprise, Eagle, CO

October 16, 1908 - "MORTON S. BAILEY, NOMINEE FOR SUPREME COURT.

Hon. Morton S. Bailey, whose likeness you see before you, was born at Wellsboro, Pa., in 1855, and in 1880 graduated from Lafayette College. He came to Colorado at once after getting his degree and in 1882 was admitted to the bar. He began the practice of his chosen profession at Fairplay, Colorado, where he was elected Mayor for two consecutive terms. After that he was sent to the State Assembly to represent in the senate the people from the Fourteenth senatorial district, composed of Fremont and Park counties. In the fall of 1892 he was elected judge of that district and has occupied that position ever since. This was remarkable because of the fact that at time he was elected the first time it was a Republican majority for the rest of the ticket and when he was again placed before the people of that district two years ago the Republicans did not put up a candidate against him.

Judge Bailey's judicial ability is unquestioned. His integrity, clear judgement and powerful personality will make him a commanding figure upon the Supreme bench of this State.

The people of Colorado are in need of judges of the kind such as Judge Bailey is and this year they are going to put their stamp of approval upon him. He is now well known all over Colorado and highly respected because of his high ability and sterling qualities as a jurist, a leader and a manly man."

From the Fairplay Flume, Fairplay, CO.

December 10, 1909 - "OUR NEW SUPREME COURT.

The decisions of the State Supreme Court during this year cast a ray of brightest light over Colorado, this in marked contrast to the shadows the have dimmed the sun for several years past, and the point in which Park county takes particular pride is the fact that our former citizen, and always most highly esteemed friend, Morton S. Bailey, now one of the respected Justices of this Court, is on of the leading spirits that have made possible the eminently fair decisions rendered.

Judge Bailey located in Fairplay and hung out his shingle as a lawyer some thirty years ago, when he was a mere boy. Since that time his progress has been steady. He at once took his place as a lawyer of marked ability and a man of unusual depth. He gained and has held the highest respect of the people, not only of Park county, but of Colorado, and in this instance, the confidence of the has not been misplaced.

The latest and most striking decision of the Court was rendered the week in the injunction case between Leadville and the Leadville Sewer Company, in which the Court decided that no city can grant perpetual franchises to public utility corporations. That Justices Gabbert and Campbell voted against the majority in the decision is no surprise; but thanks to Justices Bailey, Musser, Steele, Hill and White the of Gabbertism in Colorado has witnessed its sunset. We welcome the days of light in place of the years of shadow."

From the Record Journal of Douglas County, Castle Rock, CO.

May 19, 1922 - "JUSTICE BAILEY DIES SUDDENLY - Justice Morton S. Bailey, member of the Colorado Supreme Court and a distinguished pioneer jurist died suddenly at his home in Denver Tuesday morning about 2:30 o'clock, death resulting from an attack of uremic poisoning.

The announcement of the justice's sudden death came as a deep shock to the many friends and acquaintances of the noted jurist, because of the apparent favorable condition of his health last week when he last attended to his judicial duties in his chambers at the state house.

Justice Bailey was born July 3, 1855 near Wellsboro, Pa., and spent the first few years of his life on a farm. In 1880 he was graduated from Lafayette College at Easton, Pa. Three years later the degree of master of arts was conferred on him by the same institution.

Coming to Colorado in 1880, he settled in Denver and began reading law in the offices of Markham, Patterson and Thomas, and later the offices of R.D. Thompson. He was admitted to the bar two years later and thereupon established law offices at Fairplay, Colorado.

At this place he became associated with Judge Charles A. Wilkin in the practice of law, served two terms as mayor and subsequently was elected state senator from Fremont and Park counties. He resigned from the senate, however, when elected to the district bench from Canon City on Dec. 23, 1891. This district comprises Freemont Park, Chaffee and Custer counties, embracing the Eleventh Judicial district.

He married Miss Lutie Wilkin in 1888. She survives him with a daughter, Miss Mildred, and a brother F.W. Bailey, all of Denver, and Leon O. Bailey of New York, in addition to the three sons.

He was considered one of the most outstanding figures of the state, not only as a staunch Democrat, jurist and statesman, but also as a student of Masonry. During his leisure time he devoted hours to its study, according to friends of the family.

He was a thirty second degree Mason, and belonged to the Mystic Shrine and Knights Templar, and also was a life member of the Benevolent and Protective Order of the Elks. He was a member of the local Democratic club, the Denver Athletic club and the state and American bar associations.

Lutie A. WILKIN^{491 492 494} [11486] was born in Mar 1867 in Athens, OH.^{491 494} She and Morton Shelley BAILEY had the following children:

- +806 Baby BAILEY (1890-1890) [11491]
- +807 Mildred BAILEY (1892-) [11487]
- +808 Morton Shelly BAILEY , Jr. (1895-) [11488]
- +809 Donald Lewis BAILEY (1898-) [11489]
- +810 Wilkin BAILEY (1902-1975) [11490]

From the History of Tioga County, 1857.

"LEON O. BAILEY was born in Charleston township, Tioga county, June 21, 1857, and was educated in the public schools of Wellsboro and at Cornell University. He later removed to Indianapolis, Indiana, where he studied law in the office of Baker, Hord & Hendricks, and was admitted to the bar of Marion county at the age of twenty-three. In 1886 he was elected to the State Senate, as a Democrat, and served one term as assistant to the attorney general of Indiana. He was subsequently the Democratic nominee for Congress in that district, and also served as city solicitor of Indianapolis, in which city he still resides."

From Encyclopedia of Biography by John W. Jordan, 1914.

Leon Orlando, son of John W. and Margaret (Lewis) Bailey, was born June 21, 1857, in Wellsboro, Tioga county, Pennsylvania, and was a student from boyhood. At eighteen he was instructor in languages and mathematics in the high school of his native county, and at nineteen he entered Cornell University, class of 1880. He began to read law in the office of Hiscock, Gifford & Dohaney, of Syracuse, New York, but shortly after went to Indianapolis and studied with the firm of which Thomas A. Hendricks was a member, obtaining his degree of L.L.B from the Indiana Law School in 1880. In 1881 Mr. Bailey, in partnership with William A. Van Buren, began practice in Indianapolis. The following year the connection was dissolved, and Mr. Bailey associated himself with Major Jonathan W. Gordon, in his day one of the most brilliant members of the Indiana bar, and the partnership continued until the death of Major Gordon. Subsequently Mr. Bailey formed a partnership with the Hon. John W. Kern, now United States Senator from Indiana. The firm of Kern & Bailey enjoyed a large and lucrative practice. It was dissolved when Mr. Kern became city attorney of Indianapolis, since which time Mr. Bailey has practiced alone. The firm of Kern & Bailey was dissolved in 1900, and during the twelve years of its existence Mr. Bailey occupied a leading position at the Indianapolis Bar. Previous to that he had come into prominence through learning, ability and devotion to duty. Endowed by nature with all the essential qualifications of a successful lawyer, he rapidly advanced to the commanding position which for so many years has been his, highly esteemed by his professional brethren and possessing the fullest confidence of the public at large.

Like his father, Mr. Bailey is a staunch Democrat, and his fellow-citizens have not been slow to testify to the esteem in which they hold him. From 1885 to 1889 he represented his party in the Indiana State Senate, and his legal abilities were recognized by his election to the office of City Attorney of Indianapolis. When Hon. Alonzo Greene Smith was elected Attorney-General of Indiana, he selected

Mr. Bailey as First Assistant Attorney General, an office which he filled with distinguished ability for four years. His abilities received from President Cleveland merited recognition. During the first term of the Cleveland administration, Mr. Bailey received the honor of the appointment of First Assistant United States Attorney for the District of Indiana, and for two years filled with the utmost credit to himself this important and responsible position. At the close of his term, Mr. Bailey was nominated by President Cleveland for the office of United States Attorney, but was not confirmed because of the immediate succession of a Republican administration. The place had been offered to Mr. Bailey purely as a recognition by the administration of his efficiency and the refusal of the senate to confirm the nomination was merely a partisan penalty for his great eminence as a Democratic leader and for his scathing rebukes of political corruption. For two years Mr. Bailey was Corporation Counsel of the City of Indianapolis, and in 1898 was the nominee of his party for Congress from the Indianapolis District. Shortly after, in consequence of his engagement by important corporate interests, he removed to New York City, where he has since been actively engaged in the practice of his profession and is recognized as a distinguished member of the bar. In the welfare of men known as "wage-earners" Mr. Bailey has always taken a profound interest, and has more than redeemed every pledge to ameliorate conditions by the enactment of wholesome laws. The measures which he introduced and advocated while a member of the State Senate stand emblazoned upon the record as monuments of his devotion to the welfare of the masses and his unswerving fidelity to Democratic principles. Widely but unostentatiously charitable, no good work done in the name of philanthropy or religion appeals to him in vain. Fraternally, he affiliates with the Masonic order, and takes special interest in the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, under the auspices of which he occasionally delivers an address possessing the strength and polish of a classic. Eminent as a lawyer, Mr. Bailey is preeminent as a statesman. Exceptionally equipped for the bar, he is first, last and always a political leader. When nominated by his party for Congress, the vigor and brilliancy of his campaign attracted wide attention and created much enthusiasm throughout the State. Though defeated, he succeeded in reducing the Republican majority by several thousand votes. The splendid fight which he then made gave him added strength in the councils of the Democratic party. A man of striking presence, his countenance bears the stamp of those sterling qualities of manhood of the pos session of which his career has given evidence and also shows him to be endowed with the endearing personal traits which win and hold friends. He is a judge of men and of character, and in his attachments is intensely loyal. Few men in public life have had a more devoted following.

Mr. Bailey was first married, in 1878, to Rosamond Paty Coggeshall, born in 1858, on the Island of Nantucket, daughter of William Boylston and Anne Maria (Jenkins) Coggeshall, the former a descendant of Sir John Coggeshall, one of the founders of Newport, and prominently identified with the history of

Rhode Island, while the latter numbered among her ancestors and relatives Tristram Coffin, Benjamin Franklin, Lucretia Mott and Maria Mitchell. The "Coffin School" of Nantucket, at which Mrs. Bailey was educated, was founded in 1827 by Admiral Sir Isaac Coffin, being established for the education of the descendants of Tristram Coffin, and is still an institution of high standing, open without charge to all those of Coffin lineage. Mrs. Bailey was a woman of lovely personality and rare gifts, being a musician, singer and composer, a writer of both poetry and prose, and possessing a charm of character which appealed alike to young and old and won for her unusual regard and love. Mrs. Bailey died in September, 1892, and Mr. Bailey married (second) in September, 1901, Gertrude May Stein, born in Albany, New York. Before her marriage Miss Stein was widely known as one of the most celebrated contralto soloists in America. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey are the parents of three children: Elliott don, born January 31, 2904,; Caroline and Margaret (twins), born December 18, 1905. Mr. Bailey is particularly happy in his domestic relations, and is devoted to his home and family. They occupy an extensive place at Bronxville, a beautiful residence section of New York City.

She married Bernard LIEBISCH [11497] on 8 Apr 1889 in Leipsic, Germany.⁵⁰³ She died of Consumption on 29 Apr 1892 in Leipsic.⁵⁰⁴

A great-granddaughter of Edith's, Faith Ferguson states the following in part of a posting in 2004:

"She [Edith] was married to Alfred (or Albert, or Edmund, unclear!) Masius near Wellsboro some time @ 1880, against the wishes of her family. They had two sons, Roderick and Morton, both born in Egg Harbor City, N.J. When the boys were young, Edith and Alfred (?) divorced (shocking for the time) and Edith moved to Leipzig Germany to study the new field of experimental psychology with Willem Wundt (at the time she was his only American woman student.) The boys went to the school attached the famous church where J. S. Bach was organist and choir director. Edith remarried, to Bernard Liebisch, who was a widower. They had a daughter Mildred. Edith never returned to the U.S. Edith became ill and on her deathbed extracted a promise from her younger sister Mildred to care for her boys. Mildred Bailey gave up her own engagement (to a man in the Wellsboro area) to remain in Germany caring for the boys. She married her sister's husband Bernard Liebisch. They had a son, Arnold Llewellyn."

From the Wellsboro Agitator.

April 30, 1889 - "Mrs. Edith Bailey Masius, who is well known in this borough, was married on the 8th instant to Mr. Bernard Liebisch, at Leipsic, Germany."

January 6, 1892 - "We learn that Miss Mildred Bailey, who went to Germany last year to are for invalid sister, is in very poor health indeed, her lungs being affected. Her sister Edith is reported to in in a very critical condition, and her physician has no hopes of her recovery, her disease being consumption."

May 4, 1892 - "Last Friday a dispatch was received here announcing the death of Mrs. Edith Hailey Liebisch at Leipsic, Germany that morning. She died of consumption with which disease she had been suffering for months. Mrs Liebisch was the daughter if John W. Bailey. She went to Leipsic about five years ago to study in the university intending to fit herself for a teacher. Soon after she met Prof. Bernard Liebisch, a dealer in rare books and they were afterward married. When her health began to fail her sister Miss Mildred Bailey went to her and has ministered to her during her sickness. Mrs. Liebisch was nearly thirty three years of age. She leaves three children two of the by a former marriage with Mr. Masius."

Edmund A. MASIUS^{502 505 506} [11494] was born in Mar 1855 in France.⁵⁰⁵ He died of Tuberculosis in Nov 1915.⁵⁰⁷ He married Rosa E. ? He married Josephine HARWOOD.

Masius was probably Alfred G., but is a very mysterious figure. The following is from Tioga County Alien Records:

"MASIUS, ALFRED G.; age 24; born in France; arrived at Baltimore in July 1872; settled in Wellsboro; renounced the Republic of France; declaration made 27 August 1879."

Edmund A. MASIUS and Edith A. BAILEY had the following children:

- +814 Roderick Bailey MASIUS (1881-) [11495]
- +815 Morton Lee MASIUS (1883-1979) [11496]

Bernard LIEBISCH^{508 503} [11497] married Mildred L. BAILEY. He and Edith A. BAILEY had the following children:

From the Wellsboro Agitator.

September 9, 1884 - "Mr. Lee W. Bailey, son of J.W. Bailey of this borough has placed on exhibition in the window of the First National Bank a fine crayon portrait of the founder of the New York Medical University. Mr. Bailey completed his art studies about two years ago and now has a studio in New York city."

March 10, 1885 - "Mr. Lee W. Bailey, son of Mr. John W. Bailey, of this borough, has opened an art studio at 1267 Broadway, New York. The Deaf Mutes' Journal says the rooms are handsomely decorated with works of art and it predicts a prosperous career for the young artist, who has fought against odds in obtaining his education."

May 24, 1887 - "The New York Deaf Mutes' Journal contains the following personal item regarding a well-known Wellsboro boy: "Lee W. Bailey, artist, has taken a studio in the Sloane building, corner of Broadway and 32nd street, and the highness of the rent would seem to show his artistic ability was much sought after."

August 27, 1889 - "Yesterday about noon Mr. Lee W. Bailey died at the home of his father, John W. Bailey, in this borough, of consumption. The young man came home from Europe in failing health, resulting from a cold contracted in the Alps. He had intended to spend three years in Rome and Paris in the study of painting, but was forced to return to his home after only a few months stay in the old country. Since the age of seven years Lee had spent most of his time at New York city in a school for the deaf and dumb, giving especial attention to the study of art, for which he seemed particularly fitted. He was twenty-five years of age. He was a bright and talented young man, and, considering his disabling infirmity, he was wonderfully self-reliant. He realized fully that he must die, and for weeks he had longed for the summons to come. The funeral is to be held tomorrow morning at eleven o'clock."

He held the same position under a former Republican Administration."

November 6, 1895 - "Mr. Fred W. Bailey formerly of this borough who has long been a successful hotel manager at Indianapolis, has purchased the St. James hotel at Denver Colo, which is one of the best known hotels in the West. It is a five story building with 150 rooms, and it has lately been refurbished. Mr. Bailey expects to take possession of the property in about three weeks."

From the Wellsboro Gazette.

October 13, 1889 - "The Denver Hotel Bulletin in a recent issue prints a half-tone picture of Fred W. Bailey - a former Wellsboro boy - and his team of roadsters, together with the following notice: 'Fred W. Bailey, proprietor of the New St. James hotel, is one of the most ardent admirers of horse flesh in the city and this afternoon exhibited his team of roadsters at the horse show. Mr. Bailey's team is a pair of perfectly matched bay geldings, over 15 hands high, and have greatly admired by all who have seen them on the street. From Portrait and Biographical Album of Oakland County, Michigan, 1891.

