Notes for RICHARD DE SHERBURNE:

We know that Margaret Sherburne's father was Richard Sherburne. Gentlemens Magazine: and Historical Chronicles by Sylvanus Urban, 1824 reports that Richard Sherburne married Alice Plumpton (or de Plumpton) and that Alice's father was William de Plumpton. Ancestral Roots of Certain American Colonists Who Came to America Before 1700 By Frederick Lewis Weis, 2004 confirms this marriage and reports that it took place in 1352. Note that this says that Richard Shireburne died in 1361, instead of the 1373 reported in The History of County Palantine. It appears that 1361 is correct. This is the date shown in several other sources and fits with the report in the above mentioned Ancestral Roots that Alice married for a second time in 1364.

Notes for RICHARD DE BAYLEY (SHERBURNE):

From A History of the Family of Sherborn, we learn that the father Richard Sherburne (who married Agnes Stanley) was actually born Richard Bayley (or de Bayley). He was born in 1381 and is reported to have died May 29, 1441, just 4 days after his son Richard.

Richard Sherburne (who married Agnes Stanley) was actually born Richard Bayley (or de Bayley). From Gentlemen's Magazine: And Historical Chronicle by Sylvanus Urban, 1824, sheds some light on this. The parents of Richard were Richard de Bayley and Margaret de Shireburne. Richard de Bayley died in 1379-80. Son Richard assumed the name Sherburne (apparently a variation of his mother's maiden name, see below). This information is confirmed in the The History of the County Palantine and Duchy of Lancaster by Edward Baines, William Robert Whatton, Brooke Herford, James Croston, 1891. We also learn the Richard de Bayley married Margaret de Sherburne in 1377 and that her father was Richard de Sherburne who died in 1373.

A very nice website called "The Family de Mitton; Ancient History and Legacy" confirms the above and also reports that the son Richard (formerly de Bayley and then Sherburne or Shireburne) was born October 12, 1381.

Notes for WELCOME JONAS PARTELLO:

From History of Shiawassee and Clinton Counties, Michigan, 1880.

"Returning to mention of Welcome J. Partelo, it is of interest to mention that he raised the pioneer crop of wheat in the town and set out the first orchard, and that De Witt [Dwight] C. Partelo, his son, born in 1837, was the first born in Victor. William Swarthout, supposed generally to have been the first, was the second, the date of his birth being August, 1838."

From the biography of Welcome J. Partelo in the History of Gratiot County, Michigan by Willard D. Tucker, 1913.

"Welcome J. Partelo, the first supervisor of Bethany - 1858 - came to that township in 1855. He came from the Township of Victor, Clinton County, in which township he was the first white settler. A history of Clinton County issued in 1880 contains this interesting item: "At that time -1836 - one Welcome J. Partelo effected on the southwest quarter of section 31 the pioneer clearing. Although he did not discover his error until some years afterward, he settled upon land belonging to other parties, but adjoining his own. Unconscious of his mistake he worked and improved that place, set out an orchard, and very materially enhanced its value, when there came to him the knowledge one day that he had been improving another man's land while his own had all that time been suffered to lie neglected. Partelo was of course chagrined and much disgusted with the revelation fell upon him, but as he was fortunately permitted to purchase the property at the price of unimproved land, he escaped from the dilemma with considerable satisfaction, and continued to make his home where had begun. Mr. Partelo was chosen the first supervisor of DeWitt Township, Clinton County, which included at that time - 1837 - the present Township of Victor. Clinton County was at that time attached to Kent County, and Mr. Partelo met with the Kent County supervisors at Grand Rapids. He was re-elected in 1838, and as Clinton County had by that time been transferred to Shiawassee County, Mr. Partelo met with the Shiawassee supervisors at Corunna. In 1839 Victor was organized as a separate township, and Mr. Partelo was chosen school inspector, and the next year, justice of the peace. After removing to Bethany and serving as first supervisor in 1858, he served as township clerk and highway commissioner in 1859. He died in the year 1863. His son, Welcome Phineas Partelo, was a well-known resident for many years, and held the offices of justice of the peace and highway commissioner. He died August 4, 1895, aged 78. Mrs Amelia J. Partelo, his wife, died September 26, 1906."

