Notes for WELCOME JONAS PARTELLO:

From History of Shiawassee and Clinton Counties, Michigan, 1880.

"Returning to mention of Welcome J. Partelo, it is of interest to mention that he raised the pioneer crop of wheat in the town and set out the first orchard, and that De Witt [Dwight] C. Partelo, his son, born in 1837, was the first born in Victor. William Swarthout, supposed generally to have been the first, was the second, the date of his birth being August, 1838."

From the biography of Welcome J. Partelo in the History of Gratiot County, Michigan by Willard D. Tucker, 1913.

"Welcome J. Partelo, the first supervisor of Bethany - 1858 - came to that township in 1855. He came from the Township of Victor, Clinton County, in which township he was the first white settler. A history of Clinton County issued in 1880 contains this interesting item: "At that time -1836 - one Welcome J. Partelo effected on the southwest quarter of section 31 the pioneer clearing. Although he did not discover his error until some years afterward, he settled upon land belonging to other parties, but adjoining his own. Unconscious of his mistake he worked and improved that place, set out an orchard, and very materially enhanced its value, when there came to him the knowledge one day that he had been improving another man's land while his own had all that time been suffered to lie neglected. Partelo was of course chagrined and much disgusted with the revelation fell upon him, but as he was fortunately permitted to purchase the property at the price of unimproved land, he escaped from the dilemma with considerable satisfaction, and continued to make his home where had begun. Mr. Partelo was chosen the first supervisor of DeWitt Township, Clinton County, which included at that time - 1837 - the present Township of Victor. Clinton County was at that time attached to Kent County, and Mr. Partelo met with the Kent County supervisors at Grand Rapids. He was re-elected in 1838, and as Clinton County had by that time been transferred to Shiawassee County, Mr. Partelo met with the Shiawassee supervisors at Corunna. In 1839 Victor was organized as a separate township, and Mr. Partelo was chosen school inspector, and the next year, justice of the peace. After removing to Bethany and serving as first supervisor in 1858, he served as township clerk and highway commissioner in 1859. He died in the year 1863. His son, Welcome Phineas Partelo, was a well-known resident for many years, and held the offices of justice of the peace and highway commissioner. He died August 4, 1895, aged 78. Mrs Amelia J. Partelo, his wife, died September 26, 1906."

HOOPLE^{162,163,164,165}. She was born 28 Nov 1821 in Canada^{166,167,168}, and died 26 Sep 1906¹⁶⁹.

Notes for WELCOME PHINEAS PARTELLO:

From Portrait and Biographical Album, Gratiot County, Michigan, 1884.

"Welcome P. Partello, farmer, section 10 Bethany Township, is a son of Welcome J. and Rhoda (Phinney) Partello, and was born in Cazenovia, N.Y., Oct 22, 1818. Then eight years old his parents came to Washtenaw County, this State, settling in Salem Township, the second family in that township. There the father bought 80 acres of timber and built a good log house, dug a well, and cleared 12 acres, when he discovered that he had located on the wrong piece of land. Accordingly he moved. When the subject of this sketch was 19 years old the family moved to Clinton, Co., Mich., five miles east of DeWitt.

At the last mentioned place, July 31, 1845, he married Amelia J. Hoople, who was born in Canada, Nov 28, 1821. By this marriage seven children have been born, viz.: Livonia, Julia, Welcome, Persis, Elson, Dwight and Olivia.

In Clinton County Mr. P. was most of the time engaged in agricultural pursuits, and had some real estate in the village of DeWitt. In March, 1856, he came to Bethany and took possession of a quarter section of timber land where he now resides, having 60 acres in a profitable state of cultivation and the value of the place enhanced by a number of improvements. When he first arrived on this tract it was all a wild forest. He moved with a yoke of oxen led by a horse. His father had settled on an adjoining place the year previous, and died eight years afterward: was the first supervisor of the township. His mother died two years later. He has been Justice of the Peace three years.