"WALLACE BAILEY. This name will be recognized by many readers as that of a farmer and stock-raiser located in Orion Township, where he and his brothers own four hundred acres of fine land. Mr. Bailey devotes his time entirely to agricultural affairs and, having been reared on a farm and had much to do with its management when he was quite young, he is a master of his calling. He has a fine large dwelling with attractive surroundings and a full supply of farm buildings, so that he is well equipped for the carrying on of his work and lives in much comfort. He is a native of this county, born in Independence Township, June 3, 1842, and all his interests have centered here.

In Tioga County, Pa., in 1816, Wilson Bailey, the father of our subject was born. He came to this state about 1831, when the county was full of wild game, and the part in which he settled showed a vestige of improvement. He was one of the first to locate land in Independence Township and the deed signed by Gen Jackson is still in the possession of Mrs. Bailey. He walked from Detroit to his destination, there being no railroads or stage lines. The customary log home was built, a clearing made and some simple improvements, and after a few years Mr. Bailey returned to the Keystone State for his parents, having located 80 acres of land for them. As time passed he placed his farm in good condition and in 1856 bought 600 acres on section 19, Orion Township, which has since become known as the Steam Mill Farm. He entered into partnership with F.C. Myrick, for the manufacture of pine lumber, but the partnership was soon dissolved. A mill had been built by Mr. Myrick which run seven saws, and a large amount of lumber was made. Mr. Bailey was a thorough businessman and at the time of his demise was engaged in various enterprises. He had limited means when he came West but was successful in accumulating property. He was a life long member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in the faith of which he died May 26, 1862.

The mother of our subject was known in her maidenhood as Miss Rachel Riker. She was born in Chemung County, N.Y., in 1817, and is still living; she has belonged to the Methodist Episcopal Church for many years and her character is one that reflects credit upon her Christian profession. She is the mother of six children, but one has crossed the river of death. Wallace is the eldest of the family and was born in a log house built by his father in Independence Township. He attended the district school, which was held in the primitive building with homemade furniture, and became well versed in such branches as were then taught. After his father's death the management of the estate largely devolved upon him and he remained at the old home until his marriage. The property was kept together and the youngest brother became of age.

In 1965 Mr. Bailey was married to Sarah C. Case, a native of Sussex County, N.J., born in 1847. Her parents came to this State about 1855, and she completed her studies and youthful training here. To Mr. and Mrs. Bailey three children have been born, named respectively, Cora C., Mamie E. and Gracie M. They have had good privileges and careful home training and the first-born is now successfully engaged in teaching. In 1868 Mr. Bailey removed to Orion Township where he has since lived. He votes the Republican ticket and has been a Mason nearly thirty years. He and his wife belong to the Methodist Episcopal Church, in which they have good standing, as they have throughout the community."

Biography of John J. Bailey, contributed by Dale Cleland, actual author and date unknown. Punctuation and spelling as originally written.

"Some items of interest in the life of ELDER J.J. BAILEY

John J. Bailey was born February 5, 1845, near Oxford, Oakland co. Michigan, the 3rd. son of Clarissa Shotwell Bailey and William Bailey. There were 10 sons in his fathers family. No daughters. All the sons were born on a farm in Oakland County, Michigan. All grew to manhood and were married. They were namely as follows according to age: Edmund, Charlie, John J., William, Frank, Clarkston, Washington, Elmer, Albert, and Hermon.

At the age of 18 John J enlisted in Company L. 10th. Michigan Cavalry and served his country during the remainder of the Civil War. He received his honorable discharge from the service November 11, 1865 at Memphis Tennessee.

January 1st. 1866 he married Susan M. Schell, daughter of Jane and Benjimen Schell, in Lapeer County. Michigan. To this union were born 11 children, the two eldest died in infancy. The next oldest was Ada Mae, who in young womanhood married John W. Green.

The others Benjimen , married Amy Moore

Clarissa married Henry F. Moorhead.

Margaret married Charles Johnson.

Emma Marrien Earnest Mc Cann and later Joe Des Jardins.

Maude married William Wilson.

William married Mae Couser and later Anna Hopkins.

Robert married Sophia Sadler.

Frank married Estella Hicks.

Shortly after his marriage, he operated a blacksmith shop in Burnside Township, Lapeer Co. Michigan. This occupation he followed for a few years, then engaged in farming near Brown City, Michigan. He remained on the farm until 1893 when he moved, with his family to Coleman, Michigan. Here he worked as oiler and night watchman at the Peters Head Lining Mill for five years. Then he moved to Ubly, Michigan where the family resided on a farm and he spent his time in the ministry.

In 1874 he was baptized by immersion by Elder Arthur Leverton of Canada and became a member of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. His wife was baptized shortly afterwards and he studied for the ministry.

Three months after his baptism he was ordained an Elder. September 24th, 1902 he was ordained a Patriarch by John H. Lake of Ohio.

For thirty years he freely gave his services to the church. In 1897 he went under General Conference Appointment and his wife received from the Church, an allowance of 15.00 a month to care for her and 4 children who were yet of school age.

After his ordination to Patriarch he labored in Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, and Wisconsin. Many received patriarchal blessings under his hands and cherish them to this day. In the biography of Elder Arthur Leverton, he tells of his first meeting with John J. Bailey. Elder Leverton came from Canada to tell of the restored gospel. He was associated with Elder Robert Davis. Elder Leverton states that as the two were walking down the road, looking for a place where they could hold religious meetings. they saw a man coming, whom they had never seen before. In speaking of him Elder Leverton was impressed to say "An Israelite indeed in whom there is no guile. He will hear, obey and preach this gospel This man was John J. Bailey.

they inquired of him if he knew of a place where they might hold religious services as they were ministers for Christ.

John Bailey secured a school house for them to preach in and he was one of the first to be converted and receive the "Angels Message".

His wife was much prejudiced for some time, but the Spirit of the God soon bore witness to her of the truthfulness of the Gospel and she was baptised during the winter of 1875 when it was necessary to cut a hole in the ice to perform the rite.

At the age of 85 after many years of faithful service in the church he was superannuated and received button and badge of honor from the president of the church: Frederick M. Smith. He still continued to do all he could in church work as health and strength permitted.

He was never confined to his bed continuously, and the afternoon before his death, he sat on the porch of his home at Brown City and told the gospel story to loved ones and neighbors.

After the death of his wife Susan, he went to live with his daughter Maude who then lived at Owendale. One year later he married Adelaide Liscom of Flint, Michigan. Her husband had passed away several years before. She had no children but was really an Angel on earth. They spent several happy years together. She passed away before he did and as was her desire, she was laid to rest in his lot at Ubly, Michigan.

In January 1927 he married Mrs. Peter Wood, an old time sweetheart. They lived together for six years

On August 30th, 1933 he retired as usual and at 8 o'clock p.m. and passed away peacefully the following morning Aug. 31, 1933 at the age of 88 years 6mo. and 26 days. He was laid to rest by the side of his wife Susan M. who passed away Nov. 24th, 1913.

In 1914 he bought a home in Brown City, Michigan And resided there nineteen years until his death.

Funeral services were held at Brown City, conducted by Elder William Grice of Crosswell, Michigan and Elder Dexter Foster of Marlette, Mich. Taps were sounded at the graveside at the valley Cemetery at Ubly, Mich. Thus honored in death as he was in life.

He often liked to recall experiences of civil war times. He was with Gen. Sherman's march to the sea.

He also served under General Burnside in Kentucky in 1864.

On New Years day the temperature in Kentucky dropped to 20 degrees below zero and as several Confederate soldiers were housed only in flimsy tents, 12 of them froze to death. Mr. Bailey was also in this camp at the time that states that many horses and mules perished.

He took part in the battles of Blue Springs, East Tennessee, Chicameu? and Vicksburg. He was in the detachment that trapped the famous Confederate "General Morgan and his 500 men" At this time his company were camped at night at Bulls Gap in the Cumberlands, when the bugle was sounded for "Boots and Saddles. They were soon on their way. It was raining and the night was so dark they were able to see the road only when flashes of lightening lit up the road. Toward morning they arrived at Greenville Tennessee, where Gen Morgan was killed. Mr. Bailey saw service in Tennessee, Virginia, North and South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia and other states, but was never wounded. He came close to death, when he had received permission to go on a short leave to pick black berries. When an officer sought him go in an attachment to Thorn till he was gone. All who went were either killed or captured except one officer.

He recalled a battle at Greenville, when he fought from behind a rail fence, and the fight developed into a hand to hand encounter. He escaped without serious injury, but had horses shot from under him."

From a Sanilac County newspaper (name unknown) in 1932.

"Brown City, April 30. - John J. Bailey, 87 years old, only Civil war veteran in Brown City, has been a resident of this place for more than 50 years. He recalls experiences of those days in the service of his country when "hand to hand battles were common," he says. He saw service with the 10th Michigan Cavalry in Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Oklahoma. He took part in Sherman's march to the sea, and remembers distinctly the battle at Greenville, Tenn., when he fought from behind a rail fence, and although his comrades dropped on both sides of him, and the battle developed into a hand to hand encounter, he escaped serious injury.

He remembers that on another occasion when he spent a few hours of his leave picking blackberries his company was ordered to an engagement during his absence and not a man survived. Mr. Bailey is in fairly good health and takes a keen interest in his home and surroundings. He was born Feb. 5, 1845 in Oakland-co.

After the war, Mr. Bailey engaged in farming and was a blacksmith for a number of years. Later he entered the ministry of the Latter Day Saints church where he spent 50 years of his life. While most of his preaching was done in Michigan, he also spent some time in Wisconsin and in the south. He retired from active duty about 10 years ago. He has seen Michigan grow to one of the industrial centers of the world.

Mr. Bailey is keenly interested in current events and is optimistic about the future. "We'll come out of this depression with flying colors," he says.

He has nine children, Mrs John Green of Brown City; Mrs Henry Moorehead of Detroit; Mrs Charles Johnson of Midland; Mrs. William Wilson of Owendale; Benjamin Bailey of Uby; Mich., William Bailey of Independence, Mo., Robert Bailey of Carsonville, and Frank Bailey of Port Huron."

From the Pontiac Daily Press.

May 14, 1903 - "The coroner's jury in the inquest as to the cause of the death of Franklin Bailey, met at Orion Wednesday and decided that Bailey died of heart failure. Dr. J. W. Fox was the coroner in the case. He made a post mortem examination and stated unhesitatingly that death was due from heart disease and that Bailey had not drowned as was supposed.

It will be recalled that Bailey, who lived north and east of Clarkston, in Independence township, left home on Sunday afternoon, April 19. He had but recently returned from the asylum here, and was in very poor health. His family kept a constant watch of him and he was not supposed to leave the house without a companion. While the family slept Bailey slipped out of the house and went rowing on the lake, a few rods distant from the house. His heart was weak and it is supposed the exertion of rowing the boat was too much. He fell into the lake but was evidently dead before he struck the water as no water was found in his lungs. The body came to the surface of the lake on Friday of last week just as a party of searchers were preparing to drag the lake.

The jury rendered a verdict that death was caused by heart failure."

WATSON, IDA ROSE

The subject of this sketch was born in Rutland township, now Roseville borough, on July 17, 1854, and was the eldest of six children born to Daniel and Clarina Watson, both deceased. Her childhood and adult years woe passed with her parents until their decease, to whom she was always a dutiful and loving daughter, affectionately ministering to their wants during all their declining years, and afterwards with her brother, D. E. Watson, helping to maintain the old home, which has always been a mecca to many a wayfarer. Being the eldest of the children she early learned to assume responsibilities, and cares, to which she never afterwards was a stranger.

Early in her adult life she became a Christian and uniting with the local Baptist church by baptism, she was ever consistent in her life with the profession she had made, striving always to follow in the footsteps of the Master whom she loved to serve, and being always "instant in season and out of season." Many times has the remark been made other: "If ever there was a Christian, she is one." Being largely endowed with that rare commodity, common sense, her counsel was often eagerly sought and cheerfully given to all who felt thirir need of it, and no one was better qualified to assist in the transacting of many varieties of business. Her former pastor, while delivering his sermon at her funeral, made the statement that whenever he felt borne down with cares and trials which sometimes would hedge his way. he would say: "Well, I will go and talk with Ida about it," and would go away relieved of his burden. Truly, one of God" chosen one has gone home. In the community, in her large circle of friends, and in the church, there is a vacancy that cannot be filled, and to her sister, Mrs. Henry H Smith; to her brother, D. E. Watson, to Russel Watson, for whom she has cared, and been a mother since his early infancy, and to her nephew and nieces, has come an irreparable loss- Surely, we humbly and sincerely thank God for Ida, for her unblemished life, for her Christian character, and for her Christian influence and example, which she always unconsciously exerted. (Can't read next line) great desire to hear Billy Sunday, she went. on Saturday. April 4, to Scranton, and, after securing a boarding place, went in the evening to attend service in the Sunday tabernacle. She returned, after the service, to her boarding place, and, feeling very much fatigued, and complaining of a pain in her left side, said she would retire, remarking she though she would feel better after resting, requesting out she be called by 8:30 o'clock in the morning so she could attend the service. Not hearing anything from her, the lady of the house rapped at her door, and getting no response pushed it open and found her apparently sleeping. Approaching her and placing her hand upon her face. she found she was dead. Truly, she had gone to sleep on earth to awaken in Heaven--an end she had earnestly desired, and coming apparently without suffering. Her funeral was held from her late home on Thursday, April 9, at 11 o'clock a.m. her fanner pastor, the Rev. Seymour Barrett, officiating, taking for his text, "She is not dead but sleepeth." Luke 8:52. He was assisted by the Revs. Johnson and ?uscomb. and notwithstanding the almost impassable condition of the roads, the large attendance of saddened and sorrowing people attested the high esteem in which she was held.

The funeral services were held from the Baptist church last Wednesday, Rev. F.H. Baker, of Tioga, officiating. The church was filled with sympathizing friends and there was a profuse display of floral offerings. Interment in the Roseville cemetery."

They have a number of attractive styles ready to put upon the market, among them being two new driving wagons and two stanhopes. They report an excellent outlook in the trade and an unusual demand for cushion and semi-pneumatic tires, though the standard 2-inch first quality pneumatic still leads and some of the best eastern manufacturers will put no other kind on their vehicles."

Paraphrased from "Early Michigan Inns", by Lawrence McCracken, 1943.

George S. Hodges, the grandson of Schuyler Hodges, builder of the famed Hodges House Hotel in Pontiac, spent his boyhood in the Hotel, always considered Pontiac of the days when the Hodges House shown brightest as having an interest beyond any city he had ever known. "Living in that hotel was something like living a chapter of a Dickens' novel." he recalled. "We had an array of Dickens' characters and the hotel was their meeting place." Among these were Nutter, a bowlegged Negro Sampson, who tossed 250 and 300 pound trunks to his shoulders and trotted nonchalantly to the third floor with them. "Deacon", so called because he was the most profane man in the village, drove a stage coach and his artistry with cuss words won him respect of even seasoned travelers. The hotel undoubtedly played host to many men whose names are indelibly in the nation's history books, but the old registers were lost years ago and now there is nothing but local legend, handed down through the years to testify to the visits of the great of past years.

Abraham Lincoln made a tour of Michigan in 1856 in support of presidential candidate John Fremont. It was during this tour he is reputed to have visited the Hodges House. No doubt his visit attracted but little attention as then he was an unsuccessful Illinois politician who had but recently been unable to win the vice-presidential nomination of his party. Among those who were guests of the hotel, in addition to Lincoln, were Daniel Webster and James Fenimore Cooper, according to legend. Both visited Michigan during the time the Hodges House was most famous and it is not unlikely they tasted of its comforts.