Subsequent to the 1850 census all references to a Harriet Partello show a birth date from 1852 to 1854. It is possible that the Harriet of 1849 died and another daughter born 1852 - 1854 was also named Harriet. Or, the Harriet of 1849 reported her age 3-5 years younger in her adult years. (Unlikely as she was reported as 6 years old in the 1860 census) Until the facts come to light we are still showing the Harriet of 1849 in this report.

Notes for WELCOME PHINEAS PARTELLO:

From Portrait and Biographical Album, Gratiot County, Michigan, 1884.

"Welcome P. Partello, farmer, section 10 Bethany Township, is a son of Welcome J. and Rhoda (Phinney) Partello, and was born in Cazenovia, N.Y., Oct 22, 1818. Then eight years old his parents came to Washtenaw County, this State, settling in Salem Township, the second family in that township. There the father bought 80 acres of timber and built a good log house, dug a well, and cleared 12 acres, when he discovered that he had located on the wrong piece of land. Accordingly he moved. When the subject of this sketch was 19 years old the family moved to Clinton, Co., Mich., five miles east of DeWitt.

At the last mentioned place, July 31, 1845, he married Amelia J. Hoople, who was born in Canada, Nov 28, 1821. By this marriage seven children have been born, viz.: Livonia, Julia, Welcome, Persis, Elson, Dwight and Olivia.

In Clinton County Mr. P. was most of the time engaged in agricultural pursuits, and had some real estate in the village of DeWitt. In March, 1856, he came to Bethany and took possession of a quarter section of timber land where he now resides, having 60 acres in a profitable state of cultivation and the value of the place enhanced by a number of improvements. When he first arrived on this tract it was all a wild forest. He moved with a yoke of oxen led by a horse. His father had settled on an adjoining place the year previous, and died eight years afterward: was the first supervisor of the township. His mother died two years later. He has been Justice of the Peace three years.

The children are now scattered as follows: Livonia is the widow of Stephen R. Goodwin, and resided in Bethany Township; Julia is the wife of William Denman, a farmer in Huron Co., Ohio; Welcome is engaged in connection with a railroad at San Antonio, Texas; Persis is the wife of Harver Atwell, a farmer in Bethany Township; Julia is the wife of William Denman, a farmer in Huron Co., Ohio; Welcome is engaged in connection with a railroad at San Antonio, Texas; Persis is the wife of Harvey Atwell, a farmer in Bethany township; Elson is living at home; Dwight is also at home, and Olivia is wife of Ira Bentley, a farmer in Huron co., Ohio."

Notes for JOEL SANFORD COUCH:

From The History of the Town of Catherine, Schuyler County, N.Y. compiled by Mrs. Robert Cleaver, 1945.

"Joel Sanford Couch, who has a large knowledge of mechanical appliances, is located in Corning N.Y., where he has a garage and some property, and has been an alderman. He was in business in Odessa for several years before going to Corning. He married Lucile, a daughter of Dempster Partello, who was a teacher in the Odessa school, and a graduate of Alfred University. No issue."

"The Episcopal parsonage was built by Edward DeWitt, and purchased by Joel and Lucille Couch after his death. Joel Couch was a plumber and tinsmith and his wife was a teacher in the primary room of the Odessa school. When they removed to Corning to reside they sold the house to Benjamin Boyce, in 1914 for a residence for their rectors."

"After the bank moved to their new building, there have been several meat markets in the Paine store: Albert Ash, Albert Algers, Asa Beardsley, Drake & Smith, and now for about seven years Charles Carrigan.

There are two good-sized halls over these two stores and in former years dances were held there. Joel S. Couch had a barber shop, watch repairing and bicycle shop over store No. 2, and when his brother-in-law Clarence Partello came and learned the barber trade and took that shop, Couch moved across the hall, where he had billiard tables with his repair shop. When these men moved away, the Odd Fellows, who were occupying the second story over the Carey blacksmith shop, moved to the building, and took over both halls, except for a front room on the end building which was occupied by the Library, since moved to Merchant Ave. The Couch holdings were sold in 1929, and the Odd Fellows bought these two buildings, continuing to occupy the second floor and renting stores. Charles Carrigan is in Store No. 2 and the Re & White in the end store at present."