The children are now scattered as follows: Livonia is the widow of Stephen R. Goodwin, and resided in Bethany Township; Julia is the wife of William Denman, a farmer in Huron Co., Ohio; Welcome is engaged in connection with a railroad at San Antonio, Texas; Persis is the wife of Harver Atwell, a farmer in Bethany Township; Julia is the wife of William Denman, a farmer in Huron Co., Ohio; Welcome is engaged in connection with a railroad at San Antonio, Texas; Persis is the wife of Harvey Atwell, a farmer in Bethany township; Elson is living at home; Dwight is also at home, and Olivia is wife of Ira Bentley, a farmer in Huron co., Ohio."

Children of WELCOME PARTELLO and AMELIA HOOPLE are:

17. i. MARY LIVONIA⁵ PARTELLO, b. 18 May 1846, MI; d. 06 Nov 1931, Owosso, MI.

He was in business in Odessa for several years before going to Corning. He married Lucile, a daughter of Dempster Partello, who was a teacher in the Odessa school, and a graduate of Alfred University. No issue."

"The Episcopal parsonage was built by Edward DeWitt, and purchased by Joel and Lucille Couch after his death. Joel Couch was a plumber and tinsmith and his wife was a teacher in the primary room of the Odessa school. When they removed to Corning to reside they sold the house to Benjamin Boyce, in 1914 for a residence for their rector."

"After the bank moved to their new building, there have been several meat markets in the Paine store: Albert Ash, Albert Algers, Asa Beardsley, Drake & Smith, and now for about seven years Charles Carrigan.

There are two good-sized halls over these two stores and in former years dances were held there. Joel S. Couch had a barber shop, watch repairing and bicycle shop over store No. 2, and when his brother-in-law Clarence Partello came and learned the barber trade and took that shop, Couch moved across the hall, where he had billiard tables with his repair shop. When these men moved away, the Odd Fellows, who were occupying the second story over the Carey blacksmith shop, moved to the building, and took over both halls, except for a front room on the end building which was occupied by the Library, since moved to Merchant Ave. The Couch holdings were sold in 1929, and the Odd Fellows bought these two buildings, continuing to occupy the second floor and renting stores. Charles Carrigan is in Store No. 2 and the Re & White in the end store at present."

Notes for DWIGHT JOEL PARTELLO:

From U. S. Military and Naval Academy Registers 1865-1908. Dwight appears in the Register of Cadet Applicants, Ohio 1857, recommended by his father, Wm Philip Partello.

However, from American Civil War Soldiers, we learn that he joined the Confederacy in Virginia but deserted on December 15, 1862.

Dwight was also a prisoner of war. His case is listed in the 1862 Prisoner of War section of Official Records of the Union and Confederate Armies, 1897.

From Later New England Pendletons compiled by Everett Hall Pendleton, 1966. "... At the time of his death, Mr. Partello was the owner of a noted collection of old and valuable violins.

From the Lima Daily Times (Lima, OH) on May 16, 1903.

"OLD VIOLIN LONG SOUGHT - Located by an American in France. Once Property of Czar.

Berlin, May 16 - A Stradivarius which had been played by several Czars beginning with Alexander I, and which disappeared from the museum of the imperial orchestra at St. Petersburg in May, 1902, has been recovered by Dwight J. Partello the United States treasury agent her. Mr. Partello who is himself the possessor of twenty famous violins heard a word dropped by a person interested in violins which enabled him to trace the stolen instrument to a collector living in a town of southern France, who bought it for $2,500 from a Paris dealer. The violin just recovered is specially precious to the present Czar because of his childhood recollections in seeing his father Alexander III often play on it. Czar Nicholas, therefore was much annoyed when walking through the museum one day he saw in the violin case where the Stradivarius commonly rested an ordinary fiddle with the name of a St. Petersburg shop owner inside. The vendor recognized and pointed a member of the imperial household as the buyer of this cheap instrument. The accused denied the statement absolutely and as he was of a rank sufficient to have his word accepted, this line of inquiry was ended."

Notes for BARONESS CARITA HELENA PARTELLO:

From The Violinist of October 1912

"BARONESS FORMS ORCHESTRA. - Former Miss Partullo, of New York, Friend of American Girls, Improves Music School.

Baroness Carita von Horst, who was Miss Partullo, of New York, and whose interest in American girls aspiring to become prima donnas led her to open a music school at Coburg, has now organized a large orchestra for her Royal Opera Society in that city. There are forty-four pieces in it.