Obituary for George S. Hodges from the April 13, 1953 Pontiac Gazette. "Pioneer in Auto Industry Dies at Pine Lake Home. (3120 Pine Lake Rd.) George S. Hodges, 89, pioneer Pontiac automobile builder, died Saturday evening at his home at Pine Lake where he had lived for 73 years. He was the son of Ira G. and Mariva Hodges, and was born on March 3, 1864, in the Hodges House in Pontiac, a hotel built by his grandfather, Schuyler Hodges. He was educated in the Pontiac Schools and Michigan Military Academy at Orchard Lake. In 1892 Mr. Hodges went to Paris where he studied art. His work was shown at Detroit art exhibits and at other prominent art showings throughout the country. He followed painting as a hobby most of his life. He was a charter member of the Scarab Club in Detroit. He also made violins and had been granted the patents on the original reflex type camera and on other inventions. He organized the Hodges Vehicle Co. which made horse drawn carriages and buggies. Around the turn of the century Mr. Hodges became secretary of the Welch Motor Co., the nucleus of Pontiac's automobile industry. This was finally absorbed by General Motors. Mr. Hodges was a close associate of Henry Ford and had many dealings with him when Ford was endeavoring to get his auto manufacturing underway. He built the Pine Lake Country clubhouse, Rotunda Inn and several other buildings. He later sold the clubhouse and golf course to the club. He was married in 1888 to Agnes Bacon, who died in 1923. She was the daughter of Levi Bacon, chief clerk of the U.S. Patent Office at Washington. He was a member of All Saints Episcopal Church. Mr. Hodges is survived by one son and seven daughters. George S. Hodges Jr., of Lake Angelus; Mrs. Harlan S. Smith and Mrs. Clarence K. Patterson (n) of Pontiac; Mrs. Ferris H. Fitch of Grosse Pointe; Mrs. George W. Malcomson of Arlington, Va.; Mrs. Earle W. Parcells of Grosse Pointe; Mrs. Julian A. Spottswood of Palatine, Ill. and Mrs. Donald S. Patterson of Orchard Lake. He also leaves 19 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren. The funeral will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. from the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, with the Rev. William H. Hamm officiating. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery. The family requests that flowers be omitted."

Adding to his list of accomplishments, we learn from his obituary in the Detroit Times, April 13, 1953 that he:

- 1) invented and manufactured pneumatic-tired buggies and racing sulkies.
- 2) made the first closed body for a Ford car.
- 3) drove the first automobile in Oakland County, a Searchmont, made in Philadelphia.
- 4) invented the first power lawnmower.
- 5) was awarded a scholarship for five years study in Europe at the expense of the French government.
- 6) was the only living exhibitor at a 1950 exhibition in Detroit of paintings executed in Detroit before 1900.

Dec. 20, 1899 - Peculiar Divorce Case. Delia M. Gregory filed a bill for divorce from CHarles J. Gregory, who is in the theatrical line, and the latter yesterday filed an answer and cross-bill. The funny part of it is that the couple disagree as to the date of their marriage and the date of the birth of their eldest daughter. He denies that they were married August 6, 1883, and says the ceremony took place August 6, 1880. He also says that the oldest daughter is now 18 years old instead of 13 as stated by his wife.

There will be a strong contest over the younger child's custody. Gregory is a circus performer and his wife belongs to a well-known oakland county family. Cordelia married Claude F. April 5, 1912 - "Sunday morning about 2 o'clock Mrs. W.O. Wilcox was awakened by the antics of her dog which was in the house. The animal kept jumping against the door which opens from the kitchen into the dining room until he forced it open and when they went into the kitchen they were horrified to discover the kitchen on fire. If the fire had not been discovered just at that time the house and contents would have been a smouldering mass of ruins, as it was only small damage was done, the curtains were all burned and the walls were scorched quite badly. The family are at a loss to know how the fire originated as there was no fire in the kitchen stove at that time of the morning."

Simon C. PETERS⁸¹¹ ⁸¹² [781] was born c. 1852 in Montreal, Canada.

From the Pontiac Weekly Bill Poster.

Nay 5, 1880 - "S.C. Peters, of Boyd & Peter's show that is to give an exhibition in Pontiac to-day, came very near losing his life at Royal Oak last Wednesday evening. He was returning from Detroit with a load of corn, and when almost home the wagon capsized and he was buried under the load in such a way that he was unable to extricate himself. John Krepps, his night watchman, got uneasy over the prolonged absence of Peters, and about midnight started down the road to investigate, and had only gone half a mile when he discovered why his employer didn't return. Help was speedily summoned and Peters was taken out more nearly dead than alive. It was a very narrow escape."

May 12, 1880 - "Boyd and Peter's combination of high sounding titles struck Pontiac last Wednesday and didn't create a very favorable impression. The street parade was like the horseflesh, thin, and while some parts of the circus were hard to beat, others didn't amount to much. We suppose that allowances should be made for the fact that the proprietors are young at the business and this was their 3rd or 4th stopping place."

April 28, 1880 - "We are told that Boyd & Peters circus has come to a stand still down in Pennsylvania. Maltrome Burkett, aged 14 years. of Somerset county, that state, claims that she was abducted and outraged and kept with the circus for a week, being conveyed from town to town in the ticket wagon, and when allowed to leave she was partially demented. Her story as told in court is too horrible for publication. Last Thursday S. C. Peters, A.W. Davis, Clark Rose and John Campbell, managers, together with fifty attaches, were arrested and jailed to await examination."

North Granger JAMES^{824 242 828 825 829} [1078], son of Richard H. JAMES (-) [10853] and Ava ? (-) [10854], was born on 7 Apr 1873 in IN, CA or AR.^{824 242 828 825} He was in Tailor.⁸³⁰ He married Tamaco ? On 1 Apr 1910 in Los Angeles, CA.⁸³¹ They were divorced on 23 Feb 1916.⁸³¹

The 1880 AR, Garland, Hot Springs census shows North Granger born about 1873 in IN.

The 1910 CA, Los Angeles, Los Angeles census shows North Granger born about 1878 in IN.

His Michigan marriage registration shows him born about 1881 in IN.

His WWI Registration shows him born April 17, 1883.

The 1920 MI, Oakland, Royal Oak census shows him born about 1879 in AR.

The 1920 CA, Los Angeles, San Antonio census (in the household of his sister and brother-in-law, North was born about 1874 in IN.

And in the 1930 MI, Oakland, Pleasant Ridge census, North was born about 1876 in CA.

In the 1940, MI, Oakland, Pleasant Ridge census he is shown born about 1890 in Arkansas.

Those researching this feel that 1873 in Indiana is closest to being correct, but we'll probably never know for sure.

Genealogist report:

"We know that Bessie Diane Carew, daughter of Harriet Rose, married (2nd) North Granger James. The James family appears in the 1940 MI, Oakland, Pleasant Ridge census. In various sources, North James is reported to have been born anywhere from 1873 to 1883 in Indiana, California or Arkansas. Here he is shown as being born about 1890 in Arkansas. Bessie is also lying about her age since we know she was born about 1881. This would indicate that she was born about 1892! An even greater mystery is the daughter Elizabeth born about 1918. This matches no known child of Bessie and North. This child, if 22, would have been 12 in the 1930 census and 2 in the 1920. However, Elizabeth does not appear with Bessie and North in either of these census reports. (However, we are showing Elizabeth as reported in the census.

Looking back at other census reports, I think it is pretty clear from the 1880 census report that North James was born about 1873 in IN, a son of Richard and Ava North. Another interesting report is the 1920 CA, Los Angeles, San Antonio report. Here, North is apparently living with a wife, Elizabeth, and a daughter, Ava H. At the same time, of course, he is shown in the 1920, MI, Oakland, Royal Oak census, living with Bessie, her daughter Virginia (by first husband John McGuire), and Ninette born about 1915, a daughter we have assumed to be Bessie's and North's. This, however, may not be true either. Ninette's father is shown as being born in Canada and in this report, at least, North was born in Arkansas. Bessie's first husband John J. McGuire was born in Canada but they were divorced in 1914. Ninette may have been Bessie's and John McGuire's. I have never been able to find anything further on Ninette. A most unusual family! (We are showing Ninette as a daughter of John McGuire)."

North Granger JAMES and Bessie Diane CAREW had the following children:

He served many years as secretary of the Oakland County Historical Society and is the author of several histories on Oakland County and Pontiac. At one time he was associate editor of the Royal Oak Tribune. He was struck by an automobile driven by Stanley Eckler, at 10 Mile and Woodward on October 30, 1925 and died November 2, in Highland Park General Hospital. Representatives from every police department in Oakland County led the funeral party. The guard of honor was composed of members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. The pall bearers were Odd Fellows. Justice Rose was born on the site of the St. James church in Ferndale. He went north when a small boy, returning when 16 to live with his grandmother, Miss Charlotte Rose and his aunt Miss Rosina Rose. With them he resided at Seventh and Main streets until he was married in 1900. During that time he educated himself, was a school teacher, constable, and was elected justice of the peace in Royal Oak. As justice of the peace, Mr. Rose served the township until 1921 when Royal Oak became a city and he was automatically retired. Later he moved to Pleasant Ridge and last spring he again entered the republican primaries, defeating three opponents for nomination for justice of the peace. He was elected without opposition at the regular April election. This year his court had been held in Ferndale where Justice W. Byron Newman is located. Mr. Rose was a captain on the major-general's staff of the Patriarchs Militant of the Michigan Canton for the last five years. Mr. Rose was active in other fraternal organizations, including the Masons, Elks, Moose, Eagles, St. Andrews society and the Eastern Star. Always interested in historical matters, Mr. Rose had served as president of the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical society.

If we don't happen to get a chance to shake hands with Bill before he leaves he will never miss it because he is more than likely to have all kinds of shakes after he gets there."

1925-10-29 - "STORY OF AN AUTO TRIP TO CALIFORNIA
Burbank, California, Oct. 20, 1925

Dear Messenger:

I told the Clio Messenger that I would write and must do as I said, so will give you the route we traveled. We left Argentine, Michigan, Sept. 15, and landed in Burbank Oct. 6, and had one fine trip. The first day out it rained all day and night. Stayed in Benton Harbor first night. Took the Lincoln Highway at South Bend and then west to Omaha, Nebraska, then south to Kansas City, and then we took the old Santa Fe trail west to Los Animas, Colorado, then south across the corn of Colorado to Trinidad and over the Raton Pass, then southwest to Las Tunas, New Mexico, west to Arizona where we stopped and took a good look at the Petrified Forest and the Painted Desert or bad lands of Arizona. These were sights that I will never forget. I am sending you a piece of a log. Would like to send you the whole tree, but can't. The tree is 100 feet long and 3 feet through. I think maybe you will want to make a story of this, so will send you a folder giving all details, as it will save one a lot of writing. I forgot to tell you we visited the old prehistoric Ruins of New Mexico. It, too, was well worth seeing. I was told the ruined city must be over thirty thousand years old and has been under ground at least twenty thousand years. We then went west through Arizona to needles, California. Here we entered the Mohave desert, and we will remember it, for we got caught in one rain which made the rains in Michigan look like a light dew. My son, Max, said he thought it never rained on the desert, but he knows different now. Well, we landed in Burbank, California, without any further trouble and found my son, Claude, in fine shape. We have been looking the country over a little and on Sunday went to see Santa Barbara. They sure did have some shake. Next Sunday we shall go down to San Diego, where we can cross over to old Mexico and see the sights in that interesting land. Now, if you make a story out of this, fix it up a little, for I have written in a hurry. I am hoping this finds you all in the best of health and that you will like the little bit of wood I am sending you. I brought it from Arizona and now will send it to Clio there to be deposited with the rest of your keepsakes. I am also sending you a few cards which will also help to make up for what I haven't written. With best wishes from all the Roses,
William Rose.

This editor would acknowledge his gratitude to Mr. Rose for contributing the above very interesting account of his journey and would also say that the story did not require any "fixing up," as it is as good, or better, than anything we could write. We have arranged the cards which Mr. Rose refers to, a very interesting collection, by the way, in our front windows where the public may see them, likewise the piece of wood which Mr. Rose refers to."

1925-11-12 - "A FINE RELIC - The piece of tree from the petrified forest of Arizona which we had been expecting to receive from Wm. Rose, has arrived and is now on display in the front windows of this office. Its delay in reaching us was explained when the expressman delivered it and we found it to weigh about 25 pounds. Our friend "Bill" carried that big piece of rock from Arizona clear to California and from there had it sent to us at a cost of more than three dollars for express charges. That's what we call a real tribute of friendship and incidentally an exhibition of sympathy with our weakness for "relics." We want to say, however, that it is the most beautiful specimen of its kind we have ever seen outside the national museum at Washington. It is a foot long, six inches square, and is of solid vari-colored agate showing the shape of the tree and the grain of the wood perfectly. Our sincere thanks are hereby extended to brother Bill."

1926-04-15 - "BILL ROSE WRITES - Our old friend Bill Rose of Argentine who, it will be remembered, made an automobile trip to California last summer and sent us a good size section of a tree from the petrified forest, as one of the incidents of the journey, has returned to his home in Michigan after spending the winter in the west. As Bill and his estimable wife, who made the trip with him, have many friends and acquaintances in this section, we are printing below a portion of the letter he sent us on his arrival in Michigan: Argentine, April 6, 1926 - Dear Friends: Well, here we are back in dear old Michigan, after an absence of over six months and we're glad to get back in what I call God's country. We had a wonderful trip and saw a lot of California but there's no place like dear old Michigan, with all her faults. When we left Burbank we drove over the Pacific Highway to Portland, Oregon, and then over the Columbia Highway to Boise, Idaho. Here we left my son, Max, and came the rest of the way by rail. I am sending P.O. order to renew The Clio Messenger. With kindest regards, William Rose."

1926-06-24 - "Bill Rose of Argentine called on Clio friends, Tuesday, and was an honored guest of the Rotary Club at luncheon."

From a newspaper obituary January, 1952. "William Leonard Rose, 90, passed away January 5 at the home of his son, William Rose, Gaines, following a lingering illness. Funeral services were held from the Bowles Funeral Home, Linden, Tuesday, with Burial in Glenwood (Glendale), California. Mr. Rose was born in Royal Oak April 1861, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ransom K. Rose. He moved with his parents to Genesee County at the age of five (this may be in error as the actual move to Vienna Twp., was in 1869 when Will would have been 8) and moved to Argentine in 1916. He was married to Jane Holister at Davisburg in 1888. She passed away in 1926. He married Effadell Haptgood in 1929. He was a life member of Linden Lodge No. 132, F&AM. Surviving are the widow, two sons, Claude Rose of Grant's Pass, Oregon, and William Rose, Gaines; two sisters, Mrs. Salia Service (Rosalia Rose, husband Lafayette Servos) of Clio and Mrs. Grace Wright (Grace R. Rose) of Detroit; four grandchildren and six great-grand-children. Mr and Mrs. William Rose accompanied the body to California. "

1927-08-04WM. ROSE OF CALIFORNIA BACK IN ARGENTINE - The Messenger received a pleasant visit, Monday, from William Rose, a former well known resident of this locality, who later resided at Argentine, and who, for the past year and a half has lived in Burbank, California. Mr. Rose still owns considerable property on Argentine Lake and is back in Michigan for a limited time for the purpose of disposing of it if possible, as he plans making his home permanently in California. Mr. Rose has been a splendid citizen all of his life, "square as a die" in every attribute of manhood and his many friends will be sorry to learn that he is going to leave Michigan. They will also sympathize with him most deeply in his bereavement through the death of his beloved companion of more than forty years. In coming back to Michigan in May, Mr. Rose passed through the flooded section of Mississippi and for hundreds of miles saw nothing but water covered land, with occasionally a house top above it, and with natives in boats going about and towing the carcasses of dead animals to high ground for burial.

1927-10-06 - "William Rose of Argentine, called at the Messenger office Monday. He expects to start for California about Oct. 20th."

1928-03-28 - "William Rose of Argentine, was in Clio this week, shaking hands with his old friends, and they were sure glad to see him. He came from California two weeks ago, coming via the Panama Canal, stopping at Havana, Cuba. He says it was a wonderful trip."