Notes for DWIGHT JOEL PARTELLO:

From U. S. Military and Naval Academy Registers 1865-1908. Dwight appears in the Register of Cadet Applicants, Ohio 1857, recommended by his father, Wm Philip Partello.

However, from American Civil War Soldiers, we learn that he joined the Confederacy in Virginia but deserted on December 15, 1862.

Dwight was also a prisoner of war. His case is listed in the 1862 Prisoner of War section of Official Records of the Union and Confederate Armies, 1897.

From Later New England Pendletons compiled by Everett Hall Pendleton, 1966. "... At the time of his death, Mr. Partello was the owner of a noted collection of old and valuable violins.

From the Lima Daily Times (Lima, OH) on May 16, 1903.

"OLD VIOLIN LONG SOUGHT - Located by an American in France. Once Property of Czar.

Berlin, May 16 - A Stradivarius which had been played by several Czars beginning with Alexander I, and which disappeared from the museum of the imperial orchestra at St. Petersburg in May, 1902, has been recovered by Dwight J. Partello the United States treasury agent here. Mr. Partello who is himself the possessor of twenty famous violins heard a word dropped by a person interested in violins which enabled him to trace the stolen instrument to a collector living in a town of southern France, who bought it for $2,500 from a Paris dealer. The violin just recovered is specially precious to the present Czar because of his childhood recollections in seeing his father Alexander III often play on it. Czar Nicholas, therefore was much annoyed when walking through the museum one day he saw in the violin case where the Stradivarius commonly rested an ordinary fiddle with the name of a St. Petersburg shop owner inside. The vendor recognized and pointed a member of the imperial household as the buyer of this cheap instrument. The accused denied the statement absolutely and as he was of a rank sufficient to have his word accepted, this line of inquiry was ended."

Chicago, May 15 - "I really believe that I shall go insane of Gov. Yates does not sign the bill giving my husband the $40,000 due for work on the Pontiac reformatory eight years ago." said Mrs. Emma Partello, wife of William Zane Partille last Sunday, as she was preparing to leave for Springfield.

Notes for COL., MAJOR JOSEPH MCDOWELL TRIMBLE PARTELLO:
From the Hawk's Bay Herald (New Zealand), December 9, 1878

"J.M.T. Partello, of Washington, at the Columbia rifle range, recently made 15 consecutive bulls'-eyes at 800 yards; 14 bulls'-eyes and one centre at 900 yards; and 15 consecutive bulls'-eyes at 1000 yards; making a score of 224 out of a possible 225"

From the Fort Davis National Historic Site.

"PARTELLO, JOSEPH MCDOWELL TRIMBLE: Born in Ohio, he enlisted as a private in the general service in August 1872 and mustered out in May 1878 as a sergeant. Appointed a second lieutenant in the 5th Infantry in September 1879, he was promoted to first lieutenant in 1885 and served at Fort Davis as the first lieutenant of Company I of the 5th infantry from June 1888 to August 1890. He was promoted to captain in 1898 and transferred to the 23rd Infantry in February 1903. Two months later, he was promoted to major in the 7th Infantry."

"Scobee wrote of Miss Love's discovery of records about the "first" fort (1854-1861), especially its physical dimensions and the daily life of its soldiers. He took visitors on walking tours of the grounds, eventually gathering stories like that of Mrs. George W. Stuart, whose father had been Lieutenant J.M.T. Partello of the 5th U.S. Infantry, stationed at Fort Davis in 1889. Even though she had been only five years old, Mrs. Stuart recalled hiking with her father to the top of Sleeping Lion Mountain and "shooing away a Panther that had followed us." She had also enjoyed walking into Hospital Canyon and shouting to hear the "double echo" it produced. Her father had reportedly been "the best rifle shot in the world," and Prince Alexis of Russia came to Fort Davis to visit him, on that account in part." Mrs. Stewart's comments to Barry Scobee upon her return after nearly 50 years were especially touching. "When I got to Fort Davis Tuesday, and into the old pitifully tumbled down post, I recalled and recalled, with a pain in my throat for the old, old days and my gallant father."