The wealthy Baroness, whose project to take students from Berlin, where cost of living was too high, and give them an opportunity at Co9burg, finds her greatest pleasure in managing the school that has become famous in a short while. She has interested and enjoyed the patronage and support of Grand Duchess Marie of Russia, Grand Duke Cyril, the Crown Prince of Roumania, and Prince Alfons of Orleans-Bourbon.

She is a daughter of D.J. Partulle, former Consul-General at Coburg, and married Baron von Horst, known as the "hop king of the Pacific Coast." The baroness is a favorite in royal circles."

An article in the March 22, 1892 Brooklyn Daily Eagle (Brooklyn, NY.) reports that they were married March 22, 1892. Two differences here from what we learned in Descendants of Johann Gottlob Horst. This says she was Carita Lyford, rather than Carita Helena and it also seems to indicate they were married in Washington, D.C. rather than Coburg, Germany.

Notes for FRANK C. VALDICK:

It was related that Frank Valdick had been born a Partello in the family of Leonard and Betsey Partello. Proving this was difficult as Frank was born in 1861, 1 year after the last census in which this family was intact. Finally, the research of David Gustner unearthed a legal case which proved that Frank Valdick was in fact born as Frank Partello. To make this even more complex is the fact that Betsey (Emeline Betsey) remarried John C. Deal and Frank is shown in that household as a 10 year old in the 1870 MI, Ionia, Lyons census as Frank C. Deal. By the time of his marriage in 1895 he had changed his name to Valdick. The legal case reports are listed below.

From Michigan Reports; Cases Decided in the Supreme Court of Michigan from January 22, to April 16, 1895.

"McGrath, C.J. This case is before us for the second time 92 Mich. 136.

Defendant went into possession under Foot, as guardian of Lois, Rhoda Jane, Harriet, Ella, Frank, and della Partello, minor heirs of Leonard Partello, and therefore could not question title in those heirs.

Plaintiff claims title from Emiline Betsey Deal, formerly Emeline Betsey Partello, the widow of Leonard Partello and mother of the above-named minors. Conveyances ere introduced from Frank Partello, Ella Henderson, Hattie Lutes, and Adelpha Watson to Emeline Betsey Deal. Lois Partello and Rhoda Jane Partello died without issue, before the conveyance to plaintiff. The deed from Adelpha Watson was executed March 15, 1883, and does not attempt to describne her. The deeds from Ella Henderson and Hattie Lutes describe the grantors as heirs of Leonard Partello. Proof of the identity of each of these three grantors as heirs of Leonard Partello should have been made. The recitals in the last0-named deeds were insufficient proof of the fact.

Defendant insisted upon the trial that he went into possession under a contract of purchase, and not under a lease; but the guardian had no authority to make such a contract, if made.

Other questions are raised, which are disposed of by the former opinion.

The judgment is reversed, and a new trial ordered.

The other Justices concurred."

From the Northwestern Reporter Volume 67, May 23 - August 1, 1896.

"GRANT, J. This case has twice before been in this court. 93 Mich. 136, 52 N.W. 459; 62 N. W. 174. It was reversed the second time on account of a defect in the proof of the identity of some of the grantors as heirs of Leonard Partell. It is now insisted, as before, that no such identification as the law requires is made by the proof. We think otherwise. The heirs of Mr. Partello were clearly identified by the parol proof as grantors in the deeds. It is unimportant to set out the testimony.

The only other point necessary to mention is the claim of the defendant that the plaintiff has not made out a title to a five-sixths interest in the land, but only to three-fifths, or almost three-fourths. In instructing the jury the court stated as a fact that the plaintiff had established a title to the land described in his declaration, viz, a five-sixths interest therein. This statement of fact was not challenged by counsel for the defendant. This court has repeatedly held that, where the trial judge, in his instructions, make a statement of fact, it is the duty of the party against whose interest it is made to call the attention of the court to it; otherwise, it cannot be raised in the appellate court. We see no reason why that rule would not apply in this case.