BILL ROSE TELLS OF PANAMA TRIP – CIRCLES FROM CALIFORNIA TO OLD HOME NEAR LAKE ARGENTINE

Everyone in this vicinity knows, (and everyone who knows) loves Bill Rose of Argentine. His family were among the first settlers in this district and he himself, his excellent wife and family, made their home in these parts for years. Latterly he has resided near his sons in Burbank, Calif., but comes back to Michigan annually to look after his fine estate on the shores of Argentine Lake. We have said that he has resided latterly in California, but this is only a half truth, because as a matter of fact he has spent a good share of his time traveling over the continent, seeing the sights, and trying to locate the most beautiful place to live in. In this charming quest Bill has had almost as many strange experiences as Trader Horn and it is certainly interesting to hear him recount them. On his last visit to Clio he told the writer of a trip which he had recently taken down the California coast, through the Panama Canal, across to the ancient city of Havana, then to Key West, Fla. And thence by rail to his old home in Michigan. The story was to us so interesting that we requested Bill to send us something like it for publication in the newspaper. He obligingly consented and we are presenting the story in his own words a la Trader Horn, to the readers of the Messenger who, we are sure, will thoroughly enjoy reading it. By the way, Mr. Rose sent us one of the cocoanuts which he refers to in his letter and which we have added to our collection. Follows the story:

Argentine, May 15, 1928 Editor Messenger:

Dear Friend:

Thought I wouldn't wait until I came home to Clio to tell you the story so will mail you the pamphlets describing the countries and cities we visited and also the cocoanut that I spoke to you about. Then you can write your own story just as well as though I were there to bother you. To give you the outline, we left the Frisco docks Feb. 28, and the ship ran along the coast of Lower California, in sight of land, for quite a long way, and then no land at all. We reached the coast of Nicaragua and landed at Balboa, at the west end of the Panama Canal, on Feb. 28. It took us one day to go through the canal, and a most marvelous experience it was. I cannot begin to describe the beauty of the scenery and the massive character of the great locks which accommodate the largest vessels afloat. It was just like one beautiful long dream to me. After getting through the canal we remained one day in Panama to see the sights, a party of six of us employing a guide and automobile and riding all day. The cocoanut I am sending you was picked at the ruins of the ancient city of Panama, sacked and burned by the famous, or rather infamous, pirate Morgan, early in the 16th century. We left Panama Feb. 30, with a four days' run to Havana, Cuba, ahead of us, where the same bunch again hired an auto and guide for one day, paying therefore four dollars each, and saw some of the interesting things in Cuba. Havana, it will be remembered, is one of the oldest cities on the American continent and holds within its confines the ashes of Columbus, its discoverer. One of the sights in Havana, which appealed to us particularly, was the monument to the American sailors who lost their lives when the U.S. warship "Maine" was blown up in Havana harbor at the outbreak of the Spanish-American War. We took a steamer from Havana to Key West, Fla., where we spent a couple of delightful days, and then a six hours railroad trip took us to Miami, where we spent two days more, and from there to Bee Ridge, where we visited our dear old friends, Dr. and Mrs. Ingram. We spent two days most delightfully with them and the came on home by way of Jacksonville, Atlanta, Chattanooga, Cincinnati and Detroit. And – I was sure glad to get back to dear old Argentine.

Sincerely yours,
William Rose.

April 21, 1927 - "Rose - The many friends of the family residing in this vicinity will be pained to learn of the death of Mrs. William Rose, which occurred at her home in Burbank, California, on April 6, 1927. She had been in failing health for a year or more, having been afflicted with cancer and anemia. She was born in Davisburg, Oakland county, Michigan, August 1, 1861, the daughter of Edward and Mary Ann Hollister, and on September 6, 1888, was united in marriage to William Rose of Clio, to whom she had been a loving, helpful and dutiful companion for all of the ensuing years. No words of ours can be eloquent enough to pay adequate tribute to the devotion and to the matchless services of the splendid wife and mother who is gone. No words of ours can portray the tenderness in which her memory will be cherished by her neighbors and friends. Suffice it to say that the bereavement which all of these must feel there will creep the constant and deeply comforting influence of the memory of her pure and loyal life. This is one of the beneficial phases of immortality. Mr. and Mrs. Rose were the parents of four children, Emmon and Hazel, who died in infancy, and Claud T. Rose and William M. Rose both of whom reside in Burbank. She is also survived by her husband, an old resident of this place, to whom the sympathy of the people of this vicinity will go out in fullest measure. Funeral services were held at the late home of the deceased in Burbank and her remains were interred in the cemetery at that place, it being her wish that she might rest near the homes of her children."

A front page story in the Clio Messenger, December 8, 1911 - "KICKED IN THE HEAD; SKULL IS FRACTURED. ED. BURLEY MET WITH PAINFUL ACCIDENT - At Elevator Barn Yesterday Noon. Went to Hitch Up Team. Found With Wound in Head and Horse Standing on Him. No Witness To Accident. Recovery Expected. - Ed Burley one of the teamsters at P.M. Houghton and Co.'s elevator, met with a painful and serious accident yesterday noon that might have proven fatal had he not been discovered in time. Mr. Burley went to the elevator barn after dinner to hitch up a team and hadn't been gone from the office more than five minutes before word came that he had been kicked by one of the horses. Attention was directed to the barn by the kicking of the horses and when others appeared on the scene one of the horses had Mr. Burley under its feet. The unfortunate man was taken from his perilous position in a semiconscious condition, and a physician was immediately summoned. On examination it was found that he had received a fracture of the skull, the which, while serious, is not such as to cause alarm, for his recovery is confidently expected in the course of time. As there were no other persons in the stable with Mr. Burley at the time of the accident the cause and details are more or less supposition. It is thought that one of the horses kicked the unfortunate man in the head and that he fell under them. After receiving proper attendance from the physician Mr. Burley was taken to his home where at last reports he was resting as easily as could be expected under the circumstances. According to reports, his was a most miraculous escape."

From the Royal Oak Tribune December 15, 1911. "Richard Rose received word from Clio Monday that his brother in law, Edward Barley (Burley) had been kicked in the head by one of his horses and his skull fractured. He was found in the stall unconscious and the horse standing on him. The doctor thinks he will recover."

October 26, 1922 - "FIRE DESTROYS BURLEY RESIDENCE - A very destructive fire, and one attended with unusually regrettable circumstances, took place at about 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Burley was burned to the ground. The house was one of the best in town, but aside from the matter of loss, an even sadder circumstance was that Mr. Burley, who had been seriously ill for a number of weeks, had to be carried from his burning home to the home of a neighbor where he was cared for temporarily. The fire was discovered by Mrs. George Hathley who, at the time, was on her way down town. As nearly as can be judged, the fire originated from a spark which came from a chimney and found lodgement in the roof, burning its way through and setting a second story room on fire. This seems to have been the case, because when the stairway door was opened, immediately after the discovery of the fire, one of the upper rooms was found to be completely in flames. The fire department responded promptly, but the fire had gained such headway that the chemical outfit was wholly inadequate to control it and for some reason water was not immediately available. Several children and neighbors did valiant service in saving the household effects on the first floor, but all of the goods on the second story, including most of Mr. and Mrs. Burley's clothing and nearly all of the bedding in the house, was destroyed. Claude Rose, who had been making his home in the Burley household for a number of months and whose room was on the second floor, lost all of his clothing and personal effects, including mementoes of his trips to various parts of the country, none of which, as a matter of course, can be replaced. The loss on the house and contents, over and above the insurance of $4,500, which we understand was carried, must be considerable. Mr. and Mrs. Burley have taken up their residence in the Crawford home, not far distant from their former one, and we are glad to state that both of them take the disaster with heroic courage and that Mr. Burley's condition does not appear to have been rendered worse than formerly. We are but voicing the sentiment of the community when we say that everyone sympathizes most deeply with Mr. and Mrs. Burley in their trouble and loss."

November 7, 1922 - "The editor called on Ed. Burley, Sunday, and was pleased to find him considerably better than for a number of weeks, being able to sit up in a chair. Ed's many friends will hear of the improvement in his health with sincere pleasure."

When the blizzard was at its height he was caught in a sparsely settled district and as his team was unable to get through the huge drifts he was obliged to find shelter in an abandoned house. Here he found an old stove in which he managed to build a fire and stabled his team in a nearby shed, remaining in the house for about twenty-four hours. His face was frozen by exposure until it bled before he reached the house and his toes were frozen. When the storm subsided he was able to get to a place where he secured food for himself and team and later reached his destination. That a person could have such an experience in this section of Michigan seems more than remarkable."

In the early 1960's, after the death of her husband, Bessie went to live with her nephew, William McKinley Rose. As reported by John William Rose, "Aunt Bessie was a wonderful person. She was a grandma to me and I have great memories of her and her great home-made rolls. Bessie died on a Sunday afternoon. She hadn't been feeling well that day and after dinner when we went out to the garden she sat in her rocking chair and rested. When we came in from the garden we found she had passed. This was in Gaines, MI on grandpa's farm."

Wright, who requires no introduction to the farmers of this section, having enjoyed their confidence and patronage in another line of business for years. Mr. Wright helped to build the condensary and installed all of the apparatus. He has been, virtually, superintendent of the manufacturing for some time, so that we have every reason to believe he will conduct the plant successfully and that all its patrons will be given square and liberal treatment on all their transactions. As we have stated before, the mild receipts and business of the factory are showing a constant and satisfactory growth."

One of these houses Mr. Carter intended to occupy himself, and as a consequence of the city's action he was compelled to rent a house until such time as he can build another. "

December 24, 1915 - "L. A. Wright and family, of Highland Park, spent Christmas with relatives and friends in this vicinity. Mr. Wright returned to his home, Monday, but the other members of the family will remain until after New Years."

From the History of Michigan by Charles Moore, 1915.

"Lester A. Wright. Though still in his twenties, Mr. Wright has shown the qualities of a progressive and successful man of business, and is one of the ablest merchants of Clio. He is a lumber dealer and manufacturer in that locality, and if past performances are a criterion by which to judge the future, Mr. Wright has a career of splendid accomplishments before him. He was born in Saginaw county in Birch Run Township, December 12, 1877, a son of George W. and Cecelia (sic) (Weeks) Wright. The ancestors on the paternal side are English, though the paternal grandmother was Scotch. The Weeks family were likewise of English origin, and among the early settlers of Michigan, while the Wrights first settled in New York. George W.

Wright was born in New York, and in 1863, when twelve years old, the family settled as pioneers in Birch Run Township of Saginaw county. George W. Wright is still living, and is a very successful man. In politics he is Republican, and has membership in the Methodist church. Cecelia Weeks was born in Michigan, in Genesee county, and her father was one of the pioneers of this section, a hunter and trapper in the early days, and later a substantial farmer. He is also still living, and of her six children, five are alive, as follows: Myrtie Wright, deceased; Lester A.; Arthur C. Wright, who is a farmer in Birch Run Township; Clara, wife of Irvin Covert, of Clio; and Hattie, wife of George Zeuligg, a farmer of Birch Run township.

Lester A. Wright grew up on a farm, had a country school education and finished with the Lamar village schools. At the age of eighteen he left school and took up the active work of a career and continued at farming until he was twenty-two. Learning the carpenter's trade, he followed that vocation as a journeyman, and gradually got into contracting, which was his exclusive work up to 1909. He then established the L.A. Wright Lumber Company at Clio, his associate in the enterprise being Ernest May. This firm also conducts another lumber yard at Mount Morris and outside the city of Flint they do the largest lumber business in Genesee county. Mr. Wright has membership in the Michigan Retail Lumber Dealers' Association. He is still actively identified with building and contracting business, and his record in that line included a large number of important structures in Genesee county. In the spring of 1912 Mr. Wright entered the manufacturing field when he took the general management of the Clio Manufacturing Company, a new industry, the output of which is tables. The factory employs about eighteen workmen and the business is getting well established and promises to be a very important local institution in the village of Clio. Mr. Wright is a Republican, but little part in politics except as a worker for good government and the best interests of his home community. He has served as councilman for several terms and is now president of the Clio Board of Trade. His church is the Methodist. On October 12, 1899, he was married in Vienna, Genesee county, to Miss Grace R. Rose who was born in Michigan, a daughter of Ransom K. Rose, one of the early settlers in Genesee county. They have two children, Gladys, born November 1, 1900, at Birch Run; and Harold R. Wright, born November 14, 1909, at Saginaw."

This company is headed by L. A. Wright who at one time ran the lumber yard here."

Two booklets giving historical accounts, Railroad Nostalgia and Down Memory Lane, report "On the east side of the tracks, and at the north end of Railway Street, L.A. Wright manufactured sash and doors, and in partnership with Ernest May, established the May Lumber Company. The company built about 30 homes and the Thetford Church. A disastrous fire destroyed the business in 1914". Newspaper accounts also show Lester in the Hard Coal business as well as the founder of the Clio Condensary. In 1913, at a cost of $40,000 a factory was erected adjacent to the railroad, west of the tracks and on the south side of Johnson Street. The promoters planned to buy milk from farmers and process it into powdered milk. It soon became evident that more water was needed than their well could produce. More bad luck followed because of two disabling fires. After the construction of an expensive pipe line and pumping station for obtaining water from the Pine Run Creek, the company was sold to the Detroit Creamery Co. in 1915.

The following are articles from the Royal Oak Tribune:

July 30, 1915 - "L.A. Wright, of Clio is the guest of his brother-in-law, R.H. Rose. Mr. Wright was formerly interested in the milk condensery at Clio, but a few days ago the plant was entirely consumed by fire. He is thinking of locating in this village and engaging in a general contracting business, which was his business before becoming connected with the milk condensery."

June 11, 1909 - "LIFE IN BALANCE. John R. Hall Struck by Big Auto While Alighting From a Street Car in Boise City, Idaho. News has been received that the first serious auto accident in that place occurred at 11 o'clock one night last week, when John R. Hall, a former well known resident of Troy, was run down and badly if not fatally injured. Jack McDaniels, the chauffeur, claims that Hall swung from the car while in motion (which is denied) and he had no idea that any one was about to leave it. He applied the emergency brake instantly, and though the clutch held it was too late to keep from striking the victim with terrific force. Hall's wife was notified and when the ambulance arrived the brave little woman accompanied her injured husband to St. Luke's hospital and assisted the doctors and nurses in caring for him. His injuries consist of a dislocated left shoulder, a compound fracture of the right thigh, a fracture of the lower right leg, a deep cut in the left arm at the elbow, and severe cuts and contusions on the head and face. The attending physicians announce that Mr. Hall may recover."

Before her marriage, Mrs. Parmenter was a successful teacher of music and was a popular reader. Her mother, Mrs. Hall, was for years a valued member of the Baptist Church. The Parmenters have been active members of that church for a long time. Lottie and Percival had three daughters and one son, Walter. Charlotte was the Director of the Baptist Children's Home at 13

Mile Road and Greenfield. Their son, Walter H. Parmenter, was adopted from this home when he was 12 years old. Mrs. Parmenter was on the subscription committee of the Baptist Church for the 1916 remodeling fund drive. Charlotte and her husband Percy held numerous positions in the church from around 1912 to their deaths.

Charlotte was an active member of the temperance movement. The following is an excerpt from the Birmingham Eccentric, October 7, 1910.

"The Woman's Christian Temperance Union held their regular monthly meeting Friday afternoon, Sept. 30, at the home of Mrs. Brace on Center street. About 20 ladies were present. Mrs. Percy Parmenter was elected reporting delegate to the county convention which is to be held early in November."

From the Birmingham Eccentric as dated.

November 7, 1911. "Many people attended the W.C.T.U. country convention held in Pontiac last week Tuesday. Mrs Parmenter gave the address of the opening meeting and it was followed by a very interesting discussion. Her subject was, "Does office work tend to make girls careless of their morals." Her paper was based on personal observance and was very interesting."

May 2, 1924. "The last meeting of the Woman's Literary Club for the current club year took the form of a potluck luncheon Tuesday afternoon at "High Breeze", the home of Mrs. P.W. Parmenter on Crookes road."

April 31, 1925. "Members of the Woman's Literary Club will hold their final session of the current year next Tuesday afternoon at "High Breeze", the home of Mrs. P.W. Parmenter on Crooks road, where the newly elected officers will be installed."

Percival Willoughby PARMENTER⁸⁷⁹ [531], son of William PARMENTER (-) [1006] and Mary Martha ? (-) [1007], was born on 25 Nov 1872 in Toronto, Ontario, Canada. He was in Florist. He lived. He had a medical condition of Died at his residence at 4925 Crooks Road, Troy, MI after a lingering illness. His height was 6 ft. 5 in. He died on 19 Nov 1945 in Troy.⁸⁸⁹ He was buried on 21 Nov 1945 in Greenwood Cemetery. He experienced Funeral Services on 21 Nov 1945 in Bell Funeral Home. Rev. M.W. Grump and Rev. Peter M. Mackay of the First Baptist Church officiated.

From the Birmingham Eccentric, dates as listed.

March 3, 1903, front page article. "The farm residence of Percy Parmenter was consumed by fire Monday afternoon. Mr. Parmenter was in town when he heard of it and hastened home to find everything all in. The fire is supposed to have caught from a stove in a front room and was well underway when discovered. About 25 neighbors hustled out everything possible. The contents of the cellar and upper floors were lost; building fully insured in the Monitor."

August 7, 1908, front page article condensed. "HEAVY FIRE LOSS - Percy Parmenter Again Scourged by the Destroying Elements - Barns and Crops Are All Gone. Fire completely consumed the barns and outbuildings, with all their contents on the Percy Parmenter farm, three miles south and east of this village Saturday evening. Although the cause of the fire is not known, it is the opinion of Mr. Parmenter and family that it was due entirely to spontaneous combustion. The new hay had been piled in the mows and the buildings then closed. It is figured that the gases in the hay had no way to escape from the closed buildings. The quantities of gas must have been immense, as the family claims that from the time the fire was first noticed, it was not three minutes until all three buildings, where the hay was stored, were bursting in flames. The Parmenter farm, which is one of the most prosperous farms in Troy, was visited by fire less than three years ago. At that time the house was consumed but has since been rebuilt. Mr. Parmenter estimates his loss at not less than $10,000, with an insurance of $2,200."