From Fort Keogh: Cutting edge of a Culture by Josef James Warhank, 1983.

"Rifle Range

When it came to weapons training at Fort Keogh, Lieutenant J. M. T. Partello played a major role both in its development and popularity. The Yellowstone Journal claimed that Partello was the champion long-range shot of the world; he made 224 bull's eyes out of a possible 225. Partello was also known to be a fine musician and did a great deal of entertaining at the Post, but his major joy was always marksmanship. In 1880 the Lieutenant laid our improvements at the Keogh rifle range with an eye for improving its efficiency and thus making better shots of the soldiers at Fort Keogh by allowing for more practice.

The Chief Ordnance officer praised Lieutenant Partello in May 1882 for the fine job he did on the installation of three Laidley revolving targets. The Fort's rifle range was located north of the garrison down along the river, and after Partello's improvements, could accommodate eleven companies firing in less than four hours. Results were soon seen in better scores of the troops, as Partello's improvements and his well spent hours of personal attention to training paid off. When word reached higher headquarters, the Department Commander communicated to Colonel Whistler at Fort Keogh his pleasure over the job that Lieutenant Partello was doing.

Competition was one of Partello's loves and he took the opportunities to enter all Army matches. In September 1882, he was at Fort Snelling, Minnesota, where he won the department contest before he went on to the division competition at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

The love that Partello had for marksmanship was even reflected in the friends that he had. Another man who loved marksmanship was W. Milton Farrow. He came to visit Partello in June 1894, and besides showing off the new Bullard repeating rifle that was safer and much more accurate, he managed to make twenty-four out of twenty-five shots at 500 yards.

Army marksmen at Keogh did not use repeating firearms -until Lieutenant Partello had left the Post but continued with the breech loading Springfields. Montana had long winters and to prevent the soldiers from getting rusty with the Springfield rifle, a gallery was set up. The shells were loaded by the company armorer with ten grains of powder, not the normal sixty or seventy. A round ball replaced the 405-grain bullet. Target anti soldier were placed fifty feet apart and the size of the target determined the outdoor range. Accidents were rare, as the shells so loaded would most likely cause only skin wounds. When indoor space was cut by more troops in garrison in 1884 and 1885, the local press commented that the "doe-boys" were pleased not to have gallery practice."

From the Billings Gazette (Billings, Montana). June 27, 1926.

"Col. J.M.T. Partello, who was here as an aide to General Godfrey, is in a class by himself. The statement is fact, the colonel declares, explaining that, because of his marksmanship, he was classed by the war department many years ago as a distinguished marksman and barred from further competition and medals. Up to that time he had won all the kinds that were offered -- 12 varieties -- including several which were the first ever issued. The Indians called him Hawkeye. He is 74 years old and went through many years of Indian campaigning. He was field adjutant for General Miles at the time of he capture of Chief Gall, the great Sioux leader."

From the Billings Gazette (Billings, Montana). March 16, 1929.

"Frontier Lieutenant Writes of Memories.

Col J.M.T. Partello, who was lieutenant of scouts with Custer's command and afterwards stationed for a number of years at Fort Keogh, is now with the ninth corps area headquarters at Presidio, San Francisco, according to a letter just received from him by W.P. Rixon of this city.

Mr. Rixon had sent Colonel Partello several clippings from the "45 Years Ago" items in the Billings Gazette which mentioned a visit of the daughters of J.D. Matheson with Edith Partello, the officers daughter, at Fort Keogh and of a dance given in their honor.

In his letter, Colonel Partello spoke of several incidents of early days and his acquaintanceship with members of the Matheson family and other Billings people. His daughter died about two years ago while he was in the Philippines, he stated. A son is also a colonel in the army.