This trial, as well as the others, seems to have been based upon the theory that the plaintiff was the owner of a five-sixths interest. This question was not raised upon the trial, nor even referred to, unless it be in the following statement: One Mrs. Dibble, who had married one of the sons of William J. Partello, had testified in regard to heirs. The defendant was recalled by his counsel, and asked whether, after he got into possession. Mrs Dibble did not claim to him that she had some interest in the land. This was objected to as immaterial, when defendant's counsel said: "The testimony shows that Mrs. Dibble, before she deeded to Wolf, had acquired a one-sixth interest in the land by reason of the death of one of her children. She also had a dower interest in it. I don't know when that statute went into effect, but there was a time when that heir's estate would go back to the mother. Lois Partello was one of the heirs who died at 16. Her father was dead, and there was a mother and brothers and sisters. The question is, where would her share go to?" The court said: "I think it is somewhat remote. I will not rule it out now. I don't see how it could change the character of his possession any." No reference was afterwards made to it during the trial. We think, therefore, that the defendant is not now in a position to raise the question. Judgment affirmed. The other justices concurred."

In the Otsego County birth record for daughter Mable Effie Valdick, her place of birth in 1909 is listed as Village of Gaylord. Frank and Essie are also shown at the same location and Frank's occupation is listed as laborer.

In the 1910 Otsego County census, the family is shown living in Dover Township and Frank is shown as a farmer. Between the birth of Izetta in 1915 and the birth of Walter in 1917 the family moved to Quick, a small town located about 1 mile south and seven miles east of Gaylord. Izetta remembers that her mother operated the store and Post Office and her father worked for the railroad, although the 1920 census lists Frank's occupation as Retail Merchant, groceries.

The Post Office in Quick was closed in 1920 and it is suspected that the logging operations in the area terminated business shortly thereafter. At the intersection of Cargas and Beckett Roads where Quick once stood, there is nothing left to remind anyone that a small town once thrived there.

The 1930 MI, Benzie, Benzonia Twp. census lists Frank Valdick, 70, widowed, inmate, of the Benzie County Farm.

He is next shown, 5-7 days later with his parents in the Otsego, Chester census. It is possible that he was visiting with Stachey and returned home in time to be counted again in the Otsego census.

Notes for AMELIA GOODWIN:

From the Sandusky Star Journal, Sandusky, OH, March 31, 1911.

"WIFE INSISTS SHE WAS MISTREATED. Mr. Baatz Denies Husband's Charge of Unfaithfulness And Charges Plot.

Emphatically denying all the charges of unfaithful conduct made by her husband Henry Baatz of Florence township. Amelia Baatz pictured her life with him as that of a white slave in her testimony in the divorce suit of her husband concluded Friday morning in the common pleas court.

My husband compelled me to take entire care of twenty head of cattle and seventy head of sheep and I had to do the work in my bare feet because he would not buy me shoes she declared. My old slippers wore out and he refused to purchase any more footwear.

I bought chickens and geese with my own money and my husband sold them and pocketed the proceeds, she said. I had but one hat in four years and he was furious because he had to pay for that.

Mrs Baatz created a sensation by declaring that her husband asked her to be friendly with ??? Freeze their hired man.

He owed Freeze a lot of money for work and wanted to scare him into leaving the house she declared.

The entire morning was consumed with the testimony of Mrs. Baatz. Judge Reed reserved his decision in the case."

From The Evening Telegram, Elyria, OH, January 3, 1912.

"LEGAL NOTICE IN DIVORCE.

Amelia Baatz, defendant, whose residence is unknown, will take notice that on the 27th day of December, A.D. 1911, Henry Baatz, plaintiff, filed his petition in the Cort of Common Pleas of Lorain County, Ohio, being cause number 11,347, praying a divorce from said defendant, on the ground of gross neglect of duty, and asking for divorce and custody of minor child and equitable relief.

Said cause will be for hearing on and after the 8th day of February, A.D. 1912. HENRY BAATZ. L.B. Fauver, R.H. Rice, Attys."

Notes for HENRY BAATZ:

From the Sandusky Register, Sandusky, OH, March 17, 1911.

"One of the briefest pleading that has come under the eyes of Clerk Ortnei and his deputies was filed yesterday by Attorneys H.R. Deeley and >>> Stewatt, of Norwalk. It is Henry Baatz reply to the answer of his wife, Amelia Baatz, to his petition for divorce.

Baatz employed thirteen words in this reply as follows. "Plaintiff for reply to defendant's ???-petition denies each and every allegation therein." Mr. and Mrs Baatz live near the eastern county line."