October 13, 1916. "P.W. Parmenter, chairman of the County Dry Commission, is a very busy man nowadays. His duties are manifold but he fills the bill. Last week, he met with the Milfordites at the residence of Clarence Pearson and a club was organized for an aggressive campaign for the dry movement."

Percival and Lottie lived at 307 Brown St., located at the SE corner of W. Brown and Pierce in Birmingham. The move to this home was reported in the November 21, 1919 issue of the Birmingham Eccentric. In later years, Percy and Lottie moved to 4935 Crooks Road, just north of 14 Mile Road on the west side of Crooks. Percival went to Toronto Business College in 1895. He was a member of the First Baptist Church and a member of the F. & A. M. No. 94. Percival owned the "Parmenter Florist" located at 159 West Maple, Birmingham, MI in partnership with his son, Walter H. Parmenter. (See "More About" Walter Parmenter). Mr. Parmenter was Treasurer of the First Baptist Church in 1925 and was on the construction committee in 1916

Obituary of A. Ward Bailey in a February 1924 Tioga County newspaper.

BAILEY, A. WARD (SRGP 08349)

Mansfield and vicinity was shocked and grieved Monday when the news spread of the death of Ward Bailey, Carrier on Route Number Two our of Mansfield. Mr. Bailey had been suffering from the effects of a severe cold, but continued to make his rounds in his usual efficient manner. However, on one of the trips he became so ill that he could not complete his rounds and another carrier finished for him. Mr. Bailey grew rapidly worse, pneumonia developing and Monday morning about three o'clock he passed away. A. Ward Bailey was the son of Wesley and Fanny Gertrude Hoard Bailey, and was born in Charleston on February 16, 1864. His boyhood days were passed in Charleston where he attended the schools and later finished in the Mansfield Business college. He was married three times, his first wife being Mollie Urell; the second being Grace Sweet, both of whom are deceased. His third marriage was to Mrs. Ethel Strickler, who survives him, together with two sons by the second marriage, Llewellyn and Raymond Bailey, of Mansfield; four by the third marriage, Frances, Jeanette, Josephine and Donald, one step-son, Marvin Love, a step-daughter, Pretha Love; a brother, Dwight A. Bailey, of Mansfield, and a sister, Mrs Sarah Josephine Grenolds of Buffalo. Mr. Bailey had been a mail carrier for about fourteen years. and being a man of jolly and congenial nature he had made many friends, not only along the route he served, but among those whom he met in the course of daily life. The sympathy of all these is extended to the bereaved family. He was a member of the Mansfield Grange and the Rural Carriers' Association; also of the Mansfield Methodist Episcopal church. The funeral will be held today (Wednesday) from his late home, at three o'clock, the Reverend F.P. Simmons officiating. Interment will be in Prospect Cemetery.

From the Wellsboro Agitator, September 9, 1891.

"He Forgot the Marriage License. The marriage of Mr. H. Frank Brown, of Corning, and Miss Grace A. Langdon, of Mansfield, was announced to take place at the bride's home last Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. The guests were all assembled, the wedding feast was spread, and the bride and groom had donned their wedding garments when Rev. David Keppel, the leader of the ceremonies, asked for the marriage license. The groom admitted that he had forgotten all about that little business matter and then there was consternation all around.

The clergyman offered to help them out of the difficulty by going with the couple on the train to Lawrenceville and performing the ceremony in New York State. But the bride's parents preferred to have their daughter married at home, and they objected to anything which would look like dodging the law.

The groom therefore secured a livery rig and came to the county seat after the license and the grass didn't grow under his feet either. It is presumed that he was not in as good humor as a man ought to be on his wedding day. The ceremony was performed immediately upon Mr. Brown's return to Mansfield, and after being duly united according to law the couple left for their new home at Corning."

He is a graduate of St. Johns Military School at Manilus, N.Y."

From the Wellsboro Agitator.

July 4, 1906 - "Last Friday Major Glenn, officer in command, at Fort Thomas, Kentucky, appointed Lieutenant Benjamin Mart Bailey, formerly of Mansfield, and well known here, as one of the officers to aid in the inspection of the 750 cadets at the Ohio State university and to act as judge."

Lieut. Bailey, successfully made the "marksman" and "sharp shooter" classes and was awarded a medal for so qualifying. He took first place in his battalion. August 7, 1907 - "The following from the Louisville, Ky, Courier-Journal will be of interest to the numerous friends here of Lieut. B.M. Bailey, formerly of Mansfield: "So far as is known, there is only one precedent in the history of the United States army for the action of Second Lieut. Benjamin Mart Bailey, Fourth Infantry, now stationed at Ft. Thomas, Kentucky, in refusing a promotion to a first lieutenancy in the Coast artillery, although it will be four years or more before he will receive a promotion in the infantry. Lieut. Bailey preferred this branch of the service. He gives as his reason for declining; 'In view of possible hostilities in the East I prefer to be in the service at the seat of action He expects to sail with his regiment for the Philippines in March next."

During WWI Lieutenant-Colonel Benjamin Mart Bailey wrote a letter to his wife in Atlanta. describing the experience of being shelled by Hun batteries and the impressions incident to shelling the Germans in return. The letter was described as one of the brightest spotlights on actual war sensations yet received. It was originally published in the Atlanta Constitution July 14, 1918. A portion of the letter was then reprinted in the Wellsboro Gazette, July 31. 1918.

Subsequently to the shelling of the Germans, a Colonel commanding an infantry Division, French Army, called headquarters to say that B.M. Bailey's work was extremely gratifying. He went on to say that Major Bailey showed excellent judgement when communication with the infantry he was supporting had been cut, in putting down barrages where his own estimate of the situation showed they were needed. He further stated that the work of the batteries was technically of a high order. Since the letter was written, he was promoted to Lieutenant Colonel and assigned to the 316th Field Artillery.

From the Wellsboro Agitator, January 14, 1920.

"Colonel Benjamin M. Bailey (formerly of Mansfield and well known in Wellsboro, where he has many friends), of the Atlanta Army recruiting station, is wearing two silver stars as a result of a recent general order from Washington in which he was twice cited for gallantry, once at Toulon-Thoyon and once at Chateau-Thierry, while commanding the Fifteenth Field Artillery, Second Division. From the Wellsboro Agitator, November 24, 1926.

"The Atlanta Georgian says "Delightful among visitors here are the Benjamin Mart Baileys, who have come back from Major Bailey's most recent detail at Governor's Island, New York, to spend several weeks with Rosalie Davis (Mrs. Bailey's parents, the Charles A. Davises, on Peachtree street. A gratifying semblance of duration is given the visit by the placing of their young son in school here. One was impressed by the very genuine and generous compliment which 'Mart Bailey bestowed upon his lovely wife, the former belle in Atlanta society. It was to the effect that Rosalie Davis charming address and sincerity of manner were an asset to any man in whatever walk of life. Major Bailey, on the staff of General Summerall, detailed recently to Washington, is making his first visit among us for six years past. Although Rosalie has been with us meanwhile, both Major and Mrs. Bailey are receiving the most cordial welcome from their many friends. " Major Bailey was detailed to represent Major General Summerall, Chief of Staff of the U.S. Army, at a luncheon and reception given Queen Marie, and the following letter, written by Queen Marie, was placed in the hands of Major Bailey, to be sent to Governor Walker at Atlanta. "Georgia. The county of wonderful pines and commerce. To which we owe so much all over the world. Who has not heard of that beautiful name, Atlanta. The wonders of the new world in America as created by man, appear before our minds' eye when we think of Georgia. I am enthusiastic to know you and to tell you how I love you for what you have done in your tremendous achievements toward winning the victory to bring peace to the world."

We believe that "Queen Marie" referred to above was Queen Marie of Romania. There is a photo album featuring photographs of Queen Marie and her family from 1904 online at:

Charles A. SMITH⁴⁵² [6611], son of George SMITH (-) [6623] and Abbie J. HORTON (-) [6625], was born in Oct 1861 in Howells, Orange Co., NY.^{1012 1013} He married ? ? Bef 1922.¹⁰¹⁴

From Portrait and Biographical Record of Orange County, New York, 1895.

"CHARLES H. SMITH, of Middletown, is a successful architect and civil engineer, and at present is serving in the latter capacity, the duties of which office he has discharged in a manner eminently satisfactory to the people. His office is located in the Trust Building, at No. 75 North Street, and his time is busily occupied in the management of his extensive business and professional interests.

The first representative of this branch of the Smith family in Orange County was our Subject's grandfather, Melancton, a native of New York, and a farmer in Chenango County, whence he removed to the town of Wallkill. When advanced in years he came to Middletown and settled at No. 12 William Street, where he lived retired until his death, at the age of seventy-five. Our subject's father, George, was born in Oxford, Chenango County, but was reared in Orange County. Early in life he entered the employ of the Erie Road, and after a time became Roadmaster of the Eastern Division of the Erie. In 1887 he accepted a position as Roadmaster for the New York, Susquehanna & Western Railroad, which position he still holds, with headquarters at Middletown. His wife, Abbie J. Horton, was born in the town of Wallkill, and was the daughter of A. J. Horton, who for many years served as station agent and Postmaster at Howells.

The family of George and Abbie J. Smith consisted of seven children, of whom all but one are living. Charles H., who is next to the eldest, was born in Howells, this county, in 1861, and was reared principally in Paterson, N. J., where he resided from the age of six to sixteen. From that place he came to Middletown, where he has since resided. After graduating from Wallkill Academy, at the age of nineteen, he took up civil engineering, and spent two years in practical work under Chief Engineer O. Channte, of the Erie Road. He then entered Lehigh University, and for two years was a student in the department of civil-engineering. Later he was Assistant Engineer between Ridgewood and Rutherford, N. J., after which he was promoted to the position of Division Engineer on the Erie, his headquarters being at Elmira for two years. He was then transferred to a similar position on the Western Division, with headquarters at Homellsville, his territory being between that city and Dunkirk, also the Bradford (Pa.) Branch. In that capacity he was employed for two and one half years.

At Homellsville, N. Y., in 1800, Mr. Smith married Miss Minnie A Hollands, whose father, George Hollands, was a prominent business man of that place and at one time Sheriff of Steuben County. In 1890 Mr. Smith was appointed Assistant Chief Engineer of the New York, Ontario & Western Railway, with headquarters at Middletown. For three years he held that position, being under E. Canfield, Chief Engineer, and having charge of the division extending from Oswego to New York City, with all the branches. In 1893 he resigned in order to give his attention wholly to civil-engineering, and in the spring of the following year he opened an office in Middletown. About the same time he was appointed City Engineer by the Council, in which capacity he has since served.

A number of new streets in this city have been opened by Mr. Smith. He is Chief Engineer of the Middletown & Goshen Traction Company, of which he was one of the organizers, and in which he is a stockholder and Director. He laid out the Central Park Addition to the city, comprising six hundred acres, also the R. N. Boak tract of forty acres, Columbia Park, Richmond Hill and other portions of the city that are fast growing in popularity. He had the contract for the engineering of water works at various towns in the county, and is now making surveys, and is Chief Engineer, for the Middletown & Bloomingburg Electric Street Railroad, being one of the organizers and Directors of that company. Recently he completed an elegant residence for his family at No. 129 South Street, and in addition to this property he owns nine acres of land in the southern part of the city.

It has been Mr. Smith's custom to attend the annual meetings of the American Society of Civil Engineers, of which he is a member. He is connected with the Middletown Club, the Board of Trade, and is an honorary member of the Excel Hook and Ladder Company. In religious belief he is associated with the Second Presbyterian Church of Middletown. He is an enterprising business man, and employs four assistants in his office"

From A Standard History of Kansas and Kansans by William L. Connelley, 1918.

"Ray L. Bailey is one of the widely known men of Shawnee County, and is now successfully farming a fine place four miles north of North Topeka. He makes farming a real business, understands it in all details, and gives it the same energy and close attention which he formerly paid to his work as a traveling salesman. He was on the road for a number of years, and his firm sent him on a number of missions to Old Mexico. On account of his travel and extensive acquaintance in that southern republic he is well informed as to Mexican internal affairs.

Mr. Bailey was born in Mansfield, Tioga County, Pennsylvania, August 24, 1868, but has been a resident of Kansas since his parents brought him to this state in October, 1872.

M.D. Bailey, his father, has long been a prominent man in Kansas. On coming to the state in 1872 he and his family settled in Pawnee County. He was also a native of Tioga County, Pennsylvania and the Bailey family were among the pioneers in that district. The father of M.D. Bailey was Benjamin F. Bailey, who was born in Pennsylvania and in early territorial days, before the Civil war, came out to Leavenworth, Kansas, and opened a store. Mr. A Meyers, who is now living in Meyers Valley, in Pottawatomie County, is one of men who recalls Benjamin Bailey as a Leavenworth merchant in 1855. Benjamin Bailey finally returned to Pennsylvania, having remained in Kansas only a few years.

M. D. Bailey, after coming to Kansas, was employed in the United States Land Department and subsequently for four years was county superintendent of public instruction. Before coming to Kansas he had served as a Union soldier four years. At the outbreak of the war he joined Company A of the Eleventh Pennsylvania Cavalry, and most of his service was in the Army of the Potomac. It was his rare privilege, while stationed in the vicinity of Hampton Roads, to witness the epoch-making naval battle between the Confederate ironclad Merrimac and the marvelous invention of Ericson, the gunboat Monitor. On account of his previous service as a soldier, M.D. Bailey, when he took up a claim in Edwards County, Kansas, had to live on it only a year to perfect his title. For many years he filled a place in the pension department, and is now in the National Hospital.

Emery Bailey, a son of M.D Bailey, was a member of the famous Twentieth Kansas Regiment, organized by Col. Fred Funston at the outbreak of the Spanish-American War. General Funston at the time of his death was chief commander of the American forces on the Mexican border. Emory Bailey served with the Twentieth Regiment in all it gallant part in the Phillipine war and returned to this country with his regiment.

From the Wellsboro Agitator.

July 11, 1900 - "Maimed on the Fourth. Rain marred the largely -attended celebration of the Fourth at Blossburg, but a much more serious drawback than that made itself felt before the festivity was over. Mr. Harry B. Kingsley, a young man from Mansfield, well known in this borough, had his right hand mangled terribly in the evening, while in front of Smith & Landon's jewelry store, engaged, with friends, in firing giant firecrackers.

The cracker which did the fearful work had been lighted twice, but failed to explode, and when picked up by Mr. Kingsley and lighted the third time, there were only two inches of the fuse left. He lighted the fuse and was about to throw the cracker in the roadway, when he saw a horse and buggy approaching, and as he hesitated considerably [sic], the great cracker exploded in his hand. The first and second fingers were torn off bodily and the thumb and fourth finger were lacerated terribly.

Mr. Kingsley was removed immediately to the Cottage Hospital where his injury was treated and he was made as comfortable as possible. He has just finished his second year as a student in the Philadelphia Dental College, and it would seem that his injury would prevent his following his chosen profession.

The large plate glass window of the jewelry store, near which Mr. Kingsley stood when his terrible misfortune befell him, was demolished entirely by the concussive force of the explosion."

July 10, 1912 - "The New Era flouring mill on North Main Street was sold on Monday to the Equity Society, of Wellsboro, by C.S. Kingsley & Co. Possession will be given on Monday next. Harry B. Kingsley, for several years past manager of the mill, will remain with the new owners a few weeks."

From the Wellsboro Agitator.

November 3, 1920 - "Miss Julia Strange, daughter of Mrs. Marietta Strange, was married Oct. 17, to Harry Kingsley. They were unattended and the only guests were her mother and Mrs. Joseph H. Bond. Rev. Mr. Bond performed the ceremony. They have both always resided in Mansfield. Mr. Kingsley is proprietor of the New Era Feed Mills. Mrs. Kingsley is a trained nurse. They left Oct 18 by motor car for a wedding trip and after their return will make their home in Mansfield. They have the best wishes of a host of friends."

[Prospect Cemetery records report that Harry was born in 1874. It also reports that Julia was born in 1883 which is a significant difference from what is shown in the 1930 census. However, the Prospect Cemetery records are most likely correct concerning Julia Strange's birth date (1883). The 1920 PA, Tioga, Mansfield census shows Julia, still living with her mother, at age 34. So, most likely, the 1930 census is in error.]

November 14, 1924 - "James Crichton, aged 42 years, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. R.A. Lorenz, at Linwood, Pa., on Sunday Nov. 9, following months of intense suffering, heroically borne.