Lieutenant Partello was widely famed in frontier days as the crack rifle shot of the entire army. Here was here in 1927, taking a prominent part in the fiftieth anniversary of the observance of the Custer disaster."

From the New York Times, August 15, 1934.

"COL J.M. PARTELLO, CRACK SHOT, DEAD. Score of 224 out of 225 With Rifle at 800, 900 and 1,000 Yards Has Stood 56 Years. WAS IN CUSTER CAMPAIGN. Retired Veteran, 83, Said Sitting Bull was Better Medicine Man than Warrior.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14 - Colonel Joseph M.T. Partello, United States Army, retired, crack rifleman who set a marksmanship record that has stood since 1878, died today at his home there. He was 83 years old. A veteran of the Custer campaign, Colonel Partello was famous for his remark that Sitting Bull was a better medicine man than a warrior. Surviving him are two sons, Colonel J.K. Partello of Fort Leads, Wash., and Commander M.C. Partello, U.S.N., stationed at Cavite, and a daughter, Mrs. George W. Stuart of Oklahoma City.

Colonel Partello returned to San Francisco several years ago to make his home, bringing many trunks full of service mementos, a great portion of which were medals for marksmanship.

The record he set was a score of 225 out of 225 at 800, 900 and 1,000 yards."

From New York Passenger Lists, 1820-1957. This shows J. M. T. Partello, his wife and four of his children on the passenger ship, Friesland, from Antwerp, Belgium to New York, arrival date July 28, 1891. J. M. T.'s wife Annie is mistakenly identified as Julie.

Notes for ANNIE VIRGINIA NOONAN:
From the Newark Advocate (Newark, OH), October 10, 1904

"Kansas City, Oct 10. -- The Omaha and St. Joseph express on the Missouri Pacific railway ran into an open switch as it was leaving the yards and collided with a freight train. Fourteen persons were injured, two seriously. Mrs. J.M. Partello, wife of Major Partello, commanding officer at Fort Reno, Okla., sustained an injury to her back, her wrist was broken and she was badly cut about the face, while her daughter Florence was bruised and suffered from a nervous shock. Mrs. Partello's condition is said to be critical. The injuries of the others were slight, and they continued on their journey. Among them was Major Partello, who escaped with a sprained leg."

The train accident described above resulted in a lawsuit in which Annie was awarded $5,500. Her health, reportedly, was seriously compromised for the rest of her life.

Notes for JEREMIAH F. HITCHCOCK:

From The Telegram, Syracuse, NY.

July 27, 1904 - STRICKEN BY LOCKJAW BOY DIES IN AGONY. Little Jeremiah Hitchcock's Struggles Were Such as to Unnerve the Physicians at His Bedside. Result Of A Trivial Farm Accident.

Lockjaw resulting from a wound between two toes on the right foot that was caused by a cow at his father's farm caused the death at the Hospital of the Good Shepard at 9 o'clock last of Jeremiah Hitchcock, the 7 year old son of Hiram and Anna Hitchcock of Erieville. Seriously ill only a little more than forty-eight hours, the child died in great agony.

When he was in the throes of death the muscular contractions through his body was such as to unnerve the doctors who attended him, but he fought valiantly for life, and the physicians did everything in their power to save him. Both jaws set firmly, not a particle of food having passed through his mouth since Sunday noon, the little fellow passed away in a struggle.

Just four months and one day had passed since the boy's seventh birthday. He attended the public school at Erieville and through vacation had been in the habit of passing most of the time on the farm with his father, riding back and forth to the railroad station and helping him do the chores about the farmhouse.

Last Thursday afternoon he went into the fields to drive the cows home for milking and was chasing a big brindle toward the driveway when the animal stepped upon him, inflicting a large lacerated wound between the large and second toes of the right foot. The wound bled freely, but the family did not think it serious enough to call a physician.

The little fellow had no medical attendance until Saturday, when his father took him to the office of Dr. White in the village. The doctor cauterized the wound and supposed he would be all right in a day or two. Monday morning symptoms of tetanus appeared and developed so rapidly that by the time the little lad again reached Dr. White's office he was suffering from a severe case of lockjaw. The doctor saw this at a glance and ordered his hurried removal to the Hospital of the Good Shepard.

Tetanus antitoxin, procured from the state department of health, was injected into him, but the disease had taken such a firm hold upon the frail system that the physicians were unable to uproot it and the boy gradually grew worse. He suffered great agony and death was looked upon by the attendants in one way as a blessing.

The boy was born at Gerogetown N.Y. and was taken to Erieville by his parents when an infant. Burial will be made Friday afternoon at Delphi Falls.

She was born May 1881 in OH^{1267,1268}.

Notes for FRANK C. VALDICK:

It was related that Frank Valdick had been born a Partello in the family of Leonard and Betsey Partello. Proving this was difficult as Frank was born in 1861, 1 year after the last census in which this family was intact. Finally, the research of David Gustner unearthed a legal case which proved that Frank Valdick was in fact born as Frank Partello. To make this even more complex is the fact that Betsey (Emeline Betsey) remarried John C. Deal and Frank is shown in that household as a 10 year old in the 1870 MI, Ionia, Lyons census as Frank C. Deal. By the time of his marriage in 1895 he had changed his name to Valdick. The legal case reports are listed below.

From Michigan Reports; Cases Decided in the Supreme Court of Michigan from January 22, to April 16, 1895.

"McGrath, C.J. This case is before us for the second time 92 Mich. 136.

Defendant went into possession under Foot, as guardian of Lois, Rhoda Jane, Harriet, Ella, Frank, and della Partello, minor heirs of Leonard Partello, and therefore could not question title in those heirs.

Plaintiff claims title from Emeline Betsey Deal, formerly Emeline Betsey Partello, the widow of Leonard Partello and mother of the above-named minors. Conveyances ere introduced from Frank Partello, Ella Henderson, Hattie Lutes, and Adelpa Watson to Emeline Betsey Deal. Lois Partello and Rhoda Jane Partello died without issue, before the conveyance to plaintiff. The deed from Adelpa Watson was executed March 15, 1883, and does not attempt to describe her. The deeds from Ella Henderson and Hattie Lutes describe the grantors as heirs of Leonard Partello. Proof of the identity of each of these three grantors as heirs of Leonard Partello should have been made. The recitals in the last-named deeds were insufficient proof of the fact.

Defendant insisted upon the trial that he went into possession under a contract of purchase, and not under a lease; but the guardian had no authority to make such a contract, if made.

Other questions are raised, which are disposed of by the former opinion.

The judgment is reversed, and a new trial ordered.

The other Justices concurred."

From the Northwestern Reporter Volume 67, May 23 - August 1, 1896.

"GRANT, J. This case has twice before been in this court. 93 Mich. 136, 52 N.W. 459; 62 N. W. 174. It was reversed the second time on account of a defect in the proof of the identity of some of the grantors as heirs of Leonard Partell. It is now insisted, as before, that no such identification as the law requires is made by the proof. We think otherwise. The heirs of Mr. Partello were clearly identified by the parol proof as grantors in the deeds. It is unimportant to set out the testimony.

The only other point necessary to mention is the claim of the defendant that the plaintiff has not made out a title to a five-sixths interest in the land, but only to three-fifths, or almost three-fourths. In instructing the jury the court stated as a fact that the plaintiff had established a title to the land described in his declaration, viz, a five-sixths interest therein. This statement of fact was not challenged by counsel for the defendant. This court has repeatedly held that, where the trial judge, in his instructions, make a statement of fact, it is the duty of the party against whose interest it is made to call the attention of the court to it; otherwise, it cannot be raised in the appellate court. We see no reason why that rule should not apply in this case.