Mr. Crichton was born in Antrim in 1882, son of Robert and Agnes Crichton. His boyhood was spent in Wellsboro, where he attended school and graduated in the class of 1902, and later at Phillips Academy, Andover. For several years prior to the world war, Mr. Crichton was successfully engaged in business in the west. In 1917 he enlisted in the American Expeditionary Forces and served one year in France. The hardships he endured at that time served to undermine his reserve strength which was needed to combat the illness that later attacked him.

On October 12, 1923, he was united in marriage to Miss Edith Bailey, daughter of the late L.L. Bailey. They resided in Wellsboro as members of the household of Mrs. Carrie Bailey, until Mr. Crichton's physical condition made his removal to Philadelphia imperative.

The deceased is survived by his widow and four sisters and one brother -- Mrs. F.S. Austin, of Corry, Pa.; Mrs. A.E. Wetmore, of Glenside, Pa.; Mrs. F.H. Foster, of Springfield, Mass.; Mrs. R.A. Lorenz, of Linwood, Pa.; and T.A. Crichton, Esq., Cashier in the State Treasury Department at Harrisburg, who maintains his law office and residence in Wellsboro.

The remains were brought to Wellsboro on Tuesday morning. Funeral services will be held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. T.A. Crichton on Pearl street this afternoon at two o'clock, the Rev. O.G. Cocks, officiating.

Information from a posting by Faith Ferguson, a granddaughter of Morton Masius

"Morton stayed in Germany, married a German woman, Paula Marie Wagner (my grandmother), from a wealthy family in Leipzig-Gohlis. He studied chemistry at the University of Leipzig, earning his Ph.D. in Chemistry in @1907. Paula also was a Ph.D. student in Chemistry, the first woman in that department at the university. After a two year Fellowship in the U.S. at Harvard, Morton went back to Germany. He and Paula married in 1910, and came to the U.S. where Morton took a position as Professor of Physics at Worcester Polytechnic in Worcester MA. My mother Vera Mildred Masius was born in Worcester in 1919; her older sister Marguerite was born in Worcester in 1917. They are both alive, Marguerite lives in Paris with her husband Robert Hammond and my dad, Alan D. Ferguson, died a number of years ago. My mother lives nearby here in Lexington, MA. There is a slew of kids and grandkids. My grandparents never went back to Germany to live, since WWI broke out soon after and it became impossible. My mother believes that she has Liebisch cousins in Germany, but because Leipzig was in East Germany, and due to the chaos of WWII, she has never been able to find out.."

A portion of Two Towers; The Story of Worcester Tech 1865-1965 which concern Morton Masius.

" According to Professor Wilbur or his associate, Bernard Hildebrand, the reactor was not complex or dangerous. Nevertheless there were safety precautions. Doors were securely locked; permission was required for admittance, and the reactor, monitored twenty-four hours a day, was connected by telephone to police headquarters via the American District Telegraph Company. Only twice did the squawking sound of the alarm rasp its way across campus - once when the professor forgot to shut off the automatic alarm when he entered the room on a Saturday morning, again when a change in voltage tripped the alarm, A.D.T. guards, police, and reporters so soon swarmed around the old Washburn building that no one again doubted the efficacy of the reactor's safety provisions. "But sooner or later" predicted Wilbur, "some student is going to smuggle a gold fish into the pool."

The reactor was soon used by all departments of the school to teach the handling of radioactive materials and to illustrate the fundamentals of reactor operations. Its most important function from a community point of view, however was the advantageous proximity of radioactive isotope production, which was made available free of charge by both the reactor and the accelerator to non profit organizations such as schools and hospitals for research in activation analysis.

Possible applications of atomic research appeared to be endless, and the world held its breath to see how rationally this devastating and wondrous power would be used - in medicine, agriculture, construction and industry or in human annihilation. At any rate, Tech's facilities were now exceptional for the study of molecules and atoms, thanks to the reactor and to the accelerator in Olin Hall.

Many dignitaries and guests attended the dedication ceremonies of Olin Hall. During the procession a comparatively new professor, Benjamin A. Wooten, stood on the sidelines busily snapping pictures. Everyone was seated, the program about to begin, when Professor Wooten saw a lone figure trudging up the West Street walk from Salisbury. The man wore a white suit, a Panama hat, white buckskin shoes, striped shirt, bright tie, and a jaunty air which unmistakably belonged to Morton Masius. Hurriedly, Professor Wooten volunteered to find a place for the elderly visitor. "There'll be a place for me, " said Dr. Masius with confident dignity.

And indeed there was a place for this emeritus professor who had come back to share the pleasure of this great day, a day which he had helped make possible by his own scholarly achievements. "

Ward H. Lessiter and Miss Mamie E. Bailey, both of Southwest Orion, were married at the home of the bride last week Wednesday evening. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Northrop and about thirty of the relatives were present.

There is an unusual error on Mary's death certificate as it reports she was born February 14, 1862. Both the 1880 census (as Mary Bailey) and the 1900 census (as Mary Lessiter) show that she was born in 1871. Her age at death (38 yrs 11 mo 14 da) appears to be correct as does the reported death date of January 6, 1910 in Pontiac.

Edith Bailey, daughter of Winfield S. and Ella Bailey, died at the home of her parents in Independence, August 19th, aged 16 years and 6 months. Pulmonary tuberculosis claimed her for its early prey. During an illness of over five years, she manifested a meekness of mind and resignation to her Heavenly Father's will that was surprisingly tender and pathetic. Always anxious to serve she seemed to forget herself in her efforts to contribute to the comfort of others. Her final illness was brief, being confined to her bed but a few days. She sank rapidly, and quietly fell asleep.

The funeral services were held the following Monday afternoon from the Seymour Lake M.E. church. A large concourse of sorrowing relatives and neighbors followed the remains to their last resting place in Seymour Lake cemetery.

September 19, 1969 - "In 1921 Lee Porritt started what was to become one of the finest dairys in our area. From a small herd of 12 cows and horse-drawn vehicle he bottled and delivered milk throughout the near by lake area. Because of poor health, in 1933 he sold his business to his son Edward who continued to service the area and to expand to neighboring communities. As sales increased the milk production of several nearby farms was needed. In 1939 Porritt moved to the present location at 1758 Clarkston Rd. Even though a fire completely destroyed the original wood frame building and all the delivery equipment, Porritt did not miss one delivery after the fire. The Porritt Dairy has continued to expand, and several other dairies were purchased in the nearby area. Milk is procured from various farmers in Oakland, Lapeer and Macomb counties and employment has been provided for 35 persons in the area. William "Bill" Porritt, Edward's son, grew up helping his Dad in the dairy. After serving in the Army during World War II, he took a course at Michigan State in dairying. Upon his return to the business, Bill was appointed business manager and made a partner in the concern. The Porritt family owes a great deal of their success to the fact that they have always given their customers the best that can be had in pure milk, cream and other dairy products."

"Catalogin' - It's not clear whether Morris Feline Stuart is a Democat, A Fat Cat or a Republicat -- or even a fan of Ross Purr-O -- but Morris is now a registered voter in Cuyahoga County. Normalee Stuart of Shaker Heights, Ohio, says that she registered her cat to prove there are few, if any, safeguards against voter fraud in the county. She got the idea when a neighbor had told her about receiving a voter registration card addressed to a woman who had been dead for 12 years. Ohio law does not require people -- or cats -- to identify themselves when registering to vote. In fact, state law doesn't require identification from people when voting and allows mail-in registration. [Excerpted from a UPI item in the (Cleveland) "Plain Dealer", as noted (without date) by Henry Cat(e). Soon cats and dogs will be able to vote by E-mail. On the Internet no one knows whether it's reigning cats or dogs. Normalee, anyway. PGN].

On May 23, 1946 a letter was written to Ida Louise from her step brother Charles Woodworth. An excerpt from that letter follows:

"About your mother [Jeanette G. Rose], that's different we were schoolmates together in Savannah for years and she was just plain Net Rose to me and we were always the best of friends but never lovers. It did not worry me a bit when father picked her up. I will never forget the day he told me he was going to marry Net. I almost laughed but of course I had to accept the situation and wish them all happiness but I did think things you know? However I was living and working in [looking?] in Syracuse so it was all ok. Also fine for Jennie L who was only 10 or so at the time and needed a mother."

"Local 46 participated in international UPWA strikes in 1946 and 1948. During the strike in 1948 the governor called in the Iowa National Guard after a union member was killed while picketing and the picketers rioted. After the strike in 1948, 24 union members were indicted for complicity in the strike violence. Wilbert Warren, one of the indicted, demanded a separate trial and received it. Warren was charged with conspiring to destroy property. Warren was found guilty of conspiracy in connection with the violence at the plant, and was sentenced to three years in prison. In 1949, he appealed to the Iowa Supreme Court, but was denied in 1952. Only three others union members' cases made it to trial. Raymond and Russell Edsill were both found guilty and sentenced to three years apeace, and Everett Hopper was acquitted in his trial. Russell Edsill and Wilbert Warren went to prison for two months in 1952, and were then paroled (Raymond Edsill had already been paroled). Both men returned to Rath's and UPWA, Local 46, and received full pardons from Governor Hershell Loveless in 1960."

November 25, 1943 - "University of Illinois, November 1, 1943 - Dear Editor,

As I have a few minutes to spare, I will drop you a few lines to let you know I am getting the hometown paper regularly now. It really is wonderful to read and reread the events of the little city. I wish to thank you very much for making it possible that we fellows can keep up on the happenings about the places known to us. Of course, it might be thought that this being a university the news would be plentiful, but it is nothing about the folks back home.

The university of Illinois has devoted numerous buildings to the naval training program. There are three units of the Navy here, the signal, the diesel and the V-12s. To further crowd the city there are soldiers of the ASTP and other groups stationed here. Saturday night it is really a service center.

I would appreciate it very much if you could give me the address of Merle L. Smith and Maxwell Hughes, both local boys. I would like to hear from them, but we don't have each others' address.

Well, I guess I must finish as it is nearly time for taps. Thanks again for the paper and keep it coming. Here's wishing all my buddies lots of luck and see you soon. Jim Edsill.

Lauderdale naval air station this week when two former West high school students accidentally encountered their former wrestling coach. Lt. Finn B. It all began when Robert Lorenzen (left), son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lorenzen of 209 Commercial street, was called to the front of a class to act as a "guinea pig" for a Judo instructor who wished to demonstrate some new angles in the old art. As he was being tossed about, Lorenzen said to himself, "There's something very familiar about all this." Then he took another look at the instructor who, sure enough, was Lieutenant Eriksen. The other man in the Waterloo trio was Merlin Edsill (right), son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd M. Edsill of 125 Linwood avenue. The two boys were on Waterloo West's wrestling squad in 1940 and '41 when Lieutenant Eriksen coached the team to state championships. Followed quite a gabfest about Waterloo and Iowa. From the Wellsboro Agitator.

August 28, 1907 - "A YOUTHFUL HEROINE. Eleven Year Old Edith Smith Saved Sister from Burning House. Narrow Escape of Children Alone in a Delmar Dwelling While Parents Were in Town. Edith, the 11-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Almon Smith, of Delmar, saved her sleeping baby sister from death last Saturday morning about 11 o'clock, when the Smith house, on the Dantz run road, route, No. 7, was burned to the ground with it; contents.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were to Wellsboro shopping, and left their children at home, Edith being the oldest and the baby girl, less than one year old, the youngest. Shortly before 11 o'clock the children started a fire to prepare dinner in the stove in the summer kitchen which is connected to the chimney by a pipe which goes through a partition. This pipe, it is thought, became overheated and caused the fire, as the chimney was double bricked and perfectly sound. But when the house caught fire there was nobody in the kitchen and the house was beyond saving when the blaze was discovered. The baby was asleep upstairs and it was with difficulty that Edith groped her way through the dense smoke and succeeded in rescuing the little one.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, when they heard that their home was in flames, hired an automobile and started for home, the "bubble" broke near the Henry Smith farm and Mr. Smith took them on with his team, the auto being "down and out" for the time being.

The home was completely destroyed with all it's contents, including a new $400 piano. Mr. Smith had $650 insurance on the house but nothing on it's contents, His loss is easily $2,000. He bought the barn about a year ago of Mr. Eli Simmonds.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Smith express sincere sympathy in their loss, and everybody admiration for the coolness and heroism of their daughter Edith."

June 19, 1947 - "MRS. FERRIS FITCH OF MERRIWEATHER ROAD, by Olive H. Henry

It was natural the Mrs. Fitch should turn to painting as a means of expression, being the daughter of the well known artist, George Hodges, Sr. She grew up in a household that was the gathering place of many artists, and she laughingly remarked that she and her six sisters rarely sat down to read or knit but that some artist would ask them "to hold that pose."

Mrs. Fitch studied at the Art Students League and the National Academy of Design in New York. Among her teachers were Louis Mors, Paul Vincent Dumond and George Bellows. Due to her father and his friends she was greatly influenced by "the old school" of painting.

She returned to Detroit with the desire to have a career in commercial art. Her first commission was to design a page to be used in the New York, Chicago and Detroit theatre programs advertising a chemical product. At this point Cupid entered the picture and that was the end of the commercial art career. Mrs. Fitch says that she knows that she would never have been great artist and that her career as a wife and mother has been so much more worthwhile that she had never regretted her decision to give up commercial art for matrimony. Her five children were the inspiration for many pictures during their growing up period.

For the past four years, Mrs. Fitch has been on the board of Fine Arts section of the Michigan Academy of Science, Arts and Letters. She is a charter member of the Grosse Pointe Artists Association and some years ago when they exhibited at the Neighborhood Club won several blue ribbons. She has also exhibited her oils, mostly landscapes, in Detroit, Grosse Pointe and Ann Arbor, and has sold several. Mrs. Fitch feels that the greatest progress will be made by putting into practice by painting, one's understanding of the fundamentals of art.

During the war she put aside her painting and devoted herself to serving the soldiers. In the spring of 1942 the Grosse Pointe Hostess Corps was formed and Mrs. Fitch was asked to be chairman of the Grosse Pointe area. In two and one half years Mrs. Fitch billeted between 1200 and 1300 servicemen. The majority of these were serving in the R.A.F. and the Fleet Air Corps. They came from England, Australia, New Zealand and Canada. She felt that the real need was for those boys to meet and know American people in good American homes and that it would result in mutual understanding and tolerance between the British and American boys and help to make the future peace. All during the war her own home was filled every weekend and many of the boys return to their Grosse Pointe billets when they had the opportunity, even after they had left this vicinity. One of Mrs. Fitch's guests returned from Pensacola to spend a seven day leave in her home.

Mrs. Fitch is well known for her love of children, not only her own but other people's; this is her first interest, after her family, needless to say, and then come painting and gardening. Her great grandmother and grandfather, with their Indians, blazed the trail from Detroit to Pontiac. She remembers her grandmother telling of being chased by wolves in the country which is now Royal Oak. Her father lives in the home which has been in the family for 65 years, and owned the first automobile in Oakland county, a "Searchmont."

With Mrs. Fitch's background it is easy to understand why she may be classified as a "doer" and how she has made not only her own life interesting, but helped others too."

From the obituary of Marion Hodges Fitch, Grosse Pointe News.

March 5, 1987 - "She was born in Pontiac and lived in Grosse Pointe Farms since 1934. She was a student at the Art Students League in New York. She was a charter member of the Grosse Pointe Artists' Association, a member of Michigan Women Artists and of the Founders' Society of the Detroit Institute of Arts. She was a member of Cottage Hospital's Auxiliary for 25 years, a member of the Michigan Academy of Science, Arts and Letters, and she was active in the USO during World War II."

Wedding announcement in the Pontiac Gazette, June 22, 1921.

"Canterbury bells and low bowls of pink roses decorated the altar, lighted by tall cathedral candles, for the marriage of Miss Marion Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Hodges, and Ferris H. Fitch, formerly of Pontiac. The wedding took place last evening at the home of the bride's parents on the shore of Pine Lake. By the soft light of the candles, the bridal party entered the living room, proceeding to the altar to the strains of Lohengrin's "Wedding March," played by Miss Dorothy Wilder, of Detroit. The bride was escorted to the altar by her father where the Episcopal marriage service was read by Rev. H. J. Simpson. As matron of honor, Miss Hodges chose Mrs. John Russell Paisley, formerly Miss Dorothy Christian. She wore a pleasing gown of Harding blue georgette trimmed with a Marie Antoinette fichu and silver ribbon, also wearing a garden hat of white and blue georgette, and carrying a nosegay of Aaron Ward roses and valley lilies. The bride was becomingly gowned in pearl grey georgette over blue satin. Her hat, which carried out the color of her costume, had an added touch in the flowers, which were repeated by a corsage of red roses and valley lilies. The bridegroom was attended by Lawrence King of Cleveland, O. The bride's mother wore a charming summer frock of white georgette. Out-of-town guests included C. C. J. Culmer of New York city, Mr. and Mrs. Wells North Carroll of Toledo, and Lawrence King of Cleveland. After Sept. 1, Mr. and Mrs. Fitch will be at home at 650 Clairmont ave., Detroit."

To: Commanding Officer.

Subject: Report on special patrol of May 30th, 1918.

1. At 8:30 a.m. I left the slip way acting as second pilot in F 2-A 4291, Lieut. Robinson as pilot. We passed Spurn in company of F-2A 4290 (Lieut. Cooper pilot and Ensign Lee second pilot). At 8:50 a.m. we took magnetic course 88°.
2. At 11:10 a.m. No. 3 Buoy was sighted in position 55° 7' 30" North 4° 23' East. The pilot brought the machine within 500 ft. to make certain of it. Our course was then altered north 12° East.
3. At 11:20 a.m. a Zeppelin was sighted off starboard bow headed west. Course was then altered to East and we started to climb. At 2000 ft. the Zeppelin observed us and altered course to South, then to South East and East. At this time I noted about 15 bombs dropped from Zeppelin, presumably to aid them in climbing. They were constantly maneuvering for position directly over us with intention of bombing probably.
4. At 12 noon we reached an altitude of 7500 ft. The pilot notified me at this time that the engines were not turning up above 1725 revolutions. Due to this the Zeppelin was climbing much faster than we and the Pilot ordered me to attack at once. The Zeppelin was, however, about 4000 ft. above and ahead going in the same direction. I then opened fire with the two forward guns. After firing about 20 rounds with each gun the port one stopped and I carried on with the Starboard gun. The tracers indicated that the line of fire was good, but the range was too great for effective fire. The Zeppelin, however, began to climb as fast as possible and it is probable that a few hits were registered. The Starboard gun then stopped and I was engaged for two or three minutes in cleaning both guns. At this time (12:10 p.m.) the Pilot made a turn to the port and notified me that the patrol was more than half gone and as the return trip had to be made against the wind, the attack was abandoned.
5. At 11:30 a.m. we lost sight of F 2-A 4290 and did not see her until reaching the base.
6. We then took magnetic course West for 50 min. at 68 knots where we passed Dagger Banks Light vessel. We then altered course to 260° and sighted spurn at 5:20 p.m.

(Sgd) George S. Hodges.

Parcels & Company, engaged In the investment banking business in Detroit, was bom in New Millford, Connecticut, September 3,1899, and is descended from old New England families, his ancestral record being given In connection with the sketch of Charles A. Parcels on another page of this work. He attended the Hopkins grammar school of New Haven and had reached the age of 18 years when In 1917 he enlisted for service in the U.S. Medical Corps. He was sent to a base hospital and was on active duty until the close of the World war. His military activities being ended, he went to Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minnesota, where he was in the employ of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. Later he was transferred to Montana, where he assisted in installing the block signal system and in building the road. He afterward spent one summer as an employee in the Yellowstone National Park and subsequently was an automobile salesman in Minneapolis.

Having saved enough to pay his fare to Detroit, Mr. Parcels came to this city in September, 1919, and entered the employ of his brother, Charles A. Parcels, who had established an Investment banking business. He closely applied himself to the mastery of his duties in this connection, and his rapidly expanding powers led to his becoming a member of the firm in 1924. The company has a large clientele and the business has long since been placed upon a substantial and profitable basis. Earle W. June 22, 1951 - "For 21 years Jerry Spottswood has been disconsolately riding trains from his Chicago business to homes in various suburban towns.

He moved to Palatine ten years ago, and has eyed with interest the rapid growth of both homes and several businesses.

In the spring, he reached the decision that the community in which he lives would be a likely spot for his business.

Recently the Jerry O. Spottswood Co. purchased the building at 25 E. Chicago ave., to be used as a storage warehouse and office for their equipment business. Offices will be constructed across the front of the present building.

IMPORTANT NOTICE REGARDING BESSIE SKELTON, professionally known as Bessie Gregory. Researchers have found conflicting information on Bessie Gregory due to existing documents showing her as Bessie Skelton, Bessie Gregory and her married name, Bessie Moore. Bessie was the daughter of Charles James Skelton and Cordelia Mary Dows. She, her dad and sister Margaret were members of the Gregory Acrobatic Troupe. Additional confusion is that Charles Skelton's brother, John Skelton, had a daughter also named Bessie (birth name Elizabeth) about three years younger than her cousin Bessie. To make research more difficult, both Bessie's were members of the same acrobatic troupe, going by "Big Bess" and "Little Bess". When researching these families, please note the two "Bessie's", first cousins with different dates of birth and death.

From a Pontiac, MI newspaper.

1894-08-31 - "Miss Bessie Gregory received a handsome gold watch and chain from New York Monday, a present from her father, and to say she was pleased would be expressing it very mildly."

1895-02-01 - "Miss Bessie Gregory gave a party last Friday evening, it being her 12th birthday. Early in the evening the little folks began to arrive and despite the inclemency of the weather, about 30 were present. The early part of the evening was taken up by music and games. About 10 o'clock supper was announced, when the little folks paired off and marched into the dining room where the tables fairly groaned with delicacies to which all did ample justice. Miss Bessie was the recipient of several beautiful presents from her little friends. About 12 o'clock the party repaired to their several homes wishing her many returns of the happy occasion."

From the Royal Oak Tribune, dates as noted.

1912-12-27 - "Mrs. Joseph Moore of St. Louis, Mo., and Miss Margaret Gregory of Ann Arbor, are spending the holidays at the home of Mrs. W. O. Wilcox."

From the Birmingham Eccentric, July 5, 1907.

"Harry, son of Mr. and Mrs. F.A. Parent, was operated on at Grace Hospital, Detroit, last Saturday morning. Three or four years ago he fell down an elevator shaft in an apartment house in Ohio, three stories, and broke his leg. He recovered from his injuries as was supposed, but a short time ago began to complain of a severe pain in his side which gradually became worse until the physicians decided that an operation was necessary to save his life. The doctors discovered that the muscles in his side had become as hard as stone and that some growths had formed around them which was necessary to remove. The patient is now doing nicely and if no complications develop he will be all right again in a short time."

From the Royal Oak Tribune, July 9, 1915 - "Harry Parent's barn on Woodward ave caught fire and burned Monday evening."

The following is a very strange item, for which we have not yet found an explanation. Harrison died in 1948, so clearly he did not drown in this incident which was reported in the September 9, 1921 issue of the Royal Oak Tribune.

"H. PARENT DROWNS AT SUGAR ISLAND. Clothes in bath house only evidence of Labor Day tragedy. The body of Harrison B. Parent, Pleasant Ridge man, believed drowned Labor day in Lake Erie, off Sugar Island has not been recovered, according to the Detroit police and members of the harbor-master's crew who have been searching with dynamite and grappling irons in the waters in the vicinity of the Lake Erie Resort. If Parent were drowned, the police have learned of no one witnessing the tragedy. The only evidence the police have that the man disappeared is the facts that his clothes were found in the island bath house by the island caretaker the night of Labor day and also that he had failed to since put in an appearance at his home, Woodward and Maplewood avenues, Pleasant Ridge. Parent had gone to the island alone and it is believed he went immediately to the bathing beach and ventured too far into the lake. In the man's clothing were scraps of memoranda containing the name of "Parent, Pleasant Ridge," $5 in cash and a gold watch. Parent who was 33 years of age, was a graduate of the University of Detroit and was a member of the varsity football team of that institution for two years. Several years ago he played with the Royal Oak Independants and was known as one of the speediest backfield men in middle west. He was a stock and bond salesman and had offices in Detroit. This young man was a member of the 125th Machine Gun company, National Guard. He had tried repeatedly to get into the regular army during world the world war but on each occasion, he was unable to pass the physical examination due to hernia. Parent had been married, but the couple became separated some time ago. He made his home with his parents in Pleasant Ridge. He was born in Detroit, July 6, 1888."

And, here is his obituary in the October 18, 1949 Royal Oak Tribune.

"A long time resident of southern Oakland county, Virgil B. Parent, age 60, died Sunday at his home, 272 West Drayton avenue, Ferndale. Mr. Parent was born July 6, 1888 in Royal Oak township. He leaves his wife, Hazel B.; two daughters, Mrs. Dorothy M. Betteley, 1079 Lochmore boulevard, Berkley, and Mrs. Margaret J. Chambeau, 1007 East Sixth street; his mother, Mrs. Dolly B. Parent and five grandchildren, Gerald, Robert and Sally Jo Betteley and Graham, Kempe and Diane Chambeau.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday, at the Sawyer funeral home, 2125 Twelve-Mile road, Berkley. The Rev. Wallace Winchell of the first Congregational church will officiate. Burial will be in Woodlawn cemetery."

Another mystery is the fact that Harrison Parent's individual records (Jr. and Sr.) cannot be found at Woodlawn Cemetery, only a notation on the plot layout that they are, in fact, buried there. Furthermore, Harrison Sr.'s obit says that services were handled by Sawyer Funeral Home in Berkley but these records, too, are missing.

LOS ANGELES, Nov 21 - Wiggling as gracefully as his 200-odd pounds would permit, Detective Lieut, Jerry Uhlik demonstrated a "bump" today in Municipal Judge Arthur Guerin's court.

The officers strange contribution to jurisprudence was introduced at the trial of five vivacious strip teasers and four slapstick comedians arrested at a burlesque theater Oct. 5 on indecent performance charges.

The florid-faced detective worked so hard in his effort to act out the "bump," a wiggle-and-twist- movement he declared Jo Ann Dare, one of the defendants, performed in her dance, that the courtroom echoed with laughter and Judge Guerin threatened to oust spectators."

From the Clio Messenger.

1924-07-10 - "Mr. and Mrs. Melville Dick and daughter, Joan, of Detroit, spent several days the past week with friends in Clio."

From the 1920 Wayne County census it was learned that Mary Dick (David's mother) lived at 166 Cortland Avenue in Highland Park.

Lester, Grace, Gladys and Harold Wright moved from Clio to Highland Park in 1916. Their address was 200 Cortland and they apparently lived there only one year. We had always heard that David Melville Dick left home at a very early age which accounts for his absence in the 1920 Mary Dick household. However, in 1916 David would only have been 14 years old and quite likely was still living at home. Assuming that Mary Dick and children were living on Cortland in 1916 it seems very likely that Gladys and David were neighbors. Looking at Mapquest maps, they probably lived no more than 4 or 5 houses apart. Looks like they met on Cortland Avenue in 1916 when David was 14 and Gladys was 16 and, of course, we know that they were married in September 1919.

From a September 16, 1969 newspaper article. "50th Anniversary Celebrated By Wolverine Couple. Mr. and Mrs. David Dick, 1865 Ladd Rd., Wolverine Village, were feted at a surprise party given by their children in celebration of their 50th Wedding Anniversary on Sunday Sept. 7, 1969. The couple were wed on September 11, 1919, at the North Woodward Presbyterian Church in Detroit. They have been residents of Wolverine since 1941. Since their children have grown and moved away from home the Dick's miniature poodle "Tammy" helps fill the gap of loneliness. She has been a member of the Dick family for over six years. When asked, "who is boss in a family with 50 years of marriage behind them," the immediate answer of both Mr. and Mrs. Dick was, "Tammy". Mr. Dick responded to the question of how do two people live compatibly for this length of time by saying, "Both husband and wife need that intangible something inside them make them stick to it. Too many young people today go into marriage with the thought that if it doesn't work we'll get a divorce. Divorces are too easy," Dick, now retired, was in the building business for most of their wedded life and they have moved from one house to another right on their street as he completed homes. Still extremely skilled with tools of the trade many items around their present home are expressive of his handiwork, including an attractive windmill sitting in their waterfront lot. The anniversary party was held at the home of their daughter, Mrs Harold Gustner, in Southfield. Over 50 guests enjoyed a buffet and 4-hour open house. Life long friends Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Stroecker attended from Port Charlotte, Florida. Other children of the Dick's who joined giving the party include their daughters, Mr. Robert Wallace, Union Lake, Mrs. Ray Greening, Wolverine Lake, and a son, Glen Dick, Union Lake. The Dicks also have 16 grandchildren."

Mr. Wright was a graduate of the University of Detroit, holding degrees in both Architectural and Civil Engineering. He retired to Gaylord in 1974 after a career in his own firm. His contributions include the design and building of hundreds of homes, factories, office buildings and churches. Mr. Wright was known as a master craftsman, with hobbies in woodworking, sculpting and painting. His devotion to family and church was evidenced in his activities such as such as Scouting, where he founded and served as Scoutmaster of Troop 479 in Grosse Pointe. When Margaret was a baby, possibly two years old, she crawled out an upstairs window onto the roof. A neighbor, Mrs Dwyer, called her mother to tell her that her daughter was on the roof.

When Margaret was five years old, she remembers being outside with her friend Rita Dwyer listening to all the horns honking and bells ringing on November 11, 1918 when World War I was over.

Excerpt from an e-mail written by Ken Wright to David Gustner and Lynne Greening, 4/16/2000. "That brought to mind the wedding announcement of Mom and Dad that said they were going to live at 463 Algonquin after their marriage, so I just called Mom to ask about it. She said they never did live with Lester and Grace. They rented an upstairs apartment first, on a street that she can't remember. Then they rented a house on Eastlawn, then rented at 5039 Lakepointe, where they were when I was born (1938), then moved to another rented house on Lakewood. Then Dad built the house on 60 Hawthorn Blvd in 1941. She could not remember any of the street numbers, but I have a letter addressed to them at the 5039 Lakepointe address. I had no idea that they lived in so many places before Hawthorne, or that they were renting rather than buying. I had just assumed that they lived in a house built by Dad and Lester. Wrong! Another thing she mentioned that I didn't remember is that Lester and Grace moved to Grosse Pointe after Mom and Dad. She thought about a year, making their move from Algonquin to Hawthorn in 1942." We later learned the actual sequence and addresses of where Harold and Margaret Lived.

From the Jan 9, 1920 issue of the Birmingham Eccentric, the Walter Parmenter family is reported to be renting a home on Crooks Road when their son was born on New Years Eve, 1919. From the September 8, 1932 Birmingham Eccentric in a section called "Thumbnail Sketches of Birmingham's Prominent Businessmen." "The Parmenter Greenhouses on Crooks Road near Maple mark the site where W.H. Parmenter, the junior member of the father-son partnership which owns and manages the business, was raised and grew up as a child. It might still be an ordinary farm site had not the youth, who attended grammar schools and the old Hill School in Birmingham, taken an early interest in the less lucrative though more esthetic features of Nature's bounty on his father's farm. The love of floral beauty led him eventually to the florist shop of Edwin A. Starr in Royal Oak, who became so impressed with the young employee's aptitude and ability for the work that he encouraged him to take a short course in floral culture at Cornell University. This advice was followed, and on his return from Cornell, Mr. Parmenter induced his father, P.W. Parmenter to join him in partnership in a greenhouse enterprise on the site of the old farm. That was 12 years ago. Small beginnings made for rapid progress, and since the first unit was erected in 1920, additions to the houses and equipment have been made almost yearly up to the present. The father-son partnership still remains intact, with the son in active management of the greenhouses and the father in charge of retail and of the business which is handled through a store at 122 South Main Street, Royal Oak."

"WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1919,

TIOGA VALLEY WILL LOOK BETTER THAN RHINE.

Private Ross B. Bailey Is In Germany With Marines, But Says It Has No Charms for Him Now. Wants Advertiser Sent to Him There.

Leutesdorf on the Rhine, Jan. 3, 1919.

Mr. E.S. Coles, Mansfield, PA.

Dear Sir,

I am over here in Germany on the Rhine now and just received three papers from home today, and needless to say they were certainly welcome. I do not know how long I will be over here, but wish you would send the paper until I get back to the States. I was some surprised in reading the papers that so many boys from home are over here. The 9th and 23rd infantry are near us somewhere and the 15th field artillery are up the Rhine a short distance, but I have never happened to see Leo Bailey or Rusty Hitchcock of the 9th or Crossley of the 15th field artillery, but I could probably have found them before it I had known they were with the 2nd division. For they were usually somewhere near the marines when they were away from the front lines and besides them on the lines.

I got over in time to see what war is like and did not expect to see the Leutesdorf, which is about the same population as Mansfield, but not as large in other ways. The people here treat us fine, we have electric lights, a good stove and a good dry place to sleep, also good chow and the drill is not hard, but when we are through over here, the beauty of the Rhine Valley will not have enough charms to keep me here, and the little Tioga Valley will look better than it ever did before. Hoping to hear from you often through the paper, I remain,

Respectfully yours,

Pvt. ROSS B> BAILEY

9th Co. 6th Marines Amer. E.F."