This trial, as well as the others, seems to have been based upon the theory that the plaintiff was the owner of a five-sixths interest. This question was not raised upon the trial, nor even referred to, unless it be in the following statement: One Mrs. Dibble, who had married one of the sons of William J. Partello, had testified in regard to heirs. The defendant was recalled by his counsel, and asked whether, after he got into possession. Mrs Dibble did not claim to him that she had some interest in the land. This was objected to as immaterial, when defendant's counsel said: "The testimony shows that Mrs. Dibble, before she deeded to Wolf, had acquired a one-sixth interest in the land by reason of the death of one of her children. She also had a dower interest in it. I don't know when that statute went into effect, but there was a time when that heir's estate would go back to the mother. Lois Partello was one of the heirs who died at 16. Her father was dead, and there was a mother and brothers and sisters. The question is, where would her share go to?" The court said: "I think it is somewhat remote. I will not rule it out now. I don't see how it could change the character of his possession any." No reference was afterwards made to it during the trial. We think, therefore, that the defendant is not now in a position to raise the question. Judgment affirmed. The other justices concurred."

In the Otsego County birth record for daughter Mable Effie Valdick, her place of birth in 1909 is listed as Village of Gaylord. Frank and Essie are also shown at the same location and Frank's occupation is listed as laborer.

In the 1910 Otsego County census, the family is shown living in Dover Township and Frank is shown as a farmer. Between the birth of Izetta in 1915 and the birth of Walter in 1917 the family moved to Quick, a small town located about 1 mile south and seven miles east of Gaylord. Izetta remembers that her mother operated the store and Post Office and her father worked for the railroad, although the 1920 census lists Frank's occupation as Retail Merchant, groceries.

The Post Office in Quick was closed in 1920 and it is suspected that the logging operations in the area terminated business shortly thereafter. At the intersection of Cargas and Beckett Roads where Quick once stood, there is nothing left to remind anyone that a small town once thrived there.

The 1930 MI, Benzie, Benzonia Twp. census lists Frank Valdick, 70, widowed, inmate, of the Benzie County Farm.

He is next shown, 5-7 days later with his parents in the Otsego, Chester census. It is possible that he was visiting with Stachey and returned home in time to be counted again in the Otsego census.

He was born 16 Dec 1865 in Tuttingen, Baden-Wurtemberg, Germany¹⁵⁵⁹, and died 06 Sep 1947 in Germany¹⁵⁶⁰.

Notes for BARONESS CARITA HELENA PARTELLO:
From The Violinist of October 1912

"BARONESS FORMS ORCHESTRA. - Former Miss Partullo, of New York, Friend of American Girls, Improves Music School.

Baroness Carita von Horst, who was Miss Partullo, of New York, and whose interest in American girls aspiring to become prima donnas led her to open a music school at Coburg, has now organized a large orchestra for her Royal Opera Society in that city. There are forty-four pieces in it.

The wealthy Baroness, whose project to take students from Berlin, where cost of living was too high, and give them an opportunity at Coburg, finds her greatest pleasure in managing the school that has become famous in a short while. She has interested and enjoyed the patronage and support of Grand Duchess Marie of Russia, Grand Duke Cyril, the Crown Prince of Roumania, and Prince Alfons of Orleans-Bourbon.

She is a daughter of D.J. Partulle, former Consul-General at Coburg, and married Baron von Horst, known as the "hop king of the Pacific Coast." The baroness is a favorite in royal circles."

An article in the March 22, 1892 Brooklyn Daily Eagle (Brooklyn, NY.) reports that they were married March 22, 1892. Two differences here from what we learned in Descendants of Johann Gottlob Horst. This says she was Carita Lyford, rather than Carita Helena and it also seems to indicate they were married in Washington, D.C. rather than Coburg, Germany.

From the Mansfield News, Mansfield, OH.

May 10, 1923 - AMERICAN PIANIST SCORES IN BERLIN - Berlin music lovers have received with acclaim Baroness Carita Von Horst, daughter of the late Dwight J. Partello of Washington, who has made a great hit with her wonderful technique. She is the second American woman pianist to win favor in Germany.

The date of Carita's death has not been determined. Dwight J. Partello: his life and violin collection, state she died in 1935. An article in the Albuquerque Journal reports she was still alive in 1947.

Notes for EDWARD FRANK PARTELLO:

Michigan Marriages supports that Frank or Frances Partello was in fact Edward F. Partello since his father is shown as Edward F. and his mother as Katherine Parcell (probably Purcell). However, his age is off by four or five years. It appears that for some reason he may have exaggerated his age. He reported 22 but would, in fact, only have been about 18. Also, his WWI card seems to have shown "Hellen Partello wife." This record, however, reports that he married Lillie B. Flynn. He married Lillie on July 25, 1902 in Detroit. She was born about 1884 in Ohio. We have to assume that Hellen? was a second wife.

Notes for AMELIA GOODWIN:

From the Sandusky Star Journal, Sandusky, OH, March 31, 1911.

"WIFE INSISTS SHE WAS MISTREATED. Mr. Baatz Denies Husband's Charge of Unfaithfulness And Charges Plot.

Emphatically denying all the charges of unfaithful conduct made by her husband Henry Baatz of Florence township. Amelia Baatz pictured her life with him as that of a white slave in her testimony in the divorce suit of her husband concluded Friday morning in the common pleas court.

My husband compelled me to take entire care of twenty head of cattle and seventy head of sheep and I had to do the work in my bare feet because he would not buy me shoes she declared. My old slippers wore out and he refused to purchase any more footwear.

I bought chickens and geese with my own money and my husband sold them and pocketed the proceeds, she said. I had but one hat in four years and he was furious because he had to pay for that.

Mrs Baatz created a sensation by declaring that her husband asked her to be friendly with ??? Freeze their hired man.

He owed Freeze a lot of money for work and wanted to scare him into leaving the house she declared.

The entire morning was consumed with the testimony of Mrs. Baatz. Judge Reed reserved his decision in the case."

From The Evening Telegram, Elyria, OH, January 3, 1912.

"LEGAL NOTICE IN DIVORCE.

Amelia Baatz, defendant, whose residence is unknown, will take notice that on the 27th day of December, A.D. 1911, Henry Baatz, plaintiff, filed his petition in the Cort of Common Pleas of Lorain County, Ohio, being cause number 11,347, praying a divorce from said defendant, on the ground of gross neglect of duty, and asking for divorce and custody of minor child and equitable relief.

Said cause will be for hearing on and after the 8th day of February, A.D. 1912. HENRY BAATZ. L.B. Fauver, R.H. Rice, Attys."

Notes for HENRY BAATZ:

From the Sandusky Register, Sandusky, OH, March 17, 1911.

"One of the briefest pleading that has come under the eyes of Clerk Ortnei and his deputies was filed yesterday by Attorneys H.R. Deeley and >>> Stewatt, of Norwalk. It is Henry Baatz reply to the answer of his wife, Amelia Baatz, to his petition for divorce.

Baatz employed thirteen words in this reply as follows. "Plaintiff for reply to defendant's ???-petition denies each and every allegation therein." Mr. and Mrs Baatz live near the eastern county line."

Notes for JAMES LYNWOOD PARTELLO:

From Anne Partello Miles, granddaughter of James Lynwood Partello.

"Grandpa mostly lived in the DC area most of his life, he was a contractor who was quite successful. He built a large part of the university of Maryland and he and his second wife, Elizabeth, went all over the US in their plane. Grandpa learned to pilot and loved it. He also loved model trains and owned a hobby shop to fuel his passion for a long time, called the Train Shed. It was in Silver Springs MD.

Grandpa and Grandma were married and divorced twice actually. (He told me) Grandpa also married a girl in between his first and second marriages to my grandmother. it was a short marriage, during the war when he was enlisted and it was annulled quickly. I forget her name but I know Aunt Jackie will know it. I think it was Amelia or something like that. Grandpa was quite the ladies man. I'll send you photos, he looked like a movie star. He married his secretary, Elizabeth after the second divorce from my grandmother and she was the real love of his life. She left her husband for him and they were married oh...40 or 50 years. He was blindly devoted to her."

Notes for EARL LAWRENCE MCCASLIN:

The death report of Earl McCaslin in the Lima News reports that he was born March 13, 1892 although his WWI registration clearly says March 15. This article says December 16, 1914.