November 3, 1921 - "Wellsboro Boy Highly Honored.

Frank R. Bailey, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harry W. Bailey, of this borough, has been highly honored by being elected president of the Sophomore Class of 1924 of the Pennsylvania University. "The Pennsylvanian," a daily published in the interest of the University by a staff of writers composed of students, printed a portrait of our young townsman last Saturday together with the following brief sketch of his rapid progress as a student:

"Frank R. Bailey, 24 White, was elected president of the Sophomore Class by a substantial majority. He is a product of the Wellsboro (Pa>) High School. He was a Freshman representative on the Wharton Association; a member of the Red and Blue board; chairman of Sophomore Vigilance Committee, Phi Delta Theta Fraternity."

The honor of being elected president of the Class of 1924 of the University of Pennsylvania is an honor worthily bestowed on a young man of real merit. Frank Bailey is a live wire and has no conscientious scruples against manual labor. During the vacation or summer periods of the past two years he has demonstrated what he is made of by shedding his aristocratic manners and buckling in as a day laborer - anything he could do. Last year he worked on the State Highway with a pick and shovel and during the summer just closed he conducted one of "Billy" Smith's ice wagons. That's the kind of a boy Frank Bailey is."

"PURSUIT TO BELGIUM AND HOLLAND

By Don R Marsh

August 10, 1944

Gathemo, France

On the 10th of August 1944, a Task Force consisting of the 2nd Battalion, 66th Armored Regiment. 14th Armored Field Artillery Battalion, 1 Platoon of Company "A" 17th Armored Engineer Battalion, 2nd Battalion of 41st Armored Infantry Regiment (-1Co.), 1 Company of the 702nd Tank Destroyer Battalion and a detachment from Company "A" 48th Armored Medical Battalion, attacked the town of Gathemo and east along a ridge line on the flank of the German counterattack towards Avranches Very heavy resistance was encountered and the enemy massed heavy artillery and heavy weapons fire from anti-tank guns in a desperate effort to stop the attack of the Command After heavy fighting, the balance of CC'A" pinned the task Force on 13 August, took Ger and seized Hill 329 the next day.

On 20 August 1944. CC"A" began an attack North and Northeast towards Elbeuf. We had taken Breteuil-Newburg and were approaching St Andre in a nighttime march We were enroute to a crossing at the Seine River at Mantes-Gassicourt in a double column that stretched for endless miles behind us. It was 23 August, near 2100 hours and pitch dark as we were trying to follow the vehicle in front, maintaining vehicle intervals without tailgating. It takes all of your concentration to focus on the two small taillights.

Without warning, suddenly we heard an aircraft, a German JU88, circle over the top of us He then climbed off in the distance After circling, he dropped a magnesium flare We knew at once that it was a Kraut plane and not one of ours When I saw the flare drifting, with its brilliant light, I thought, "Somebody is going to catch hell now." Little did I realize it would be us.

As the flare drifted closer illuminating our miles of stalled columns, the plane passed overhead strafing us with guns blazing, but not before dropping his bomb It landed directly in front of us about three vehicles forward almost on the road right next to the Executive Officer's Command half-track. After the terrific explosion, 27 year old Lieutenant Colonel Benjamin Mart Bailey, Jr, West Point "M" Company Class of 1939. was mortally wounded and died within moments after calling out, "Help me Somebody help me " Other members of the half-track crew were also severely wounded by the bomb blast and fragments. A Master Sergeant lost his arm, I assumed that he died from trauma and loss of blood. Others nearby were hit by bomb fragments and also suffered concussion. We bailed out of our vehicles and ran into the nearby fields. Some stayed on their 50 caliber ring mounted machines guns to fire at the plane, when he made another and final strafing run at the road lined with vehicles bumper to bumper. We had been sitting ducks. We recovered and the advance continued throughout the night. General Collier replaced Colonel Bailey with Lt Colonel Wilson M Hawkins from the 66th Armored Regiment as his Executive Officer."

At a meeting of merchants held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms this morning at 9:30, it was decided to defer Dollar Day for one week - until Saturday, September 13. It was pointed out that with the streets in their present condition, there was practically no need of advertising in the country because people couldn't get around if they did come to town. By the thirteenth, according to Contractor Harold H. Smith, he will be pretty well cleaned up and conditions will at least be much better. A doctor was summoned and it was found no bones were broken although it was feared he might be injured internally"

From the Orion Weekly Review, August 8, 1947.

"The Middleton Dairy has been purchased by Edward Porritt of Clarkston and the milk processing machinery is to be moved to the present Porritt Dairy on the Orion-Clarkston road, near the Grand Trunk R.R. Cleon Middleton, who has operated the Dairy during the past 17 years, is retaining the Ice Cream Manufacturing end of the business and will devote his entire time to this product. Mr. Middleton has contributed much to the dairy business over the past several years, erecting the building which houses the plant in 1938 and enlarging the facilities. The Porritt Dairy has been in continuous operation since 1921 when it was founded by Lee Porritt, father of the present owner. The son, Edward, purchased the business from his father in 1933 and has operated it continuously ever since. Mr. Porritt advises that machinery for making pressed paper milk bottles is being installed and will be in operation about January 1st, 1948. Both parties agreed that the recent tendency of a business of this character toward specialization made the new arrangements advisable."

This nickname was given to him as a young boy by the workhands on his parent's farm. For some reason they started calling him "Dudley". It was eventually shortened to "Dud" and stuck with him the rest of his life."

March 31, 1944 - "Cpl Elmer Bailey, March Field, Calif., "When we reported at Fresno from Texas, they gave us a strict physical examination and five shots and sent us up to a camp in the mountains to do some shooting with all the different guns the army has. Except to be here three months.""

June 16, 1944 - "Sgt. Elmer Bailey, March Field, Calif.: "I have started flying with my new crew and have about eight hours at high altitude of 20,000 and 25,000 feet. When we left the ground this morning (June 5) it was 70 degrees and it was 34 degrees below up there.""

November 10, 1944 - "Sgt. Elmer Bailey, Hawaii, writes: "We have been going to gunnery school for three weeks, and the next week will get some firing from the plane. Yesterday we were at the railroad range and I got one hundred and two hits out of five hundred, shot from my turret. The target was moving around an oval and was two hundred yards at the front and four hundred yards at the back, and moving at thirty-five miles an hour."

April 20, 1945 - "Sgt. Elmer Bailey, Mariana Islands: "I am getting the paper quite regularly now and it sure tells about things changing and some of the older folks passing away.

We have been back to Oahu, Hawaii, on a twelve day rest, and the Red Cross did everything they could to make us enjoy ourselves. There was bowling, ball games, swimming and beach picnics. The girls sewed and went to town and did our shopping for us.

We had all the steaks, porkchops, meat loaves and good mashed potatoes with brown gravy and milk, all we wanted. Then when we came back here to eat canned food we sure missed it."

May 18, 1945 - "S/Sgt. Elmer Bailey, Mariana Islands: "The crew I have been flying with have finished their missions. I have twenty-seven in so far. Our garden has been doing very well. We have had radishes, carrots and will soon have lettuce. The worms got the tomatoes before they got ripe. Some of the boys have very nice flower gardens."

September 7, 1945 - "S/Sgt. Elmer Bailey, Ryukus, writes: "We had on of the biggest celebrations, with all kinds of guns shooting and rockets, flares and the prettiest fire works of any Fourth of July I ever saw, when we heard that Japan wanted to call it finished..

This is a pretty nice place. We have plenty of pine trees, but no palms like there were at Guam. I am so sorry not to have seen Robert Gavette, but had to leave on short notice and now I'm about fourteen hundred miles from him, so don't think he will be able to get over to see me now.""

October 5, 1945 - "Staff Sgt. Elmer Bailey, Okinawa, writes: "I have had one misson over China, hitting Shanghai. On the missoin at Nagashaki on of the planes just ahead of us got a direct hit in the pilot's compartment, killing about four of the men. They started to dive and about half way down the plane blew up, and I was watching all this from the nose turret, which sure did upset me terribly to see our buddies going down and no way to get them out alive. We may be on our way home by the time you get this letter.""

From the January 13, 1938 Flushing Observer. "Eileen Martina Ganssley was born on the Seymore Road about four miles south of Flushing. She attended the Flushing high school as a freshman last year. She enjoyed our glee club that year but was unable to take it this year. She has been, however, in orchestra both years. Last year in the carnival, Martina took part in two of the short skits that were given. As a hobby she keeps scrapbooks. She has one on the Detroit Tigers, one on the Dionne Quints, another filled with favorite short stories cut from magazines or papers, and last but not least, one on a trip she took last year. This sophomore has a camera and likes to take pictures, especially when you don't know about it. Another scrapbook or album holds these pictures. Martina plays the piano too. Her favorite songs are "Rosalie" and "There's a Gold Mine in the Sky." She likes to read and does a lot of it. She has a small library of her own and wants to train at the University of Michigan to become a librarian. She likes to travel and has crossed the straits of Mackinac and saw Sault Ste. Marie and the Locks that link Lake Superior with St. Mary's River. She would like to see Yellowstone National Park. Martina said she thought her biggest thrill happened when she saw the Tigers win over the Yankees. It was the Tigers third game and they had lost the other two. -- Verna May Demeritt".

Article written by Darlyle Watters on Prisoner of War Experience, BNET.com.

"I can't say I "enjoyed" the story "Guest of the Germans" but I can say it brought back memories.

I was a WWII glider pilot that was shot down on 19 September 1944 during the Holland invasion. I landed with a dead copilot and four wounded, including me. I ended up in Stalag Luft I in October in the old section with the German identity 6277.

I was invited to participate in a food combine with Tex Kolb, father of Linda Lesniewske, a contributor to your article. Such a great guy.

When the cattle arrived and were butchered, we obtained our share of the beef. It was too damn tough to eat but we did. It was almost too tough to digest.

The Germans has a fish weir out in the bay and our way to recover from an average 50-pound loss of body weight was to force the Germans to paddle out and empty the weir of flounder. We deep fried the fish and really feasted.

Many of us took on jobs for the good of the camp. I became operator, mechanic, and only member of the motor poop of six or eight vehicles confiscated from German civilians.

I also had some booby trap training and was able to get into the aircraft factory at the airfield without getting killed and was able to put together a tool kit. This helped me keep the vehicles running for the two weeks until the Russians arrived.

My "home" was in Barracks No. 1 in the old section, west section. I flew out in the 13th B-17G on the first day they came in for us.

I got home so early that my paycheck for all that time was reduced by Federal Income Taxes - later not required, but also not refunded. I also did not get my promotion to captain that was way overdue. They ignored my mission report, did not grant my Purple Heart, and I had to pay a civilian dentist to fix my teeth.

On the happy side, I was home with Jean, my wife of 28 months, and was able to greet my friends as they drifted in from Europe.

Harry Bailey, who has been in Europe the past year doing graduate work in Germany and traveling in a number of European countries including two months spent in Spain, is now on the Greek island of Samothrace in the Aegean Sea, often mentioned in Greek mythology. The island covers 71 square miles and has about 4200 people. Ruins found on the island date from 500 BC. In 1863, the famous statue of the Winged Victory of Samothrace was found on the island and is now in the Louvre.

Harry is a member of an expedition under the auspices of the New York Institute of Fine Arts which is excavating the historic ruins. In a recent letter to his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Bailey, Harry wrote of his trip from Rome to Brindisi and Athens where preparation for the expedition to Samothrace was completed. The group with whom he traveled flew in a prewar airplane to Alexandroupolis, which is only a few miles from Turkey. From there they traveled by caique to Samothrace, a distance of five miles.

Harry wrote that Samothrace is unbelievably beautiful. The present excavation is concerned with the sacred area outside the ancient city of Palaiopolis. In previous expeditions excavations, many marvelous buildings have been unearthed which were used mainly by the mystery cult that existed in Samothrace and for which the island was famous. He wrote that this is the first year that the island has had electricity and a road (with one truck). With the help of a few wealthy donors, Dr. Lehman, who until his recent death, had been on expeditions to the island since 1938, had built a hotel and museum on the island.

Harry feels this is a perfect opportunity to learn what an excavation is all about."

stwyford@datalux.com

Suzanne Twyford grew up in New Jersey, close to New York museums and galleries and always planned to study painting. At Wellesley College she earned a degree in Art History which involved learning the methods and materials of each historical period as well as copying from the originals at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and the Fogg Museum at Harvard. This experience instilled in her an appreciation of realism and an enduring love of classical techniques.

Later, Twyford's studies continued at the Art League in Virginia, George Washington University graduate school and workshops with master pastelists, Daniel Greene, Albert Handell and Burt Silverman. She has also studied painting and sculpture in Europe and is a registered copiest at the National Gallery of Art.

Suzanne Twyford's professional experience includes working as a picture editor at AMERICAN ILLUSTRATED magazine and free lance work for U.S. NEWS & WORLD REPORT and TIME LIFE BOOKS. Her paintings, pastels and collages have been exhibited and won awards in galleries in Virginia, Maryland and Washington, D.C. Her work is in private collections in Europe, Japan, Korea, and throughout this country.

Reviewing her paintings in THE WASHINGTON POST, art critic Paul Richard called Ms. Twyford's pastel landscapes gentle, moody and romantic. This describes her intent, to present a poetic alternative to reality."

November 1, 2022 - Our chief researcher, Dave Gustner, received the following message from Jeff Lloyd.

Hi, hope youve been well!... cousin Jeff Lloyd here (Mariva Rose Hodges>Geo. S. Hodges>Muriel Hodges Smith>Muriel Margaret Lloyd> me)... couldnt remember if I had told you before, but a few years back during an estate sale on Clark St in Pontiac in the attic space of a dilapidated barn/garage I serendipitously found a picture of the Rose House hotel in Pontiac, I believe this may be the only copy that may exist, it was rough so I scanned it and repaired it digitally and put it online on Virgil Maxim Roses Findagrave.com memorial, think it also appears on any memorials of the known keepers of that fine establishment as well... As you know the Hodges House and the Rose House were the only two games in town You can see it here: https://images.findagrave.com/photos/2017/10/50070930_1484176260.jpg The memorial is here (follow links as well) <https://www.findagrave.com/memorial/50070930/virgil-maxim-rose>

Indeed, this may be the only known photograph of the Rose House Hotel, owned by Virgil Maxim Rose.

From the Valley News (Van Nuys).

August 11, 1968 - "In most weddings it is appropriate to describe the gown worn by the bride merely assuming the bride-groom is in appropriate attire.

However, in the wedding of Karen Jean Arms of Granada Hills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Arms, to Pvt. Michael Dale Puddicombe USA of Sepulveda, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Puddicombe, the situation is reversed.

Pvt. Puddicombe, a member of the Army Band stationed at Fort Mac Arthur, was honored by being allowed to wear for the first time in public the new issue uniform for Army Band members.

It featured a midnight blue jacket complemented by a swag of gold braid and shoulder boards of gold. Completing the uniform was a belt of slate blue matching the trousers.

For her wedding held in the Congregational Church of Northridge, the bride chose a peau de sole gown featuring a cutaway embroidered lace coat falling into a long train.

Assisting the Rev. Kenneth O. Easton, pastor, was the bride's paternal grandfather, Dr. William J. Arms, who recently retired from the ministry after 55 years of service.

The couple is at home in San Pedro following a honeymoon trip to the High Sierra."

David Gustner is the primary family researcher for most of the related lines on this website. To say that he is the most talented and organized researcher we have ever seen does not begin to give credit to his extraordinary ability. Few families have the luxury of having such a man working almost full time to track down the past in a most unbelievable manner. Dave is magic! He can find anybody. To attest to that, one only needs to examine the bulk of this work. He has made our ancestors come alive. We feel like we know many of them because Dave has located and shared so much information about them. He has certainly become our "knowledge base" and we are thankful and grateful for his remarkable talent.

From the Wellsboro Gazette.

July 9, 1970 - "Scott Shaw, 17 and his sister, Betsy, 15 luckily escaped injuries on July 1st when a tree under which they were standing with others to avoid the torrents of rain was struck by lightning. Parents of these youths are Mr. and Mrs. Gayule Shaw of Elmira Heights.

The family had been in this area that same evening for a family picnic gathering at the Horton cottage on Pine Creek. They had left early so that Scott and Betsy would be on time for practice with the Mark Twain Drum and Bugle Corps of which they are both members. The mishap occurred just outside the Broadway School at Elmira. Several other members of the group were also struck by the bolt of lightning but luckily no serious injuries were received. They were all taken to the Hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Shaw is the former Miss Barbara Horton of Wellsboro."
